READY FOR A STROLL—Gemini 9 co-pilot Eugene A. Cernan peers through open helmet just before today's successful launch.

Astronauts Easily Soar To Target, But It's Tumbling

COMBINED AP & UPI

CAPE KENNEDY — Gemini 9 astronauts Thomas Stafford and Eugene Cernan blasted triumphantly into orbit today on their third try and streaked across space to a point 10 feet from a target satellite that was wallowing dangerously "like an angry alligator."

"We're on our way!" they radioed jubilantly as they blasted off on a tail of smoke and flame into a brilliant blue sky at 6:39:33 a.m. PDT. But problems kept plaguing them.

A computer aboard conked out, then came back to life. And the protective shroud that was to have been jettisoned from the 12-foot, 17,700-pound target satellite hung open in two sections from the target's docking cone. The satellite was tumbling as well.

Stafford and Cernan nervously proposed ramming the shroud loose.

Gemini Control ordered a tracking station to try to do it by remote control.

Stafford described it as "weird-looking."

"It's moving all around . . . we're station keeping (rendezvousing) out here from 10 to 30 feet" from the target, he radioed.

"Ah, that's fantastic," said rookie Cernan of his first view of space.

The space twins, on this first anniversary of the spacewalking Gemini 4 flight, streaked to the 12-foot augmented target docking adapter (ATDA)—the target satellite—orbiting 185 midles in the heavens.

"I've got a weird-looking machine," Stafford reported as he closed on it.

"The clamshells (the protective shroud of the ATDA) are on but open . . . looks like an angry alligator's jaw that's open."

UNABLE TO TELL

Space officials had been unable to tell earlier whether the fiber glass shroud had jettisoned from the target after it was blasted into space Wednesday.

If it was on, docking with the target could not be accomplished as planned.

Stafford, with a series of "burns" of his steering rockets, coolly maneuvered to within 10 to 30 feet of the tumbling target, nicknamed the "Glob."

Ground control at Hawaii was ordered to try to shake loose the hanging shroud by remote control.

"Roger, but let me know," said Stafford. "I don't want to be too close when it breaks loose."

COMPUTER PROBLEMS

The flight was going beautifully despite computer problems aboard Gemini 9. Tomorrow could come Cernan's spacewalk, the most ambitious yet tried by man.

The smoke around the launch pad barely cleared today in the wake of Gemini 9 before crews began clearing debris in preparation for launching Gemini 10.

Peking Hints New Purge Of Intellectuals

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist China today announced it had sacked Peking Mayor Peng Chen, once a leading candidate to succeed Mao Tse-tung, and cleaned out the leadership of Peking University, its most important educational institution.

The announcement, made in a brief, Chinese language broadcast by Radio Peking, apparently signalled the start of a massive purge of intellectuals in China. It was regarded by experienced analysts of Red Chinese affairs as a result of a "dirty political infight" at the highest levels of the party.

There was speculation that the purge may turn out to be even bigger than the one that followed Mao Tse-Tung's "hundred flowers" campaign of 1957.

Radio Peking announced that Li Hseuh-feng, 61, first secretary of the Communist party branch in Hopei Province surrounding Peking, had been named to Peng's position in the Peking municipal party.

The broadcast said Lu Ping, president of Peking University and first secretary of the school's party committee, had

Robbery Plotted, Witness Asserts

By ROBERT STREBEIGH

The conspiracy behind the fatal Mission Inn robbery last Labor Day continued to unfold today in Marin Superior Court.

The prosecution's star witness, Harold Frank Percell, resumed testimony, begun yesterday, in which he said he plotted the robbery with Mark C. Osuna and Jark R. Gorman.

Osuna, 30, and Gorman, 36, are charged with the murder of bartender Mario Ferrari, gunned down by two hooded men during the holdup.

Percell, serving a six-month county jail term after receiving a suspended prison sentence for armed robbery, described a trip in two cars from San Francisco to the inn in San Rafael, waiting outside four hours for Osuna and Gorman, driving away when he heard four shots and saw the defendants fleeing the scene.

Percell said the plans were made in the San Francisco apartment of Noreen Michaels. He described Miss Michaels as a woman who formerly had "gone with" Leo Albertoni, co-owner of the inn. Miss Michaels, he said, furnished Osuna and Gorman with the inn's layout.

Percell said also present when the robbery was planned was a friend of Miss Michaels, Billie Tierney.

He testified it was agreed that Osuna and Gorman would go in one car. He said they wanted Miss Michaels to drive him in another, but that "Noreen didn't want to go . . . Billie didn't want Noreen to go, either."

At this point, another woman, Ligia Pino, known to them all as "Junior" joined them, according to Percell.

Miss Pino, Percell testified, agreed to drive the second car, knowing nothing about the robbery and believing she was just taking Percell to visit his cousins in Santa Rosa.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales asked Percell, "Why did you

Moon Photos Pouring From Surveyor I

PASADENA (AP) — Surveyor 1, triumphant U.S. spacecraft with feet planted firmly on the moon, radioed its second long stream of pictures early today—photos of itself and lunar terrain, containing no surprises.

Some of the second series were out of focus, hurriedly taken to speed the camera on a full-circle sweep of the landing site — the Sea of Storms near the moon's equator.

Others of the series were remarkably detailed, some showing items as small as one-eighth of an inch. Scientists, after studying results of the full-circle sweep, plan later to turn the camera back to snap interesting areas.

The 620-pound spacecraft settled gently on its three shock-absorbing legs late Wednesday after a spectacularly successful 63-hour voyage over a quarter of a million miles.

Scientists said the accomplishment put the Surveyor program — an effort involving plans for a total of seven Surveyor shots at a cost of $725 million — ahead by one year.

It also brought from President Johnson, along with praise, a renewed call for preserving the reaches of space for peaceful, scientific activities.

"Overnight," Johnson said, "the eyes of Surveyor 1 have become the eyes of the world on

Top Buddhist Moderates Quit, New Trouble Looms

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAIGON—Two moderate Buddhist leaders who negotiated a peace settlement with the government resigned today in the face of open rebellion from militant young monks and nuns. Another nun burned herself to death to dramatize opposition to the government of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky.

The resignations of Thich Tam Chau as director of the giant Vien Hoa Dao Pagoda and his chief lieutenant, Thich Ho Giac, left the leadership of Saigon's powerful Buddhist masses in the hands of a council of young monks violently opposed to the Ky government.

They were expected to resume the struggle to oust the military government Ky heads and this capital braced for more wild street demonstrations.

A crowd of 200 to 300 people, chanting in low, mournful tones, watched as nun Thich Nu Dieu Dinh doused herself with gasoline and set herself aflame in the courtyard of the Hai Lac Pagoda in Da Nang. Her death was the sixth such suicidal protest against the Ky government since May 29.

Tam Chau and Ho Giac were chief architects of the compromise settlement announced Wednesday night by which the military junta would be doubled in size by Monday and the 10 additional seats distributed among political and religious groups.

The military junta meanwhile seemed to be running into diffi-

Rock Loses Try For Solo Trial

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Richard Rock, 33, Mill Valley resident and San Francisco bar owner, must go to trial with his four co-defendants in the Dow Wilson murder case.

Superior Court Judge Norman Elkington ruled today that grand jury testimony linked Rock to the others in the alleged conspiracy to kill Wilson, leader of the painters union in San Francisco.

Rock's attorney, Marvin Lewis, had moved for a separate trial.

Judge Elkington said: "His rights will not be prejudiced by a trial with the others."

Rock is at liberty on bail of $25,000.

Assessment Rolls Rising; Why Don't Taxes Decline?

By RICHARD LYTTLE

Harried taxpayers, finding that their property assessments will go up next fiscal year, will be told by public officials once again that a raise in assessment should mean a reduction in the tax rate.

There is always a stress put on the "should."

The fact is that the tax rule for a school district, city or special district will usually stay the same, go up, or drop by only a fraction of the rise in valuation.

REED DISTRICT

In Reed School District, for instance, assessed valuation rose this year by 46.18 per cent over the previous year. Trustees cut the tax rate from $3.135 to $2.93 per $100 assessed valuation (bond retirement excluded). This was a drop of just 6.5 per cent in the rate.

With the whopping increase in assessed value, the district, even with the lower rate, raised $956,832.90 in taxes this year, an increase of 29.42 per cent, over last fiscal year. An additional $111,285 was raised for bond interest and retirement this fiscal year, up 7.84 per cent over the previous year.

DOUBLE TAXES

It shows that taxes can nearly double while the tax rate stays the same.

Strawberry Recreation District, for instance, had a tax rate of 65 cents per $100 assessed valuation this year, the same as last year.

However, this was in an area of reappraisal and the total assessed value for the district went from $3,593,550 to $6,709,490, an increase of 86.71 per cent.

Thus the 65-cent tax, which raised $22,058 in the previous fiscal year, brought $42,018 into district coffers this year, an increase of 90.49 per cent.

The county-wide increase in assessed valuation this year was 13.68 per cent. The county's own tax rate dropped from $2.30 to $2.185 per $100 assessed valuation, but the total property tax take for the county general fund rose by $600,302 or 7.22 per cent.

The Strawberry lighting district, under control of the county board of supervisors, had a 55.80 per cent increase in assessed valuation, a 27.3 per cent increase in the tax rate, and a 102.98 per cent increase in the total tax take.

The Richardson Bay Flood Control Zone, also controlled by supervisors, had a tax rate this year of 24 cents per $100 assessed value, down a penny from the previous year. Yet taxes went up by $21,738 due to a 36.74 per cent increase in assessed valuation.

The Santa Venetia Flood Control Zone was the only such zone showing a drop in the total tax bill. It went down by 5 per cent due to a 1.9 per cent drop in assessed valuation. The tax rate remained at the legal maximum of $1 per $100 assessed valuation.

Bel Marin Keys Community Services District, reflecting partly new construction, had a 175.95 per cent increase in assessed value this year over the previous fiscal year. Also, the tax

Many Sample Ballots Tardy; Some In Error

Except for a lucky few, Bolinas residents have not received sample ballots. Sleepy Hollow residents got theirs today.

County election officials today said sample ballots for Bolinas and Sleepy Hollow were mailed on Tuesday, after delay while errors were corrected.

However, the Bolinas Post Office reported only about 20 have trickled in so far. San Anselmo Post Office received sample ballots yesterday for Sleepy Hollow.

Warren H. Williams, San Rafael postmaster, said all the sample ballots mailed by the county were cleared from his office within a day of mailing. He said he made a special check today and found none there.

Williams said he could not understand why the mail had been delayed reaching Bolinas.

Asst. County Clerk John F. Musser said there are about 400 registered voters in Bolinas and 1,200 in Sleepy Hollow, but was not sure how many of their sample ballots were late.

There were other sample ballot foul-ups, too.

Alan Cunningham of 29 Warner Court, San Rafael, said he received a ballot containing candidate's names for the First Supervisorial District, but the ballot for his wife, Louise B., had candidates for the Fourth Supervisorial District. They reside in the latter district.

Jefferson Greer, 275 Channel Drive, Novato, received a ballot lacking the page bearing names of the Republican Central Committee in his district.

Musser said both these errors were isolated cases.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Balaguer Election Seems Clear

SANTO DOMINGO (AP)—An avalanche of votes from a people weary of revolutionary violence carried Joaquin Balaguer to victory in the Dominican presidential race Thursday night. Indications were that the little island nation could expect a tough crackdown on any extremist attempt to make trouble.

The vote, hailed as fair and clean by scores of official foreign observers, was a crushing setback for the moderate left and a stinging repudiation for pro-Communist and pro-Castro elements.

U.S. officials from President Johnson down were delighted that the election had been peaceful. There was also relief in Washington that the victor was Balaguer, a reform-minded conservative, rather than leftist Juan Bosch.

Malraux May Quit

Reagan Jabs Both Brown, Christopher

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Ronald Reagan, predicting the campaign is "going to get kind of messy in the next few days," singled out Democratic Gov. Brown for more criticism today, but showed growing anger at his Republican primary opponent, George Christopher.

"In five years while our population has increased 18 per cent, welfare recipients have increased 49 per cent and the cost 100 per cent," Reagan said in a speech prepared for delivern at a rally on the steps of the Capitol he hopes one day to occupy as governor of the nation's most populous state.

Yesterday, in a crowded day of campaigning that took him from the farm areas of the San Joaquin Valley to San Francisco, he continually sniped at Christopher.

Reagan's unhappiness was prompted by Christopher's charge that Reagan forces were distributing Drew Pearson columns telling of the former San Francisco mayor's 1940 prosecution for violation of the state milk price laws. Only the day before, he had indicated he would ignore Christopher's attacks.

Reagan told a rally in front of the San Jose City Hall that he was disappointed in disclosures that Brown's aides had supplied some of the material for the columns.

"I am even more disappointed that in the last desperate moments of the campaign, Mr. Christopher tried to link me to it," he said.

The word "ballot" literally means "little bowl." Its usage stems from early voting by colored balls, a white ball meaning "yes" and black ball meaning "no." Hence, the use of the term of "blackballing" someone.

GOP Leader Eyes Future Candidates

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thurston B. Morton expressed belief today Republicans will have plenty of potential presidential candidates in 1968 if the party makes as good a showing as he thinks it will n lections this fall.

Thus, Morton, former GOP national chairman who now is the Republicans' Senate campaign chairman, didn't think Gov. William W. Scranton's surprise withdrawal from the future political scene left an open field to former Vice President Richard M. Nixon or Gov. George Romney of Michigan.

Neither has announced any intention to try for the Republican presidential nomination in 1968. But Nixon and Romney are the most often mentioned possibilities for the GOP sweepstakes. New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, like Scranton, has dropped out.

Morton aid "there's no use speculating on 1968 until we get through with 1966 and see how the leadership develops.

Governor Disclaims Fiscal Lag

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

While Ronald Reagan and George Christopher, the two top Republican gubernatorial campaigners, swung away at each other, the man they want to make jobless continued to ignore his primary foe.

Democratic Gov. Brown concentrated his fire not on Los Angeles Mayor Samuel Yorty, but on Republicans.

Brown told an audience in Vernon today that the GOP is "hollering liar" at top businessmen when it claims the state's economy is in a mess after almost eight years of Brown administration.

He listed a number of favorable statements about California's economy made by leading bankers, then added:

"Now, the leading Republican candidate has been trying to tell Californians that there are ominous 'cracks in the California Economy.' I leave it to you to decide who to believe and whose motives are the more suspect."

Yorty kept up his attack on the "vile Brown machine" and said "the Brown hatchet men have now inserted an advertisement in Jewish newspapers actually accusing me of anti-Semitism on the flimsy grounds that I once quoted a fact set forth in a foreign (magazine) which long ago, before I ever heard of it, carried an anti-Semitic article."

San Rafael Dog Show Attracts 700 Entries

More than 700 puppies and grown dogs have been entered in the Sir Francis Drake Kennel Club's annual fun match, to be held Sunday on the grounds of St. Peter Channel Seminary in San Rafael.

Judging will begin at 10 a.m., and probably will continue until about 5 p.m., club officials said today. No additional entries will be taken at the show.

Parkinson Scolds Kuchel For Opposition To Reagan

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Republican State Chairman Gaylord Parkinson today warned U.S. Sen. Thomas Kuchel, a Christopher supporter, against failing to back the entire GOP statewide ticket in the fall.

"As you are aware, there is a widespread anti-Kuchel feeling as the result of your lack of support for the Nixon ticket, the Murphy ticket, the Goldwater ticket and now your pre-primary endorsement in the gubernatorial race," Parkinson said in a letter to the California Republican.

"Frankly, Tommy, it is my candid opinion that you have a lot of fences to mend in this state," Parkinson told Kuchel, who endorsed Christopher over Ronald Reagan. His endorsement was accompanied by a scathing attack on extremist groups.

"I was disappointed that you did not feel you could not endorse the Republican ticket from the bottom to the top when I spoke to you about this," Parkinson said.

"In the Navy, when general quarters are sounded, every man is expected to go to his battle station, whether he likes the war or the direction the vessel is going. To me, a general election is a call to arms for the whole party to stand behind the candidates freely and openly chosen by the party. Your failure to endorse the California Republican ticket in the face of a pre-primary endorsement of one of the candidates will be a disappointment to me and all loyal Republicans. I hope you will see fit to change your mind."

His letter was sent to all central committee officers.

Christopher Takes Stump In The South

LOS ANGELES (AP)—George Christopher campaigned today in California's largest city, expressing confidence he will win the Republican nomination for governor over Ronald Reagan.

"The campaign is on the borderline—Los Angeles County is the crux of it," Christopher told reporters yesterday as he wound up a two-day barnstorming tour of northern California.

Polls estimating the primary vote June 7 have shown Christopher leading in the north but trailing Reagan in the populous south where 57 percent of the state's registered voters live.

"I am confident I will defeat Mr. Reagan Tuesday and go on to defeat Mr. Brown in November," Christopher said.

The former mayor of San Francisco charged repeatedly that he has been the target of a "vicious smear campaign" by supporters of both Republican Reagan and Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Brown Says He'll Win In November

Whether Ronald Reagan or George Christopher wins the Republican nomination "doesn't make a particle of difference" because Governor Brown will beat either man in November.

That prediction came from Gov. Edmund G. Brown himself last night as he spoke at a reception held in Kentfield at the Roger Kent Estate.

Brown pointed to his past victories as an indication of what to expect this year. He reminded the crowd of about 200 that he "would have preferred someone else than Bill Knowland" running against him in 1958. In 1962, Richard Nixon was the last person he wanted opposing him. But in each instance, Brown won.

The governor said this year's campaign "will be tougher than in 1958 or 1962," but he predicted a repeat victory.

Joseph Forest of Novato, co-chairman of the Brown campaign in Marin County, introduced the Governor.

Other Democratic candidates introduced last night included Assemblyman Pearce Young, who seeks the State Senate seat; Thomas T. Storer and Phillip Drath, running for Congress, and Robert E. Mertle, who aspires to the Assembly.

Governor Brown described Assemblyman Young as a "great scholar and outstanding legislator."

Drake Elections Due Next Week

Student body elections at Sir Francis Drake High School will be next Friday, not today.

A story in yesterday's Independent-Journal, based on incorrect information supplied by the school's student news bureau, repotred erroneously that the election would be today.

Candidates will deliver speeches to the student body next Thursday.

Goodlett Asks End To Viet Nam War

Dr. Carleton B. Goodlett, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, said last night the United States must stop the war in Viet Nam and restore peace.

"We need an umbrella of peace so we can meet the needs of the state," he told an audience of about 40 persons at the First Missionary Baptist Church in Marin City.

He said friends had asked him why he stressed the Viet Nam war, an international issue, in a statewide campaign. His answer: there can be no broad programs to deal with human problems unless there is peace.

There can be no "Great Society" when the U.S. is spending billions in Viet Nam, he declared. "You can't have both the cake and military hardware."

People vote for President Lyndon B. Johnson's peace program but the President "has been led down the road by war hawks to carry out crimes against humanity in my name," he said.

Concerning California, Dr. Goodlett noted that while it is a wealthy state, "Negroes and Mexican-Americans are in the midst of a serious depression" with unemployment running from 20 to 39 per cent.

"Kids can't go to school because they have no shoes. There are kids with sub-clinical malnutrition," declared the candidate, who is a doctor of medicine.

The state's most precious assets are human resources, and people should be able to develop to their highest potential, he contended.

"We have the technology and know-how but have not yet the will to feed, clothe and house everyone and educate everyone. This we can do," he contended.

Asked about the problems which led to violence in Watts, Dr. Goodlett said that where people are segregated, exploited economically, and cheated educationally," it creates hopelessness and despair and this is frustrating."

The "medicine for Watts would be the implementing of our great documents," he said.

The proposals to halt violence made by his opponents, Gov. Edmund G. Brown and Los Angeles Mayor Samuel W. Yorty, "are sterile and deal only with the effects," he said. "You have to give these people jobs. A man who is working during the day will not be on the street at night."

Goodlett called Governor Brown, a humane person who has lost that quality and has become arrogant and callous. He described Yorty as a man who deals in "personal vilification, character assassination, and name calling."

Of the Republican candidates, he called Ronald Reagan a "prince of the no-nothings" and George Christopher "still a milkman."

Of 953 judges in California, only 19 are from minority races, he said more than 130 appointive jobs with salaries ranging from $16,000 to $30,000 a year, only three minority race members have been appointed.

Goodlett also advocated abolishment of the death penalty, which he claimed is not a deterrent to crime.

"The gas chamber is reserved for the illerate, the poor, the unfortunate and the rejected," he said. "Name me one person with a net worth over $25,000 who has gone to the gas chamber."

He advocated abolishing the draft in favor of a "professional army" "to allow young people to continue preparation for living," and lowering the voting age to 18. "If young people are to be sent to foreign lands, they should have a right to their say."

Goodlett also contended there will have to be "a guaranteed annual minimum wage, the right to exist in dignity, and distribution of the products created by man."

Dr. Goodlett's talk was interrupted for 45 minutes while he participated by telephone in a broadcast over a Los Angeles radio station.

An impromptu intercom system was rigged up so that the audience could hear Dr. Goodlett's answers to radio listeners, but not the questions.

Straying Auto Kills 2 Children

SUNLAN D (AP) — A car jumped a curb plowing into three children and killing two of them Thursday.

The dead children, Sharon Oulman, 4, and his brother, Walter, 6, were playing in front of their house at 7711 Apperson St. when the accident occurred, said investigators.

A playmate, Wendall Ann Gauvan, 3, of Tujunga, was seriously hurt.

The driver, Sol Mannes, 68, of Sunland, was booked on suspicion of manslaughter.

Campus' Rain Gauge Records Beery Fall

GRAND FORKS, N.D. (AP) — Several inches of beer falls occasionally on the Red River Valley, according to the old rain gauge at the University of North Dakota.

Officials said student pranksters had been pouring beer into the gauge.

WHAT TO DO WITH IT? — Jerry Schmidt had a problem today as he looked over a 30-foot, partially decomposed whale that washed up near his home at 2396 Mar East Street, Tiburon—and held his nose. The sheriff's department said it wasn't their problem; the county sanitation division said it might be theirs, but they were uncertain what to do about it.

now scheduled to blast off July 18.

The Titan 2 rocket that will carry Gemini 10 astronauts John W. Young and Michael Collins on a three-day rendezvous and space walk mission is due to be erected Tuesday or Wednesday.

Navy Cmdr. Young and Air Force Maj. Collins plan to rendezvous with an Agena target satellite and carry out a lengthy space walk by Collins.

Gemini 10 plans to rendezvous with a target satellite already in orbit — the Agena launched for the Gemini 8 mission March 16.

According to the recovery plan, Navy Lt. Cmdr. Eugene A. Cernan and Air Force Lt. Col. Thomas P. Stafford will ride their Gemini 9 capsule into the Atlantic Ocean at 6:50 a.m. PDT Monday.

Waiting for them there will be the prime recovery ship, the aircraft carrier Wasp; a destroyer, the USS Wilson; several search and rescue helicopters and other aircraft aboard the Wasp.

Worldwide, some 15 ships and 98 aircraft will be on the alert in case Gemini 9 must make an emergency landing. Three secondary recovery zones have been set aside — northwest of Africa in the east Atlantic Ocean, northeast of Hawaii and south of Tokyo in the Pacific Ocean.

the moon. Another exciting chapter in the peaceful exploration of the universe is open for men to read and share."

Russia, like the President, has proposed a treaty and barring of weapons from celestial bodies.

United Nations Secretary-General U Thant, in a congratulatory telegram to the President, said the U. S. achievement and recent statements by the United States and Russia on the need for a treaty on moon exploration "should give us all renewed faith in our ability to work together towards the establishment of a meaningful peace on our planet."

Like yesterday's series of 144 pictures, those from Surveyor today showed the undamaged spacecraft, the terrain around it and the distant horizon.

One shot of the horizon 1.5 miles away showed small craters in the distance.

Patrolman Asks New Colors For Scooter

BOSTON (AP) — Patrolman Joseph Ford thinks his red and white scooter is great for keeping track of law and order in Boston Common, but says it could use a different set of colors.

"Everyone thinks that a red and white scooter is a toy," he said, "and that I'm just having fun."

Smelly Whale Makes Problems In Tiburon

A dead 30-foot "whale washed up on a Tiburon beach last night, and no one knew what to do about it.

The yellowish animal was sighted on the beach near his home last night by Eugene P. Pellegrini of 2475 Mar East Street. The Tiburon sheriff's sub-station reported it washed out to the bay during the night, but floated back to a beach below 2396 Mar East Street this morning.

The carcass was beginning to smell as it lay in today's sun.

"What can you do with it?" asked Lt. George R. Barnes of the Tiburon sheriff's office. "You can't blow it up, it's too near houses."

"You can let the tide come in and tow it out to sea, but only the Coast Guard can do that," he ventured. "Or, you can chop it up and carry it away, but who'd want to do that?"

William L. Desmond, county sanitation director, refused to comment other than to say he was "working on it."

Desmond's secretary, Mrs. Ilys K. Hernandez, said the Coast Guard would not tow dead whales washed up on land because they were not a menace to navigation. The county has no boat to tow it, she said.

"This much I can tell you," she said," it's not simple."

rate went from 9 to 67 cents, causing an increase in the property tax from $650 to $13,925. That is an increase of 2,042.31 per cent.

Marin City Community Services District, retaining its maximum $1 tax rate, showed an increase of 31.83 per cent in assessed value and an increase in 34.5 per cent in total taxes collected.

Alto-Richardson Bay Fire District cut the tax rate from 70 to 60 cents this year, but there was an increase of 53.26 per cent in assessed value, so the tax revenue increased by 27.62 per cent over the previous year.

Novato Fire District increased its tax rate from 71 to 75 cents. Assessed valuation went up by 16.76 per cent. The district's total tax bill thus went up by 21.75 per cent.

Corte Madera Sanitary District bumped the tax rate from 87 to 89 cents, and with a 27.34 per cent increase in assessed valuation raised 26.69 per cent more in taxes. The rate dropped in the district for bond retirement, but the total raised for bonds still increased by 6.59 per cent.

Tiburon Sanitary District was able to make a spectacular cut in the tax rate going from 52 cents last year to 39 cents per $100 assessed valuation this year. But assessed value in the district had gone up by 48.85 per cent, so the district still raised 8.33 per cent more in taxes.

Richardson Bay Sanitary District had a tax rate cut from 60 to 50 cents. Assessed value, however, was up by 49.95 per cent and the total tax bill was up by 21.61 per cent.

Assessments are being increased in the Ross Valley, San Geronimo Valley, Stinson Beach and parts of San Rafael.

Property owners in this area will undoubtedly be told once again that the tax rates for government services should go down.

Don't bank on it.

been removed from all positions at the university, along with Peng Pei-yun, one of his top assistants who served as deputy secretary of the University Communist Committee and also was a member of the Peking municipal party.

The broadcast said the university will be administered by a committee appointed by the municipal party while the "reformation operation" is underway.

The developing pattern appears to be almost exactly the same as the "rectification drive" of 1957 that followed the so-called "hundred flowers" campaign initiated by party Chairman Mao Tse-tung.

In that campaign, Mao declared intellectual freedom for everyone under the slogan "let a hundred flowers bloom, let a hundred schools of thought contend."

But the party quickly realized it had lifted the lid on a Pandora's box of troubles when criticism of the regime began to pour in from every corner and the lid was clamped back on with force shortly afterward. A number of intellectuals were purged.

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

Felony Murder And The Law

Mike Madd picked up his pistol, aimed it at his wife and fired. But Mike is a poor shot. The bullet accidentally killed a neighbor next door. Mike is charged with attempted murder on his wife, and with his neighbor's murder.

Though Mike did not mean to kill his neighbor, the law says that it is still murder. The law transfers his intent to kill his wife to intent to kill his neighbor. Mike can be convicted of both charges.

This same rule applies to other highly dangerous acts. Suppose a person shoots into a crowd or at a moving train or car, or commits any "man-endangering act" with malice. He can be convicted of murder. Such an act alone is enough to become murder.

From this a "felony-murder" rule has grown up in the law. The person who commits a felony in the course of which he accidentally kills someone can be charged with murder.

The person who commits a highly dangerous felony, such as robbery, arson, or mayhem runs the risk of a first degree murder charge. If such a crime results in a death, the court can find the felon guilty of first degree murder, the penalty for which is death or life in prison.

For years the law did not examine how the death came about just so long as it was a part of some felony, say robbery or kidnapping.

In a recent case, however, the California Supreme Court said that the felony-murder charge applies only if the killing actually came from the felon's gun or "hands." If a robbery victim, say, fires back and accidentally kills someone, the robber can be charged only with robbery, not with murder. Thus if the policeman shoots a bystander in chasing the robber the fleeing robber cannot be charged with murder. He can only be tried for robbery.

TRIAL

come over here to Mission Inn?"

Percell: "We came over here to rob the Mission Inn that night."

Bales: "Who do you mean by 'we'?"

Percell: "Jack Gorman, Mark Osuna and myself."

Bales: "What was the plan?"

Percell: "To go into the owner's apartment and wait till the owner came in about 1 o'clock . . . hold him captive . . . have him open the safe."

Percell then testified that the two cars were driven to First and C streets, where Osuna and Gorman left their's parked on First, facing west, about a block and a half from the inn.

The two men then piled into Miss Pino's car, according to Percell, and were driven to the inn, where they were let out.

Percell and Miss Pino then parked in a lot across B street from the inn. After about a four hour wait, Percell said, he heard four shots.

Then, he said, "one man in white appeared running around the corner of the building." Another man, he said, emerged "and wavered around like he didn't know which way he was going."

Percell said, "Mark and Jack appeared, running across the street." He said they passed within 15 feet of Miss Pino's car. They were wearing hoods over their heads, he said.

Percell said he and Miss Pino then drove away.

Under cross-examination by Public Defender Jerome C. Durham, Percell told of burglarizing the home of Norman Miller in West Sacramento on Sept. 10 or 11, with the help of Miller's half-brother, Ralph McKay. He said they stole $77 and a .22-caliber gun.

This would have been McKay's second theft at his half-brother's home. McKay testified earlier that he, Gorman and Osuna went there Aug. 24 and stole $1,000 in cash, a gold watch and three guns, two of which allegedly were used during the Mission Inn robbery.

Percell testified he had not been charged with the September burglary and neither, to his knowledge, had McKay.

Percell pleaded guilty last November to a San Rafael liquor store robbery on Aug. 30, and said Gorman had helped him. Percell received a suspended state prison sentence on condition he serve six months in the county jail, where he is now confined.

McKay testified earlier that he had pleaded guilty in Yolo County to the August burglary at his half-brother's house and was given a suspended sentence. McKay, on parole at the time, said his parole had not been revoked.

Yesterday, Betty Wright, 25-year-old parolee on a possession of narcotics conviction, said her parole had not been revoked after her relation to the case became known. She said Gorman and Osuna were at her apartment both before the planning session at Miss Michaels' and at 5 a.m. on Labor Day, two hours after the murder.

She recounted what she said was their description of the robbery and hold-up.

Percell, under questioning by Durham, said he had just been paroled and was living at Halfway House in San Francisco when he met Osuna and Gorman about a month before the Mission Inn holdup.

He said he also met Miss Michaels, Miss Tierney, Miss Pino, Miss Wright and McKay, the last a resident of Halfway House, that August.

Lumber Unions Reach Contracts

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Two lumber unions, hailing their joint negotiations, reached agreement today with a pair of employer groups representing some 52,000 West Coast workers.

The International Woodworkers of America and the Lumber and Sawmill Workers Union agreed on contracts with the 200-member timber operators council and the so-called Big Five group of Weyerhaeuser, Rayonier, Crown Zellerbach, International Paper and U.S. Plywood.

The unions signed a three-year contract with the Timber Operators Council this morning, then reached agreement with the Big Five.

Network Winner In Movie Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Superior Court declined today to hold the National Broadcasting Co. in contempt for interrupting the movie "A Place in the Sun" 33 times with television commercials.

George Stevens, director of the film, obtained the injunction last February and then asked for a contempt citation when NBC showed the film on television last March 12.

OBITUARIES

Rites Slated For Jack H. Rhodes

Masonic funeral for Jack H. Rhodes, 70, of Novato, former owner of Rhodes Nash in San Rafael, will be Monday at 12:30 p.m. at the Redwood Chapel Funeral Home in Novato.

Rhodes died yesterday at his home at 75 Gertrude Lane, Novato, after a long illness. He had lived in Novato for six years, and in Marin County for 26 years. He was born in Indiana.

He retired from his automobile sales business in San Rafael four years ago. He was a member of Fairfax Lodge 556, Free and Accepted Masons; a past president of the Assn. of High Twelve Clubs; a member of the Scottish Rite, Islam Temple of the Shrine, and Sciots. He was a veteran of World War I.

He is survived by his wife, Florence A. Rhodes of Novato; two sons, Robert C. Rhodes of Sparks, Nev., and Jack H. Rhodes Jr. of San Rafael; his daughter, Mrs. Virginia Hickman of Tiburon, nine grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren.

Burial will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

culties on its request to the United Nations for observers for the Sept. 11 election of a constitutional convention. South Viet Nam's permanent observer at U.N. headquarters in New York made the request of Secretary-General U Thant Thursday.

The proposal got immediate endorsement from President Johnson and Arthur J. Goldberg, the U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

At U.N. headquarters, however, the South Vietnamese request was given slight chance of success. Diplomats doubted that Thant would send U.N. observers to South Viet Nam without Security Council approval. They speculated that if the council did take up the request, either it wouldn't get enough votes for approval or the Soviet Union and perhaps France would veto it.

Meanwhile U.S. war-planes flew 78 more missions into North Viet Nam in the fourth consecutive day of heavy raids.

Officials said the four days of massive raids, crammed into a sunny break of the rainy season, have resulted in loss of seven American planes, but left supply centers and transport routes in North Viet Nam in shambles.

The seven lost planes included an F105 Thunderchief which went down just off the North Vietnamese coast today. It's pilot, Capt. Robert D. Tielin of Chicago, was plucked to safety in a daring rescue, by Albatross amphibious plane.

The latest raids were aimed at targets near Hanoi, Haiphong, Dong Hoi, Vinh, Thanh Hoa and the Mu Gia Pass.

On the ground, action picked up only slightly from an almost lifeless pace.

"You don't need man there if you want to find information. He can make very few intelligent decision except for survival and navigation.

LILIAN McLEAN

Memorial service for Lilian R. McLean, mother of Mrs. Margaret F. Crowell of Sausalito, was scheduled today at Christ Episcopal Church in Sausalito.

Mrs. McLean, 88, died Wednesday in a San Rafael nursing home after a lengthy illness.

A native of Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, Canada, she came to the United States in 1900 as the bride of Charles A. McLean. She and her husband, a banker, lived in Spokane for many years, then in Portland, Ore., and Boise, Ida., where he died in 1958.

Mrs. McLean then moved to Santa Cruz to be near her son, Charles A. McLean, and his family. She came to San Rafael last October.

Besides her son and daughter, Mrs. McLean leaves four grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

MERLE KAUFMAN

Funeral for Merle Lillie Kaufman of Berkeley, mother of Dr. Kimball C. Kaufman of San Rafael, was held today at Gierhart and Wells Mortuary in Lodi. Burial was in Woodridge Cemetery, Lodi.

Mrs. Kaufman, who for 10 years had been house mother for Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority at University of California at Berkeley, died Wednesday in an Oakland hospital. She was 69.

She is survived by her son and two grandchildren.

A native of Lodi, and widow of Kimball C. Kaufman, she lived in Oregon almost 40 years before moving to Berkeley. She had been house mother for a sorority in Salem, Ore.

MRS. RAICEVICH

Funeral for Lucille Raicevich of San Rafael will be held Monday at 11 a.m. at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

Mrs. Raicevich, 71, died unexpectedly yesterday at her home at 111 Greenfield Avenue.

She was the wife of retired ship welder Rudolph C. Raicevich.

A native of San Francisco, Mrs. Raicevich was educated in the public schools there. She and her husband moved to San Rafael in 1964, shortly after his retirement from the San Francisco Naval Shipyard.

Mrs. Raicevich is survived by her husband; a daughter, Mrs. Phyllis Knost, and a brother, Albert Pontet Jr. of San Francisco.

GIUSEPPE FAZIO

Requiem Mass for Giuseppe Fazio of Mountain View will be offered at 9 a.m. tomorrow at St. Sebastian's Church, Greenbrae.

He died yesterday in Mountain View.

Surviving are two step-sons, Guido Mariani of Greenbrae and David Mariani of Novato, a step-daughter, Mrs. Mary Petri of Kentfield, and a sister, Mrs. Contantina Praino of San Jose.

Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

A story in yesterday's Independent-Journal contained incorrect spellings of Fazio's first name and of the two step-sons' last name, as well as identifying Mrs. Praino as a brother. The Independent - Journal regrets these errors.

Two Water Directors Face Vote Competition

ALLAN J. CREIGHTON
Division 3

HERBER C. LENEY
Division 3

GEORGE W. THIERBACH
Division 3

Three directors of the Marin Municipal Water District are up for election on June 7.

In Division 1 DR. LEO L. STANLEY, 80, of Crest Farm, Fairfax, is unopposed. A resident of Marin for 53 years, he has been on the water district board for 20 years. He was chief surgeon at San Quentin Prison from 1913 to 1951.

In Divisions 3 and 4, incumbents George W. Thierbach and William A. Marcus face competition. Here are the candidates:

DIVISION 3

ALLAN J. CREIGHTON, 54, San Anselmo, safety engineer for insurance companies, with office in San Francisco, former marine engineer, member of the San Anselmo Planning Commission. Creighton ran unsuccessfully for this same office in 1962 against the same incumbent.

HERBER C. LENEY, 58, Corte Madera attorney; resident in Marin six years; president Redwood High School P-TA 1965-66; president Mariner Cove Improvement Assn. 1965-66; member board of directors of Sanitary District No. 2, 1964-66. Leney urges "aggressive public works program" based on district need, and further development of fishing and camping facilities at district lake sites within safe limits.

GEORGE W. THIERBACH, 73, incumbent, on the water district board for the past eight years, Marin resident for 44 years, former mayor of Corte Madera, 13 years board member of Sanitary District No. 2, member of Eel River Flood Control and Water Conservation Study Assn., served two terms on Marin County Grand Jury. He stands on his record: "The new filter plants at San Geronimo and Bon Tempe Lake, the Nicasio Dam and Lake and new Administration Building, new corporation yard—all accomplished without drain on taxpayers and by maintaining the most modest of water rates."

DIVISION 4

HOWARD A. COLLINS, 51, Greenbrae lumber broker, resident of Marin for 20 years, active in Boy Scout work, member Sierra Club, former federal forest ranger at Mount Hood National Forest and inspector for Oregon State Board of Forestry. He is concerned with "the very serious hazard in the form of standing snags created by the 1945 fire." If a fire started, the watershed could literally explode, warns Collins. Collins says his experience in forestry management would be valuable in such programs as snag removal, planned falling of diseased and over-mature trees, and construction of new fire trails and maintenance. He sees the possibility of opening up certain water district land for restricted recreational use. For example, he would like to see foot paths (for day hikers only) to areas like Rainbow Falls on the Big Carson.

JOEL F. GUSTAFSON, 48, Mill Valley, professor of biology at San Francisco State College, served as associate director of the California Academy of Sciences. A Marin resident for 26 years, Dr. Gustafson served as president of the California Conservation Council, Marin Nature Group, Marin Conservation League, and Point Reyes National Seashore Foundation. He has been a member of the Sierra Club, Audubon Society, and Save the San Francisco Bay Assn. He declares: "District lands have been allowed to degenerate into an extremely inflammable condition. . . . We should employ federal funds to establish a training program in brush and land management." Dr. Gustafson outlines a series of modern techniques that can be employed to reduce erosion and fire hazards. He says state funds are available to help rebuild Phoenix Lake and provide recreation.

WILLIAM A. MARCUS, 76, of Kentfield, incumbent. A resident of Marin for 45 years, he has served on the water district board for the past 22 years. He is a retired banker. He is former chairman of the Mill Valley Elementary School District board, president of the William Babcock Memorial Foundation 1962-64 and president of Goodwill Industries of San Francisco, with branch in Marin from 1962-65. Marcus also stands on the record of improvements made in the water district facilities, and on the service provided at low rates to water users during his 22 years on the board.

AARON E. RUCKER, 70, Kentfield attorney, resident of Marin for 33 years, first president and now director of Kentfield Civic League, a director of the College of Marin Foundation, first manager of Marin Art and Garden show, a retired lieutenant colonel of the U. S. Army. Rucker would allow recreational use of water shed lands "only to the extent that they can be properly policed and such recreational use is not inconsistent with the principal use as water shed."

Suspect Hears Felony Check Passing Charge

Warren Bailey Beard, 28, of Modesto, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on a felony charge of passing a worthless check after having been previously convicted of the same offense.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas scheduled preliminary hearing for 2 p.m. Wednesday. Beard allegedly passed a $25.98 check with intent to defraud Stan's Sports Inc., San Rafael on May 2.

A Savings Bond registered in co-owner form becomes the sole and absolute property of the surviving co-owner in the event of the death of the other.

Two Men Draw Fines For Drunken Driving

Two men, LaVerne Otto Sherrick, and Thomas Newton Lane, both 42, were each fined $276 and placed on six months probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving.

Sherrick of 48 Sequoia Drive, San Anselmo, was arrested on Fourth Street by San Rafael police on Feb. 25. California Highway Patrol arrested Lane, of 10 Sonoma Street, San Rafael, on Highway 101 on Feb. 4.

Dynamite Plant Blast Kills 5, Police Fear

MCARTHUR, Ohio (AP)— At least five persons were reported to have been killed today in an explosion at the Austin Powder Co. plant, a few miles east of here.

Both the Ohio Highway Patrol headquarters and sheriff's deputies said the first reports they received were that five persons had been killed. The plant employs about 200 persons.

Details of the blast were not immediately available.

The plant manufactures dynamite powder.

The highway patrol said its officers had not been permitted on the grounds of the plant, apparently because of the danger of other explosions. Sheriff's deputies were on the scene.

Four Vie For Seats On Ross Valley Board

Four men, three of the incumbents, are seeking three seats on the Ross Valley Sanitary District Board in Tuesday's election.

Lone challenger is George C. Washburn, 72, of 19 Bank Street, San Anselmo. An attorney, Washburn is a former San Anselmo city councilman and was secretary-manager of the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce for 13 years until 1965. He was trustee of the Marin Junior College District for 11 years.

Washburn served 31 years in the postal service, 28 of them as assistant postmaster in San Anselmo.

Philip F. Kendall, an accountant who lives at 229 Los Angeles Boulevard, San Anselmo, is the board's newest member. He was appointed last August to serve out the term of the late Camille T. Remy.

Alva Newton Nipper, a member of the sanitary district board for approximately 30 years, also seeks re-election. Nipper, 70, lives at 5 Alpine Terrace, San Anselmo, and is a real estate broker with Nipper and Marchant Realtors of San Rafael and San Anselmo. He has also served on two Marin County grand juries.

Eugene Ostaggi of Sylvan Lane, Ross, a six-year veteran on the board, is the third incumbent. Ostaggi is a retired banker and investment broker.

Road On Agenda

The Belvedere City Council, meeting at 8 p.m., Monday in Community Hall, will consider re-advertising for bids for the Beach Road construction project. It will also appoint members to the reconstituted parks and recreation commission.

Five Seeking Three Sanitary Area Posts

Five candidates are in the race for three positions on the Novato Sanitary District Board to be filled in next Tuesday's election.

The three incumbents all seek re-election. They are George P. de Tuncq, Thomas D. Hardcastle, and Clayton D. Payne.

Challenging them are Eugene R. Trombley and James A. Prater.

Here are brief biographies of the candidates:

GEORGE de TUNCG, 39, of 82 Grove Lane, is teacher of government at Novato High School. He is a University of California graduate in political science, married and with two sons. He has lived 11 years in Novato, and has served seven years on the sanitary district board.

DeTuncq supports the present policy of the district of annexations to preclude the necessity of forming new, small districts. He says the cooperation between the sanitary district and the City of Novato should be continued. He feels "Novatans have paid for their facilities and should not be called on to subsidize" new developments, which should pay their own costs as they are added to the district.

THOMAS D. HARDCASTLE, 48, of 7 English Court, is a department manager for Pacific Far East Line in San Francisco. He was educated at University of Minnesota and Brown University. He and his wife have lived in Marin County 22 years and in Novato 17 years. He has been a director of the sanitary district since 1950, and is a director of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District since 1962.

Hardcastle would continue present board policies which, he says, have provided an adequate system while consistently reducing the tax rate.

CLAYTON D. PAYNE, 44, of 2973 Feliz Road, is a partner in Rucker and Payne, insurance adjusters in San Rafael. He is a graduate of San Rafael High School and College of Marin and attended San Francisco Law School. He has lived in Marin County since early childhood and in Novato for 11 years. He and his wife have one daughter. He was a member of the North Marin Planning Committee, and has been on the sanitary district board seven years.

Like his two colleagues seeking re-election, Payne points to the board's accomplishments in maintaining a balanced budget and reducing the tax rate while expanding facilities.

EUGENE T. TROMBLEY, 55, of 809 Diablo Avenue, owner of Trombley's Novato Hardware Co., was born and reared in Detroit, Mich., attended schools there and special courses in business administration at Yale University and Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He is secretary of the Novato Boys Club, vice chairman of the Marin County Planning Commission, and a former Novato Recreation Commission member. He is a World War II and Korean War Air Force Veteran, and has been active in the Novato Chamber of Commerce and Rotary Club. He and his wife have one daughter.

Trombley claims the district's administrative costs are out of proportion. He advocates absorption of the sanitary district by the City of Novato as a genuine step toward doing away with costly duplication of governments.

JAMES C. PRATER, 43, of 1101 Second Street, owns and operates Novato TV. He was educated in Humboldt County and San Francisco, served six years in the Marine Corps, and has resided in Novato since 1955. He and his wife have two daughters.

Prater feels the reduction in tax rate by the district has been small in view of its increased valuation, and believes its costs can be reduced. "Novatans have been given only a partial picture of the district's functions and operational costs," he declares.

Farm Bureau Aide To Talk Of Insurance

Robert King, administrator of California Farm Bureau health insurance, will meet with members of the Marin County Farm Bureau in a series of meetings Monday and Tuesday to explain the bureau's insurance programs.

On Monday, he will speak at the Farm Bureau office in Novato at 10 a.m., and at Tomales High School at noon. On Tuesday he will be at A. J. Bianchi's home in Point Reyes Station at 10 a.m.

Turkish Youth Revisits Marin

Ahmet Gucuyener Turkish exchange student who attended Tamalpais High School in 1960 and 1961, is again visiting Mill Valley at the home of his adopted family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Putney.

Gucuyener, a volunteer for five years with American Field Service, is to accompany 55 to 65 exchange students from New York to Turkey, leaving New York City on June 20.

He said he has been working in his home city, Konya, in business with his uncle.

Identity Mistaken

R. S. Dunn of 555 Marin Avenue, Tamalpais Valley, was reportedly burning after hours in his incinerator Wednesday afternoon. It was reported by Tamalpais firemen yesterday that A. K. Shelton of 736 Marin Drive was doing illegal burning. Shelton telephoned firemen to alert them of the burning.

Four Seeking Two Posts In Marinwood District

Voters in the Marinwood Community Services District Tuesday will select two members for the district board from four candidates, none of whom is an incumbent.

Donald A. Duerr, business manager of San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo, has served a year on the Marinwood Fire Commission, an advisory group for the CSD board.

He came to Marin 10 years ago to become city manager for Sausalito, a job he held for four years.

He believes the district is in good hands, but favors shorter hours for firemen. He also says the district board must be flexible, ready to adjust to changes taking place in the area.

Rudolf Lang Jr., a civil engineer, points to his background in real estate development and land planning as qualifications for the office.

Joseph T. Montelstone, a resident of Marinwood for eight years, is in the real estate business, working at the Marin Hills Realty in Marinwood Plaza. He served at one time as clerk of the Legislature in Sacramento.

John V. Tyler has also lived in Marinwood for eight years. He said that during this time he has followed the changes in the area, and this familiarity with Marinwood would qualify him as a director.

Incumbents Jerry Flood and William McGregor did not file for re-election.

School Philosophy

Dr. J. Cecil Parker, Mill Valley School District educational consultant, will discuss the district's educational philosophy andl educational objectives proposed by the professional council at a special board meeting at 8 p.m. Monday at Edna Maguire School.

Rebuilding Planned By Inverness Firm

Inverness Properties, Inc., plans to tear down the old service station and garage in Inverness and replace it with a steel building, 50 by 80 feet, farther back and to the south of the present site.

Application for a use permit and architectural supervision will be before the county planning commission Monday afternoon at the Civic Center.

The county branch library, presently attached to the garage, would be moved to the north and set farther back from Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Second Atom Weapons Test Rocks Desert

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the second day in a row, the Atomic Energy Commission set off a weapons-related underground nuclear test today at its Nevada test site.

Like the one yesterday, today's blast was of low-intermediate yield, equivalent to between 20,000 and 200,000 tons of TNT.

Air Force To Get Husky Navy Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy will bill the Air Force for about $6 million to cover its costs of recovering the Air Force's hydrogen bomb from deep waters off Spain.

The Defense Department said today the exact amount has not been determined yet.

The Navy used 18 ships and 3,200 men in an 80-day search for the H-bomb after the weapon was lost in the collision of a B-52 bomber and a tanker plane Jan. 17.

It Means Something, Negro Conferee Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — As the White House conference on civil rights drew to a close, someone asked Roy Wilkins what it all meant.

The slender, graying leader of the National Association for the Advancement for Colored People hesitated. Then he said: "Well, let's wait till next fall."

Someone asked Asbury Howard, a stocky mineworker from Bessemer, Ala., who says he has bucked the racial system for 40 years, what it all meant.

The middle-aged Negro did not hesitate.

"I don't know what'll come of these resolutions or these good-sounding ideas," he said. "But these people came to Washington, they heard the President, and the Vice President, and Philip Randolph, and Thurgood Marshall. They heard their words and the tone in which they said them and they'll go home now feeling a confidence and a spirit they've never felt before. Now doesn't that mean something?"

ROY WILKINS
Let's wait . . .

It would be impossible for the most adventurous prophet to predict confidently what will become of the multibillion-dollar recommendations presented the conference by its planning council. Their timetable — to bring the Negro into equality in jobs and schools and the courtroom — runs for many years. By the most conservative estimates, it demands capital investments of $50 billion annually practically through the next decade.

By all accounts of delegates mingling and chatting and enjoying cocktails in the Washington hotel where it all happened, it was a Johnson administration show.

They handed their President and host a victory yesterday by refusing overwhelmingly to go along with a move to make his greatest problem — the war in Viet Nam — a racial problem, too. Resolutions by the Congress of Racial Equality demanding a pullout of U. S. forces were rejected virtually out of hand.

Despite a few rumors of pending disruptions, and a few shouting Washington pickets outside, there were no unpleasant incidents during the two-day conference. The mood of the conference.

Auto Makers Hit In LBJ Safety Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Administration officials preparing for a crucial traffic safety meeting with state governors, today accused the auto industry of attempting to "emasculate" President Johnson's plan to impose federal auto safety standards.

"The auto industry's latest proposal would emasculate the President's bill and would impose an undue burden on the secretary of commerce," a Commerce Department spokesman told UPI.

DEFINITELY OPPOSED

"We're definitely opposed to it."

Commerce secretary John T. Connor, other administration officials, and key congressmen handling the auto safety package were expected to hear the industry argument from the governor's delegation that included Gov. George Romney of Michigan, the former president of American Motors Corp.

The delegation represents the National Governors' Conference and its committee on traffic safety. It is headed by Wyoming Gov. Clifford P. Hansen.

TO MEET LATER

They were summoned by President Johnson to attend a meeting with administration officials. The governors were to meet later with chairmen of the House and Senate committees now drafting final versions of the traffic safety package.

After running into congressional hostility, the auto industry finally agreed to go along with federal vehicle safety standards. But the automakers now insist that states have a role in setting the standards.

NO DETROIT BOOM

Car Importers Gloat Over Rise In Sales

By ROBERT J. REGAN

NEW YORK (UPI) —The owner of a new Volkswagen in Louisiana told his dealer he thought the little "bug" was the greatest invention since peanut butter.

Another Volkswagen customer in Indiana complained he was forced to buy a second automobile to solve a family squabble over who got the "bug."

Owners of Volkswagens, Renaults, Simcas, Volvos, MGBs, Triumphs and other foreign-made small cars are giving multitudes of reasons why they prefer them over made-in-American models.

In contrast with a dramatic upsurge in demand for foreign cars, Detroit's huge auto companies are struggling with a glut of unsold new cars.

Importers and their dealers are gloating at the prospect of their first 600,000-car year on the U.S. market since 1959.

Sales of American cars, however, have lagged so much that the companies have scaled down their estimates of purchases for 1966 to 9 million from 9.3, including domestic-owned imports.

Output through May 20 was off 176,953 new cars from 1965 and a third of those were in a single make, General Motors' Corvair.

Ward's Automotive Reports says retail sales of the 10 top imported cars were up 36 per cent in the first four months of 1966 to 169,579.

Status, economy and a feeling of abandonment by Detroit when the domestic compacts became larger were among some of the reasons given for the switch to the smaller, foreign-made models.

Even though American owners of imported cars seem happy with their purchases, foreign dealers feel that their booming sales this year do not necessarily represent a significant switch on the part of motorists or indicate any very clear trends. They're delighted with the boom, however.

Dealers see little connection between their soaring sales and the recent uproar before a congressional investigating committee about the safety factors of American cars.

Must Be Record For Channel Runs

LONDON (AP) — A lot of people have crossed the English Channel but only one man can claim to have done it 40,000 times.

He is Capt. William Waters, master of British Railways' Cross-Channel steamer, Invicta. He made his final crossing Feb. 28 and retired after 50 years at sea.

Waters, 65, started his career on Feb. 26, 1916, as a cabin boy on an earlier vessel with the same name, Invicta.

Negroes Gaining In Jobs; Still Stand To Lose Ground

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department says Negroes gained substantial ground in employment the past 10 years, but stand to lose most of it by 1975 unless they win a bigger share of white collar and skilled jobs.

Employment of Negroes and other nonwhites increased from 6.4 million to 7.7 million since 1955 — a much faster rate of growth than for white workers, said a report in the Monthly Labor Review.

This brought the ratio of nonwhite workers to total employment from 10.2 per cent in 1955 to 10.7 per cent in 1965, it said.

"Nevertheless, nonwhite workers continue to be disproportionatly concentrated in less skilled blue-collar and service occupations," said the report by Joe L. Russell of the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

If nonwhites continue to hold the same proportion of jobs, their ratio of total employment will slip back to 10.3 per cent by 1975, the report said, and their unemployment rate could be doubled because of the growing population.

Despite the 10-year growth in jobs, unemployment for nonwhites averaged at least twice the rate for white workers and will be reduced in the future only if government and private job training programs and new laws against employment discrimination have a major impact, Russell said.

The low skilled occupations in which Negroes and other nonwhite workers are now largely concentrated are expected to grow more slowly than other jobs, Russell said.

Water Candidates Face Criticism Over Fireplugs, Inadequate Mains

By ROBERT M. COPPOCK

Joseph Alverez walked up from the audience and pounded on the table in front of three Marin Municipal Water District Board candidates last night at Wade Thomas School in San Anselmo.

"My neighbor's home burned to the ground in 20 minutes," he shouted.

"Look at the kind of fireplugs we have," he added, waving a pencil drawing of a standpipe-type fire outlet. "They might want us to elect you, but where's our protection?"

George W. Thierbach, the incumbent for the Division Three directorship of the district, had a hard time getting a word in.

"That's the responsibility of the city you live in," he was finally able to say. "If they'll put in the fireplug, we'll supply the water."

Alverez, of 41 Rosemont Avenue, San Anselmo, was referring to the $20,000 blaze at the home of R. Nicholes at 91 Rosemont Avenue on April 24.

"What good are the fireplugs if the lines are so small they won't carry any water?" someone called out from the audience, which had only about 20 people for the water district candidates' night sponsored by the San Anselmo Homes Assn.

Thierbach said San Anselmo had about $6,000 coming to it from fireplug rental for the past two years, to be matched by the water district for replacement of water mains.

"That would replace about 600 feet a year," came the reply, as the other two candidates, challengers Allan J. Creighton of San Anselmo and Herber C. Leney of Corte Madera sat quietly. "Seventy-five per cent of San Anselmo's mains are substandard. At that rate we'll never get them replaced."

Thierbach said the district planned to spend $184,000 this year on main replacement.

"That's still peanuts," muttered Creighton, who later said he would favor a $10 million bond issue to bring all lines in the water district up to standard.

Alverez started his questioning by interrupting the opening statement by Leney. Leney heard him out, then said:

"I'll tell you what the water district will say. They'll say they inherited a bunch of substandard lines from all the little districts and companies they took over. Well, any time you take over a district and it's substandard, you should update it."

Leney said the district would have a surplus of funds this year which could be used to replace "all those 2 and 4-inch mains."

Creighton said he was dissatisfied with the main replacement program and added that San Anselmo's fire insurance rating, set in 1939 and never reviewed, was much too good.

"Don't quote me on this, but I can't see how San Anselmo deserves a Class Three rate. We are very fortunate. San Francisco has Class Two. It's a question whether we'll be able to hold that rating," he said.

San Anselmo City Engineer Charles R. Leitzell suggested floating revenue bonds for new water mains. Thierbach was non-commital, other than to mention the district will soon have to seek a major bond issue for outside water supply.

In opening statements by the three candidates, all agreed that water district lands should continue to be used for recreation at the present level, but that boats and swimmers should be kept out of reservoirs.

On specific questions, each opposed the plan to put a railroad up the side of Mount Tamalpais and a restaurant on top, and each opposed sale of district land for private development.

Although he strongly criticized the district's main replacement program, Creighton said he was not in favor of having the district guarantee that fire-fighting water would always be available.

He said water rates should have been raised in years past to bring the entire system up to standard. Mentioning the 10-year master plan for future district refurbishing, he said, I'm sorry to say it is not adequate. It is totally inadequate."

Thierbach said he was not in favor of having the water district be responsible for fire protection, per se. He said the 10-year plan, to cost $6 million, "is a reasonable amount to spend."

"You can bet your boots I'll do all I can to get good fire protection," Leney said in his opening remarks. "The older members of the board have been on so many years they have become complacent."

Child Has Trouble Breathing, In Hospital

Billy Lenhart, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lenhart of 67 Olive Avenue, San Anselmo, was reported in fair condition today in the intensive care unit of Marin General Hospital, where he was taken yesterday when he began to have trouble breathing.

The child has had a tracheotomy, an operation to open a hole into his windpipe. His parents called San Anselmo firemen at 10:34 a.m. yesterday when he developed trouble breathing firemen administered oxygen before he was taken to the hospital.

Bus Contract Talks Resume; Union Sued

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — More negotiations between Greyhound Bus Lines and the Amalgamated Transit Workers Union were to begin today.

Talks aimed at settling a 19-day strike which has idled 5,000 drivers and station employes in 11 western states resumed in San Francisco yesterday after being recessed in Washington last Thursday.

An acceptable pension agreement was reached between the company and union negotiators in Washington, but many other matters involved in the contract dispute still remain unresolved.

Greyhound filed a $700,000 damage suit against the union yesterday, saying union members halted a tour bus in San Francisco.

Aboard were 37 members of a Michigan retirement club who continued by train.

The bus was driven by a union member of Greyhound's eastern branch, which is not striking.

The firm also asked a preliminary injunction forbidding the halting of other tour buses. A hearing in the injunction request is to be held Monday.

Portable Television Receiver Is Stolen

A new portable television set valued at $104 was stolen from the apartment of Helen M. Gourley at 140 Lower Via Casitas, yesterday, according to Larkspur police.

Police said the burglar apparently entered through an unlocked window while Mrs. Gourley was at work yesterday.

Open House Set For New Library

Mill Valley Library Board last night set for July 31 open house at the new library at 375 Throckmorton Avenue.

It is expected that the move from the old library at 50 Lovell Avenue will be completed during the week beginning July 18, reported Mrs. H. H. Fudenberg, trustee. Dedication will be next fall.

Mrs. Fudenberg reported there will be a final hearing on the library's proposed 1966-67 budget on Wednesday before the city council in city hall. The proposed budget is in excess of $100,000, she said, as against the current budget of $82,134.

Could you raise $1,000,000 in a hurry?

Your community can, and often does, for pressing civic needs by the sale of municipal bonds. Municipal bond financing helps your community construct and improve schools, sewer and water systems, recreational facilities, hospitals, fire and police protection, and most civic necessities.

Bond financing is the citizen's way of financing the growth of his community. Bonds must be voted, giving each voter the right to approve or disapprove the project. Municipal financing costs are low to taxpayers because the bonds can be repaid over a long period of time, keeping taxes reasonable.

Over $1½ billion in municipal financing last year helped California communities provide modern community services to you and maintain the high value of your own property.

Bank of America and its associated dealers bid on virtually all state and municipal bonds offered for sale in California.

Six Seek Marin City Service District Posts

Six persons are seeking three seats on the Marin City Community Services District board in Tuesday's election.

Those elected are to serve four-year terms.

The candidates are:

Mrs. Orpha Barnes, cutodian for Sausalito School District for 10 years, who lives in one of the newly built homes at 85 Buckelew Street. She has been in Marin City 21 years, was a member of the former Marin City Tenants Council and has been active in Parent-Teacher Assn. work and the Marin City Athletic League.

Mrs. Vivian Barron, the only incumbent seeking re-election, lives at 30 Burgess Court and is children's assistant at Marindale School for the orthopedically handicapped. She has lived in Marin City since 1943 and has worked as a member of the branch council, Young Men's Christian Assn., in Marin County.

Mrs. Octavia Harris of 55 Waldo Court is a housewife. Her husband, Jimmie Lee Harris, was a member of the now-defunct tenants council. Mrs. Harris is one of the original members of the Tam Boosters Club, an active church member, and has resided in Marin City 21 years.

Gabe Jackson of 732 Drake Avenue is a community worker for Sausalito School District—that is, he explained, a "trouble shooter" who attempts to gain closer relationship among school, parent and student. Jackson has lived all his life in Marin City. Prior to taking his present job last September, he worked as a laboratory assistant and surgical technician.

Douglas J. Quiett, acting director of Marin County's Community Relations Service. He is former chairman of the Congress of Racial Equality, Marin County chapter. He has lived in Marin City 24 years, now residing at 8 Buckelew Street.

Mrs. Cleo H. Simpson is a homemaker for the county department of social services. She has been in Marin City since 1947 and has worked on the citizens advisory committee of the Sausalito Teachers Assn. Mrs. Simpson has been active in Parent-Teacher Assn. work and worked as counselor on the Young Women's Christian Assn. board in Marin County. She lives at 22 Dutton Court.

The polling place in the old section of Manzanita School, will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Marin Scout-O-Rama Scheduled Tomorrow

More than 2,500 Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts and Explorers from 75 troops, packs and posts are expected to participate in the Marin Council's Scout-O-Rama tomorrow at the Marin Art and Garden Center, Don Bull, chairman of an antique model railroad collection, demonstrations of astronomy, survival techniques, cooking, fire arms safety, marksman of the event, said today.

The show will include display physical fitness, and basket weaving. A frontier ferris wheel will be on display.

Cub packs will feature a puppet show and exhibits in Indian arts and crafts, mask making and birdfeeders. The San Francisco police dog training team will put on a demonstration.

The gates open at 2 p.m. and close at 8 p.m.

Bridges To Talk On Narcotics

Sheriff's Inspector Bowen Bridges will speak to residents of Sleepy Hollow June 21 on narcotics, the Sleepy Hollow Homes Assn. Board learned last night. The board approved use of the clubhouse for the talk, to be sponsored by the Sleepy Hollow Teen Club.

The board also approved plans for a barbecue July 4 at the clubhouse, and set rules for summer use of the association's swimming pool, agreeing to have swimming lessons start June 20.

Bids were opened for printing a directory for the area, but no contract was awarded as the board decided to check other printers in the hope of getting a better offer.

Peninsula Cities Planning Summer Youth Programs

The Belvedere Parks and Recreation Commission last night approved a joint summer youth recreation program of the cities of Tiburon and Belvedere.

Both city councils must approve the action and work out joint financing. Tiburon City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose said today the Tiburon council approved the program in principal already.

The weekend program will be held for second through eighth grade youngsters June 20-Aug. 29 from 1 to 4:30 p.m. on the Reed School grounds in Tiburon. It will include sports and arts and crafts instruction.

The commission hired Terry Bradley, 20, a San Francisco State College student, as recreational supervisor, with a salary to be set later.

Belvedere City Mgr. William L. Cavelli announced that high school boys may now sign up for the city's summer work program.

Evangelist Graham Claims 1,000 Converts In Britain

LONDON (UPI) —American evangelist Billy Graham today claimed more than 1,000 of the 25,000 converts he hopes to win by the end of his month-long moral crusade in greater London.

About 675 persons out of an audience of 15,000 stepped forward last night at London's giant Earl's Court arena to make a "decision for Christ." This added to the 447 persons who became converts at the opening of the crusade Wednesday night.

Despite some skepticism about the effect of the revival, especially from the British Broadcasting Corp., Graham said the near capacity crowds at the first two nights had been more impressive than he had hoped.

Actress' Son Faces Charge On Alcohol

ENCINO (AP)—A misdemeanor complaint against actress Gail Storm's son, Peter Wade Bonnell, 20, has been filed by the district attorney's office charging illegal possession of alcohol by a minor.

Bonnell and three companions were arrested early yesterday as they left Encino Elementary School, police said. Original charges of suspicion of burglary were dropped.

Secretary Of State Hopeful Criticizes GOP Incumbent

Milton G. Gordon real estate commissioner of California, stumped through Marin yesterday in his bid for the Democratic nomination for secretary of state.

Gordon was accompanied by Hugh T. McCann Jr. of San Raafel, his Marin campaign manager. Gordon is one of seven Democrats who want to oust Republican incumbent Frank M. Jordan.

Gordon charged that the incumbent and his father "have held this office as a virtual fiefdom for over half a century."

"The time has come for Californians to sweep clean the cobwebs of 19th Century ideas which permeate this office in Sacramento," said Gordon.

Gordon suggested these reforms:

Institute modern vote-counting methods, simply the language of ballot propositions, use microfilm to store vital records, and create field offices other than in Sacramento so that a deputy is within driving distance of all Californians.

Sanitary Data Pooling Asked

Novato Sanitary District Board last night decided to offer some suggestions for better service by the California Sanitary Districts Assn., of which it is a member.

The board voted to recommend that the association provide pooling of operating data for comparative purposes among all its member districts.

Carlos Muniz of 234 South Oakwood Drive, Hamilton Air Force Base, and John Soderblom of 997 Simmons Lane, Novato, were hired as temporary draftsmen at $2 an hour.

Tire Taken

Robert G. Crispen of 23 Circle Drive reported to the Tiburon sheriff's substation that a spare tire and two suitcases were stolen from his car Wednesday night.

Can a loyal Marin Resident find happiness living at San Francisco's Golden Gateway Center?

Mr. Robert Chiacco:
"Definitely! I used to drive over the Bridge four or more times a day. Now I'm near work and entertaining is easier. The weather here is the best in San Francisco and the apartments are comfortable, sound-proof and well maintained."

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Donahue:
"Yes, we especially like the location. The best restaurants in the world are within walking distance, and the shopping arcades are an elevator ride from our apartment. We enjoy the view and the safe feeling of having a doorman and security officers."

If you are presently among those who must commute daily to San Francisco, heed the words of these nice people. They have discovered the joys of living at Golden Gateway Center in the new heart of the City, just two blocks from the financial district, fine restaurants and other attractions. Consider how pleasant it would be if you lived in one of our apartments, each with balcony or terrace, where the rent includes all utilities, appliances and wall-to-wall carpeting. Maid service, catering, inside parking stalls and furnished apartments are available. Drive down one of these days soon and look over Golden Gateway Center for yourself. Walk through the parks, plazas and shopping arcades, then inspect the model apartments. They're open every day from 10 to 6. Who knows, you might even be tempted to give up commuting for life in the big city. Here's the apartment rental schedule: Studio $160-245 / 1 Bedroom $180-270 / 2 Bedroom $225-370 / 3 Bedroom on terrace $390-410 / 3 Bedroom Custom $440-615 / Penthouse $800-975 / Townhouse (2,3,4 Bedroom) $370-515.

More Study Asked On Sewer Merger

The Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission last night ordered further study of a proposal to form a southern Marin sanitary district, which would take in three existing sanitary districts and the City of Mill Valley.

The action was taken without any blessing from the City of Mill Valley.

Commission alternate Niel R. Brixon, sitting in for the absent Wayne Womack, noted that the only correspondence on the subject had come from Mill Valley City Mgr. Bert Balmer.

"It's the council that does that voting," Brixon declared. He suggested that views of the Mill Valley City Council be sought.

The proposal would combine Almonte, Homestead Valley and Alto Sanitary districts, three districts which now contract with the city for disposal of sewage through the city plant.

In a letter Balmer said he is interested in the proposal but the city does not wish to lose control of its sewage treatment plant.

Warren I. Jacobs, an engineer and president of the Homestead Valley board, said this was not the point and that any expansion of the city plant would be a "sorry waste of money."

Jacobs told the commission that the main idea was to get a large enough district to develop alternate sewer disposal systems.

He said the Mill Valley plant is inadequate and the best solution seems to be one outlined in the Jenks report of several years ago, which called for a plant and outfall at Tennessee Valley. A bond issue for this failed of passage.

The district proposed would still probably not be big enough to back such a development, Jacobs said, but would provide the instrument of growth, getting other districts to annex later.

J. Richard Dawe, secretary of the Almonte District, told the commission that the current situation, with various contracts and a maze of lines, has "many deficiencies."

Commissioners, tempted for a time to deny the proposal because of Mill Valley's lack of interest, heeded Brixon's suggestion and referred it to a district reorganization committee to consist of one representative from each district and the City.

First meeting of the committee will be June 23.

Miwok Exclusion Delayed Pending Water Line Study

The Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission last night put off until Aug. 4 the request of Miwok Corp. for detatchment from the Muir Beach Community Services District, after learning there was a chance of Marin Municipal Water District service at Muir Beach.

Attorney John L. Rockwell, representing the Miwok firm, developers of Seacape subdivision, told the commission that MMWD is interested in serving the area if a long-term loan for study and construction could be had from the state under the Davis-Grunsky Act.

Miwok has asked detachment of 55 acres, claiming district directors have refused to provide the tract with water. The tract is being developed with water coming from a well drilled by Miwok.

The commission approved the annexation of 33 acres to both the Novato Sanitary District and the city of Novato. The property is on Simmons Lane on the west side of the city.

The commission also approved annexation of eight acres to the City of San Raafel. The land is just north of Mount Olivet Cemetery and was the site of the old Starlight Club.

Alternate Niel R. Brixon sat in for Commisisoner Wayne Womack. Commisisoner Peter H. Behr was absent.

Local Agency Group Denies Annexations

After hearing overwhelming protest last night, the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission voted against the proposed annexation of the nine-acre Knocknaboul area to the Terra Linda Recreation and Park District and Terra Linda Community Services District.

Testimony in favor of the proposal was passive.

Leo Harding, director of the community services district, told the commission that district fire trucks had responded to six calls in the last four years in the Knocknaboul area, though it is outside district boundaries.

He said that the main idea was to let the residents of the area know there will be no more such responses.

Austin Gibbon, director of the recreation district, said much the same thing: Residents of the area are welcome to use district facilities if they want to annex and pay for them.

County administrative analyst Randall Shores, said the property would best be annexed to the City of San Rafael if more services are wanted.

He said that the tax rate would go up by 78 cents per $100 assessed valuation if the property went into the city, but climb by $1.59 if annexed to both districts.

He recommended that annexation to the districts be approved on condition that there be no annexation move started to the ciy within the next six months.

Commissioners thought this recommendation a little too involved.

Knocknaboul resident Martin A. Schainbaum presented signatures in opposition to the twin annexations which he said represented more than 50 per cent of the voters in the area. This would kill any annexation attempt by the districts even if the commission should give approval.

Another Convict Back In Prison Death Row

Eddie Dean Griffin returned to San Quentin Prison's Death Row yesterday, bringing the total number of men on the row to 55, a figure that equals the all-time high in May, 1965.

Griffin was convicted of the murder of 49-year-old Essie Mae Hodson in Los Angeles in December, 1961. He returned to Los Angeles for a new trial in July, 1965, after the United States Supreme Court set aside his first conviction because the district attorney had made derogatory remarks during the trial about Griffin's refusal to take the witness stand.

Marinwood Parks Group Cuts Budget

The Marinwood Park and Recreation Commission last night took another look at its recommended $68,250 budget for next fiscal year and knocked out $8,400.

Commission secretary Dorothy Stitham said the items cut were mostly capital projects, including new planting and landscaping for the pool area.

Directors of the Marinwood Community Services District Wednesday night asked both the park and recreation commission and the fire commission to cut their recommendations.

The park and recreation commission last night also recommended to the CSD board that day and summer camp programs be started early in July.

French Industry Deals With Reds

PARIS (AP) — Two nationalized French firms have made big business deals with the Soviet Union and Red China recently, but officials deny any political implications.

"Its strictly business," said a spokesman of the Foreign Ministry. "Politics had nothing to do with it."

A spokesman for the Ministry of Economic Affairs said the same thing.

The deal with the Soviet Union gives Renault, France's largest auto maker, a free hand in revitalizing and expanding Russia's Moskvich auto plant. The one with Red China opens a Paris-Shanghai route for Air France and a Chinese airline.

Marin Assn. of School Administrators has Supt. Milton S. Cohen of the Larkspur District as president.

Tiburon Fire Board May Raise Tax Rate

The Tiburon Fire District board last night adopted a $158,800 budget for fiscal 1967 that may call for a 10-cent tax rate increase.

Treasurer Kelly J. Wheeler said the new tax rate of 68 cents per $100 assessed valuation was an estimate, pending completion of the district's assessed valuation rolls in August.

The board chopped about $20,000 off the preliminary budget, mostly in a loan payment to the Bank of America for Station 2. The board decided to prepay $10,000 of the $22,000 loan payment out of this year's budget.

It also cut from the preliminary budget reserves from $40,000 to $33,000 and water main maintenance from $6,000 to $3,500. Expenditure for salaries was raised $1,300 to $79,476, including a five per cent pay raise for employees.

Film Star's Kin Cut By Window

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actress Susan Strasberg's brother, John Carl Strasberg, 25, was reported in critical condition today from body cuts suffered in a fall through a plate-glass window.

Sheriff's officers said tenants of a Sunset Boulevard hotel heard him screaming in a second-floor room last night.

Deputies summoned by a bellboy said Strasberg, nude, apparently crashed through a window and was further slashed by broken glass when thrown back into the room by the window screen.

Interfaith Group Formation Told

NEW YORK (AP)—A historic interfaith alliance, composed of representatives of most of the nation's Christians and Jews, has been formed to work for a strengthening of American marriage and family life.

The common front is the first concerted action in the field by such a wide composite of U.S. religious leadership.

The alliance, announced yesterday, pledged mutual efforts to overcome what it called "powerful and pervasive social conditions which threaten to undermine human dignity, marriage and family life in America."

Italians Giving Blood For War

OAKLAND (AP)—Forty crew members from two Italian submarines contributed their blood today for men wounded in Viet Nam.

The submarines, formerly in the mothball fleet at Vallejo, were given to Italy and are undergoing overhaul at San Francisco Bay Naval Shipyard.

Tam Valley Improvement Club Elects

Joe Allen was re-elected last night as president of Tamalpais Valley Improvement Club.

Other officers elected were Karl Zipf, vice president; Jackie Carlson, secretary, and Midge Hamburg, treasurer. Elected as members-at-large were Robert Glessner, William Hargreaves and Frank Jarboe.

Mrs. Hamburg, business manager of the club's "Rhubarb Revue," reported that $4,000 was realized this year from the show, to be placed in the building fund for a new clubhouse to be built on Tennessee Valley Road. It is the first time the club has earned as high as $4,000, Mrs. Hamburg said.

LBJ Ready To Seek Pension Increases

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson proposed today a blanket increase in Social Security benefits for all those on the rolls now and those who will be in the future. He mentioned no specific figures.

Vote June 7th to Nominate

★ George ★

CHRISTOPHER

for

GOVERNOR

Best Qualified for the Post

The State of California is big business — a $4½ billion a year business. We need as our governor a strong, dynamic leader with a proven record of integrity and successful business, legislative and administrative experience.

George Christopher is this man. His rise from immigrant boy to eminence in business, government and civic leadership is in the finest American tradition.

- ★ Founder and sole owner of a successful food company established 27 years ago.
- ★ 10 years member and president of the San Francisco Board of Supervisors.
- ★ 8 years Mayor of San Francisco — the maximum term permitted by City Charter.
- ★ Herbert Hoover called him "the best mayor of any city with which I am acquainted."
- ★ General Eisenhower called him "one of our great Americans."
- ★ J. Edgar Hoover publicly commended him for his honest, vigorous policies of law enforcement.

He will win in November. All reliable polls show he is the only Republican candidate who can decisively defeat any of the leading Democrats, including the incumbent governor in November.

Let's win with Christopher. Vote June 7th Republican Primary.

Marin Dining And Wining

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Tiburon Becomes Restaurant Town; Angelo Sabella Is Feeling Better

Tiburon is second only to Sausalito in the number of its major restaurants — proportionate to its population.

More than that — it takes first place in Marin in having 70 per cent of these concentrated in one short block, with the rest practically in range of a stone's throw. And six of the 10 are literally waterfront restaurants. Main Street, of course, is the busy thoroughfare where you'll find them and everything on the south side faces on the water. The exception is Kirby Atterbury's Caprice on Paradise Drive — but that faces on the water, too.

Obviously the patronage for these dineries isn't supplied exclusively by the 5,000 or so souls who live in Tiburon, nor by the half of that number in adjoining Belvedere. Like Sausalito, Tiburon now has all the earmarks of a tourist attraction. And I'm inclined to classify as among the tourists to both cities those who originate from the rest of the county. By local definition, you're either a resident of the immediate area—or an out-of-towner.

Be that as it may, Tiburon does hold a unique appeal for anyone in search of good viands. For the most part, prices are in line and the food is consistently good.

So if you're treated as a tourist on your own home ground — maybe you don't get down there often enough to be recognized — and whose fault is that?

NOW ON DISPLAY at Sam's Anchor Cafe in Tiburon is a collection of "batiks" painting done by the ancient process of using dye and wax on cotton cloth as used in Egypt, China and Japan.

The show, which is being held in Sam's main dining room, is the first art display of two Terra Linda mothers — Jane Santucci and Donna Salmela — who began experimenting in the technique over a year ago. Both have college degrees in art. Corky Jones, who seems to be acting as curator as well as hostess, reports that a number of the batiks were purchased during the first day's showing.

THERE'S A CHANGE of decor scheduled for Tiburon Tommie's Destination South Pacific Room, now that the Cove Players have completed their recent series of stage performances.

Once more Tommie Cox has the room available for banquets. Already enroute from Tahiti, Samoa, New Zealand and Australia are a set of photo murals for decorating the walls with scenes of the South Seas, along with other appropriate materials for ornamentation.

And if there's any dispute as to whether Borabora is in the Society Islands, the Tuamoto Archipelago or the Marquesas, a huge map of the South Pacific dominating one wall will settle the question.

Generally, this room will be more modern in decor than the rest of Tiburon Tommie's Mai Tai. Functionally it will be the setting for Hawaiian luaus and Tahitian feasts for up to 150 or so persons. It will have a private bar, stage — and of course a sweeping outlook to Tiburon Harbor and the bay.

IF YOU SHOULD FIND Angelo Sabella in more frequent appearance at the 101 Highway restaurant these days, it's because he's beginning to feel fit again and can contribute more of his time.

Lou, of course, has been handling things most capably during his absence — but it's a big business to oversee day in, day out. And one thing about members of the Sabella clan—they've stuck to gether to make this one of the finest family operations I've ever seen.

Besides acting in an advisory capacity, Angelo, I understand, will be taking over a regular evening shift.

RIGHT ON SCHEDULE, the new Pasquale's opened Wednesday at 306 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo. This is next door to Hal Matteucci's Knot Inn, so what you may not be able to order in the one is easily obtainable in the other.

Pasquale's — a venture of Pasquale Parrillo of San Francisco — is set up for family style dinners at $2.50 (choice of two entrees each night) and also a selection of a la carte dishes. All the Italian favorites — veal scallopini, veal parmigiana, cacciatora, lasagna, homemade sauces, ravioli and pizzas — are represented, with bowls of soup and salad on the table. Your order can be eaten here — or you can take it home.

Lunches feature "Hero Sandwiches" in several forms and other specials. Run of prices is from about 95 cents to $1.25, with a steak sandwich at $1.50.

Open weekdays from 11:30 a.m. to 10 or 11 at night. Sundays from 3 to 10 p.m.

IF YOU SHOULD TAKE a youngster with you to Franchini's Chateau for lunch or dinner (and many do), you'll do well to let him face the windows. Otherwise you'll run the risk of his meal being only half eaten, at no fault of the food.

So much of the interest here is outside, it's a rare child that can forego stretching his neck to follow the action among the ducks, the chickens, the geese, the burro, the deer or whatever else comes into the ever changing scene. And that doesn't apply just to the kids. More than one adult finds himself engrossed with the continual livestock show.

Which reminds me — Bambi the senior deer is no longer here, having jumped the fence a number of weeks ago as the result of a dispute with the burro, and he just continued on his way. According to one report, he was thought to have been sighted around Sleepy Hollow, west over the hills from Terra Linda. If you spot one in your neighborhood that may be inclined to be friendly and whose horns are perpetually in velvet — that could be Bambi.

ROBERT (BRAD) BRADLEY has been brought into King Cotton, San Rafael as full time chef from Sam's in Tiburon by boss man Jim Bigelow. He's overhauled the menu and additions I know about are duck l'Orange and sweet and sour spareribs — also the beef brochettes. And what he can do to shortribs of beef is amazing.

No carhop service at King Cotton now — this has become a family style restaurant with complete dinners.

Jane Shallenberger has been made manager. You may remember her — she and Corky Jones (now at Sam's both used to be at the Alta Mira Hotel. Hot lunches everyday.

REMEMBER GORDON DRESSER, who used to operate Gordy's Snappy Service Cafe at Fourth and Tamalpais, San Rafael?

It was about 18 months ago that he sold out to Iva and Tom Marshall and took off on a trip to Europe and other places. Now he's back — and opening up at another location.

This is Gordy's Chat 'n' Chew at 879 Fourth Street, where he'll be in business everyday except Sunday from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m. It's strictly a counter and stool set-up, serving short orders, sandwiches and the like for lunches and dinners. Also breakfasts in the morning. And there's a walk-up window for quick service. He'll open next Wednesday morning.

NASI GORENG, the Indonesian rice dish with brochettes of beef served on Sundays at the new Restaurant de L'Europe on the Miracle Mile, San Rafael, has proved to be such a favorite with the customers — Fritz Verburg and Leo Cantayre have decided to make it available everyday.

But other than on Sunday you'll have to order it in advance, since it takes about an hour to prepare and you'd hardly want to wait that long. Let them know you're coming.

Youth Forum Asking History Of Minorities

The human relations forum of Marin Youth for Action, meeting last night at the county schools office in Corte Madera, decided to recommend to the Marin County Board of Education that a course in the history of cultural and ethnic minorities be included in county high schools' curriculum.

The group plans to draft an outline for the course to present to the county board.

Ex-Oxford Don At Symposium

Raghavan Iyer, a former Oxford don now teaching in Santa Barbara, will speak at the World Workshop 1966 symposium at the Dominican College of San Rafael June 20-24.

Iyer, who taught political philosophy for eight years at Oxford, is now associated with the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions and teaches political theory at the University of California at Santa Barbara. He is a consultant to the Encyclopedis Britannica and author of "The Glass Curtain," which was published last year.

Registration forms for the symposium are available at the college.

Pro-Park Bonds Car Cavalcade Planned

A pro-park bond car cavalcade through Fairfax and San Anselmo will start at the parkade in Fairfax at 10 a.m. tomorrow to boost for a "yes" vote on the $4.3 million county park bond issue next Tuesday.

Mrs. Dorothy Olson of Fairfax organized the cavalcade, which is sponsored by the Fairfax and San Anselmo Youth for Park Bond Committee.

Interest rates on U.S. Savings Bonds have been increased four times since the first Series E Bond was sold on May 1, 1941. The rate may not be lowered during the term of a bond. Current rate is 4.15 per cent when held to maturity.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL:

San Rafael General Hospital Closing An Unhappy Event

San Rafael residents, especially old-timers who have sought haven at San Rafael General Hospital, are saddened by the closing of the 61-year-old institution.

It was more than an institution. It was a friend. In time of suffering people went for help and were nursed back to health in cheerful surroundings. Many were born there, and many gave birth.

Some of us remember the rooms we occupied, the windows from which we looked with envy on those who walked briskly by, and the roommates with whom we commiserated.

The loss of San Rafael General Hospital is more than just sentimental. The hospital, at its peak, had some 70 full-time employees and 35 part-time workers, drawing a payroll of about $35,000 per month. That would represent a yearly payroll of nearly half a million dollars.

We lament the dampening effect this loss of payroll will have on the local economy.

The closing of the hospital will also be an ordeal to former employees, who are temporarily without employment and who must adjust to new jobs in strange surroundings. It is gratifying that most of them have been welcomed to new positions, and their friendly and efficient talents are not going to waste.

In the past, those who were injured or suffered sudden illness, even in the middle of the night, could turn to San Rafael General Hospital as a beacon of hope and comfort near at hand. Now, such emergency cases must go some distance to Marin General Hospital or Ross Hospital. This will mean several minutes of delay in getting care in emergencies and represents a serious loss to residents of San Rafael.

The one ray of hope in this dark picture is the report that the San Rafael General Hospital Foundation will continue in existence, trying to raise funds for a new hospital, perhaps at Terra Linda.

We hope this fund drive is successful and San Rafael will have a hospital of its own once again in the not too distant future.

Perhaps it is wishful thinking, but we hope that a new hospital can be built locally in time to restore the lost payrolls and to lure back many of the former employees before they are permanently assimilated elsewhere.

We have lost a valued institution, but not for too long, we hope.

Congress Outpaces Statesmen In Calling For Atlantic Union

WASHINGTON — The pieces in NATO's jigsaw puzzle are not yet going back into place as readily as Gen. Charles de Gaulle is knocking them out.

Could it be that the Atlantic Alliance can not well survive by standing still and needs a new vision and a new purpose —the kind of vision and purpose which nearly everybody will say is impractical at the start?

As "impractical" as the airlift which rescued Berlin. As "impractical" as the European Common Market which "everybody" at the time knew would never be accepted and couldn't possibly work. As "impractical" as the North Atlantic Treaty itself which has worked so well some think it no longer needed.

FORTUNATELY, while the "experts" in the State Department continue to think small, the political leaders in Congress and in the country are beginning to think big.

They are thinking that the time has come when the Atlantic Alliance, instead of just being tinkered with, ought to be transformed into an Atlantic Union and they are supporting a resolution now before Congress to call a conference of distinguished citizens to see what can be done.

This is a wholly bi-partisan project and it is now evident that opposition from the State Department is giving it new impetus. After officials of the department scowled at the resolution and told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that nothing could come of it, the number of its sponsors in the House of Representatives went up fourfold. They mounted from 19 (10 Democrats and 9 Republicans) to 96—an addition of 77 new backers of whom 52 are Democrats and 25 are Republicans. The Atlantic Resolution has 17 sponsors in the Senate and these combined 113 (in both Houses) are scattered over 35 of the 50 states.

Increasingly strong support is coming from the Republican side. There is no wing of the GOP which is not represented among its backers and it is clear that the Republicans do not see the cause of Atlantic Union as a liberals' pipe-dream.

Its latest recruit is former President Eisenhower who wrote: "I strongly favor your undertaking; let there be no mistake about this." His endorsement came after the State Department had taken its negative position. Other Republican supporters include former Vice-President Richard Nixon, Barry Goldwater, and Govs. Rockefeller of New York, Scranton of Pennsylvania, Romney of Michigan, and Hatfield of Oregon.

IT MAY WELL be that an Atlantic Union may be as impractical today as Jean Monnet's European Common Market seemed over a decade ago —but no more so.

May it not be that those who are seeking only to put NATO back together are centered too much on repairing the past rather than building something better for the future?

WE OUGHT to find out. One way to do it is for Americans and Europeans to talk this over together as the Atlantic Resolution provides.

PLANNING AHEAD AVERTS HEADACHES

Many organizations wither and die because they let themselves get caught up in a mass of details and fail to lay long-range plans for the future.

It is always possible for members of any group, especially a large one, to unwittingly divert more attention to immediate problems, at the expense of bigger issues.

Remind others of such questions as these: Where are we headed? . . . Is the organization fulfilling its purpose? . . . Do new conditions require a change of direction? . . . Do present methods meet current and future needs?

Insisting on long-range goals may not make you popular. You may even feel like John the Baptist, "a voice crying in the wilderness." But the Lord will sustain your courage.

Your ability to look ahead—and to express your views—may avert needless headaches and even tragedies.

"Do not be afraid, but speak and do not keep silence; because I am with you."
(Acts 18:10)

Help me to keep the perspective of eternity, Lord, and act in terms of the common good of all.

MARIN POLITICAL VIEWS

Straw Polls Indicate Strength; John McInnis, Mertle, Bales

By WAT TAKESHITA

Takeshita

ALL INDICATIONS (private polls and street corner gossip) are that John McInnis will succeed the retiring Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker on the Marin Board of Supervisors.

The big question is whether McInnis can win all the marbles next Tuesday, or whether he'll be forced into a runoff.

According to a private poll conducted by a marketing research firm, voter preference today stands something like this: McInnis 40 to 45 per cent; Mel Warenback 10 per cent; Dr. William Upton 7 per cent; and undecided about 40 per cent.

Unless McInnis can poll more votes than the other two combined, there will be a runoff in November. So far, it looks as if Warenback is running number two.

IN THE DEMOCRATIC race for Congress, peace worker Phil Drath has generated a tremendous following. He is surprisingly strong, especially when you consider that he was given virtually no chance at all when he entered the race less than six months ago. Now, Drath is expected to give Thomas Storer a real battle for the Democratic nomination. Some even think Drath may carry the county of Marin. Storer will probably show up stronger from Sonoma County northward.

GEORGE McCABE, the Democratic nominee for Congress two years ago, came out for Phil Drath some weeks ago. But his support for Drath is reported waning. Last weekend, McCabe was scheduled to be master of ceremonies when Drath and Sen. Wayne Morse appeared in Santa Rosa. McCabe failed to show up.

Sources close to McCabe, the Sonoma State College administrator, say that he is unhappy with the campaign tactics used by Drath in Sonoma County—the frontal attacks on the Johnson Administration for one. Because of these tactics, which are offending many Democratic Party faithfuls, McCabe does not want to be publicly associated with Drath, although he sympathizes with many of Drath's ideas on peace and civil rights.

IN THE ASSEMBLY race, Robert Mertle of San Rafael has the edge over James Pockrus of Rohnert Park for the Democratic nomination. And so it looks like Mertle vs. Assemblyman William Bagley in November.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY Bruce Bales is a solid favorite to stay in office, despite a determined challenge by Leonard Bjorklund Jr.

The Coroner's race should be a close one. Since none of them has been tested in previous elections, it's difficult to say. But offhand, the top two appear to be Dr. Donovon Cooke and William Bradley, the present assistant coroner.

CONGRESSMAN DON Clausen has already voted for the California primary. He had to vote by absentee ballot because he has been selected as an official U.S. adviser to the American delegation at the Sixth World Forestry Congress in Madrid from June 6 through 18.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Explain College's Crowded Classrooms

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Our society is devoting more hours toward a more leisurely life, and in this respect, the College of Marin has offered a curriculum which has helped the participants fulfill their avenues of thought and creativity, through which adults have been able to channel their interests during their hours of leisure.

It now appears that the college has ceased to uphold their responsibility to the people, especially the adult taxpayers of Marin County who have sought to pursue their interests by attending the evening non-credit art classes. If this be the college's plan of action, then we must assume that the next step will be to discontinue the adult education program entirely.

The only alibi one encounters is the limited classroom space available to the increasing number of students attending classes at the college. What then has been done to make use of the funds which were made available by the bond issue voted on and passed to remedy these needs some time ago? Why has the college allowed this overcrowded situation to occur and continue when they had the means and especially the time to correct the situation?

The college board of trustees must be aware of the increasing number of adults who wish to enroll in the education program by simply tabulating the number of applicants for these courses and the fine attendance record of those who have enrolled. Why must scores of applicants be turned away from the college because no provisions have been made to accept them? Why must the college ignore these same applicants who seek to further their education or pursue their varied interests? We, the voters who helped pass the bond for funds to provide additional classrooms, deplore the college's attitude toward the needs of the community.

Reader Offers View On Murphy's Actions

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I wish to express my gratitude for being able to sleep much better since your editorial of May 25. Until then I felt a little guilty that our nation's earnest effort to save the Vietnamese from communism was, incidentally, dispossessing, maiming and killing so many of them.

You point out that a great "conservative humanitarian" i.e., Senator Murphy, is quietly (in spite of your publicity) writing letters to aid the South Vietnamese refugees and orphans. Such selfless aid will surely be remembered by the Vietnamese long after the last bomb is dropped. Provided, of course, that there are any Vietnamese left alive.

I can now see that we "self-styled liberal critics" have probably been deluding ourselves this past year or more by believing that most humanitarian way to aid orphans is not to kill their parents.

Frothing Raccoon May Be Spring Sign

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It was a most insouciant article in the I-J regarding "Why Should Raccoons Act That Way." Most raccoons don't have rabies and Miss Nancy Ruggeri (I am sure a most able lady) when asked why the raccoons were frothing at the mouth and behaving erratically replied: "I have no idea."

I have no idea either . . . but could it possibly be Spring?

I guess raccoons do eat plants that they shouldn't eat, but too, they are part of the charm of living in Marin.

Maybe love springs eternal even in the heart of a raccoon . . .

Memorial Day Race Like A Bull Fight?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It is a puzzle to me that on Memorial Day insanity mars the holiday that should be epitomized by sobriety. I am referring to the famous Memorial Day "sport" in which man and machine tempt fate, and those who do not attend this extremely popular holiday occasion are guaranteed the bloody reviews of every spectacular mishap by the myriad reporters, cameras, etc. that crowd the track.

I see no sense whatever in a sport in which the contest is so mechanized and dehumanized; maybe it could serve as a lesson to us all who drive automobiles as to the real terror of the power we control, but I am not certain that this is the reason at all for this sport having come into existence.

We have done away with bullfighting in our country and with sports that reveal man's cruelty to animals; when are we going to be concerned about man's cruelty toward himself?

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

DEAN MARTIN, the most relaxed, devil-may-care star in the history of television, has come up with a new song title that holds promise of great things: "It's June in January —'Cause I'm in Australia!" "I've licked worry," confides Dean, "because I now drink moderately. In fact, I'm never without a case or two of Moderately in my dressing room."

Lucille Ball, watching Dean Martin do a full hour's show on TV without a single rehearsal, marveled, "That so-and-so makes cooked spaghetti look tense!"

WHEN VICTORIA Lincoln, author of "February Hill," was a little girl of 10, the garden of her Fall River home abutted that of the aging Lizzie Borden, star of New England's most famous murder case. One day Victoria's mother was horrified to discover her precious darling tagging after Miss Borden in the latter's garden. She was rushed into the house, and ordered never, never to go near Miss Borden again.

"But why, mother?" demanded Victoria. Her mother's classic reply was, "You see, Victoria, that lady was very UNKIND to her mother and father!"

All of which, in turn, brings to mind the old rhyme:

"Lizzie Borden took an axe
And gave her mother forty whacks.
And when she saw what she had done
She gave her father forty-one."

INSIDE WASHINGTON

New GOP Leadership Strongly For Nixon

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — There will be many new faces at the 1968 Republican national convention.

This highly significant political change is strongly indicated by the little-noticed upheaval taking place among state and county GOP leaders, who play a major role in the selection of convention delegates.

A PRIVATE survey by the Republican National Committee disclosed that since the disastrous 1964 presidential election a far-flung shake-up in the party has resulted in:

The installation of 31 new state chairmen.

Changes in more than 50 per cent of the county chairmen.

Five new national committeemen through resignations.

Of the new party leaders, nine state chairmen were named in the past five months. Several more are expected to take over later this year, as supporters of former Vice President Nixon and Michigan's Governor Romney step up their jockeying for influence within the party.

The recent changes, generally credited as favorable to Nixon, were in Alabama, Maryland, Mississippi, Montana, New Hampshire, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee and Wyoming.

The National Committee's study indicates that in the past year Nixon has been very active mending his political fences in these states, and that he has established personal ties with each of the new chairmen.

One congressional campaign official, who participated in the survey and met with most of the new leaders, says:

"IF THE CONVENTION was held this year, Nixon would have the backing of at least 70 per cent of these new officers. They know him personally. He has been criss-crossing the country making speeches and helping state organizations raise money. He is the only national figure doing that for the party. The professionals don't forget that kind of help.

House Republicans are taking a leaf from the Democrats. They have raised more than $1 million for the congressional campaign by enrolling 1,000 members in a new organization of the Boosters Club. Like the Democrats' President's Club, the new GOP memberships cost $1,000. . . .

Task forces of Republican congressmen are visiting 20 major cities to hold hearings on urban problems and gather legislative ideas that will reflect the party's concern for the city dweller. They report the Viet Nam war and the high cost of living are the top issues. . . .

THE OFFICE of Education is sitting on a study that may be full of political dynamite. Tests were made of more than a million school children throughout the country on whether they thought they were receiving equal educational opportunity. The inquiries were conducted in all-white, all-Negro and mixed schools. The bulky report indicates a majority of the Negro pupils believe they are being discriminated against.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Me., seeking a fourth term, is investigating to determine if pollsters are being used to spread false reports about her. Several of her supporters have reported being questioned about untrue charges made in previous campaigns. The inquirers identified themselves as working for a national polling firm.

. . . Speaker McCormack is writing glowing letters of support for all freshmen Democrats for use in their re-election campaigns. He describes the "class of 1964" as "the most outstanding group of legislators elected to Congress in twenty years."

A SURVEY by the Republican House Campaign Committee shows that many of these freshmen are better known in their own districts than senior members of Congress. This is credited to the administration's policy of letting the freshmen Democrats announce all government spending and other measures in their districts.

ART BUCHWALD

Taking A Trip With Dream Drug Paints Capital In Strange Hue

WASHINGTON — There has been so much written about LSD lately that I decided at least to try it and see what it was all about. So I stole a cube of sugar from a Senate LSD hearing and went back to my office.

I SEATED myself in a chair, bit into the cube and stared at the wall waiting for my first hallucination. It wasn't long in coming. I saw a hawk flying around the room, but his face was that of Secretary of State Dean Rusk. As he swooped down towards my desk I heard him scream: "We're willing to negotiate. We're willing to negotiate. We're willing to negotiate. This is a recorded announcement." I started to laugh hysterically, then I looked up and saw President Johnson on the ceiling looking down on me.

His voice boomed: "Ah'm doing the best Ah can but my critics keep using my name in vain." Suddenly I saw Bill Moyers doing the Watusi next to the President and handing him an opinion poll. The President read it, and then there was thunder and lightning, followed by: "If anyone has any better solution than I have he can have my job." I started to cry.

I looked down on the floor and saw Vice President Humphrey stretched out. I heard myself saying: "Hubert, what are you doing on the floor?"

Humphrey replied: "He won't let me on the ceiling."

I LOOKED over and saw Bobby Kennedy climbing the wall. "What are you doing?"

"If I start climbing now I may get up there by 1972," he replied.

The room was going around in circles. I saw Mayor John Lindsay tearing down Wall Street, stone by stone. Then I saw Lady Bird planting a tree in Senator Dirksen's hair. And finally I saw Senator Dodd sitting all alone at a testimonial dinner eating every plate of food in the room.

I shut my eyes but the hallucinations continued.

General de Gaulle was singing "The Star-Spangled Banner"; Nasser was making a speech for the United Jewish Appeal; General Ky was praying to Buddha.

I SAW Governor Wallace and his wife Lurleen serving dinner to Martin Luther King, and then Ralph Nader driving Henry Ford around in a Corvair.

Despite all the hallucinations I felt completely in control of myself. When Elizabeth Taylor came into my office dressed as Cleopatra I told her to leave. I also threw out Sophia Loren. LSD or no LSD, I was aware in my mind that I was a married man.

Then I started taking off my clothes.

A flying saucer landed on my head. At first I thought it was Dean Rusk. Then David Brinkley and Chet Huntley were carrying me around on their shoulders, as Walter Cronkite was explaining why I couldn't get into orbit.

The hallucinations might have gone on forever except that one of the reporters from the New York Herald Tribune came in and said: "Did you take a cube of sugar from a Senate LSD hearing?"

I giggled: "Yes, I've taken a trip."

"There was no LSD on that sugar," he said. "That sugar was for Teddy Kennedy's coffee."

I STARTED putting on my clothes, and said: "Well, you could have fooled me."

COUNTY COMMENT

Park Bond Issue Conflicts With Tax Worries, Is Poorly Timed

When you are asked to vote a bond issue like this $4.3 million, or for any amount, in all fairness and honesty, you are entitled to hear all facets involved. This is not being done.

If it were, and then the bonds passed, there could be no complaint later.

FUSSELMAN

EMOTION inducing cliches, scare phrases and the posing of loaded questions are the order of the day.

We have all seen the single column 5-inch ads, with the two pumpkin-like heads at the top, that have been appearing over the names of the co-chairmen, Peter H. Behr and Ernest N. Kettenhofen.

Here is what each has said recently: Behr, in a speech about proposed legislation to relieve the tax burden on those over 62, ". . . This little comes too late for those too many people who have had to suffer from too high taxes." Kettenhofen addressing the Marin Property Owners Assn. ". . . The current booklet of information on the bonds is a half promise to all people for all things" and that interested citizens should challenge the supervisors to show precisely what will happen if the bond issue is approved.

While I am writing this, he is scheduled to talk to a group of property owners in Fairfax, who believe taxes are way too high.

IT WILL BE interesting to know how he will explain the administrator's opening comment on this year's budget . . . "Something is wrong somewhere . . . If there is any lesson from the pyramid of local government budgets . . . of which this budget represents less than one quarter, (it is) what your board has been saying all along . . . That property taxation is reaching a prohibitive level which not only is destructive of individuals, but also . . . of many public purposes."

Let's have a look at some of the ads . . ." our $4,300,000 will get us $7,700,000 in parks and recreation". This is merely a hope not an assurance. Federal and State money has a habit of not showing up as expected . . ." It's easier to save our trees than to grow new ones. The best land for county and city parks must be preserved now." A fair question is . . . where are the forests which are threatened with extinction? . . . "Where houses go up, trees come down."

Again a fair question . . . Where? We have many fine architects who make every effort to save the trees on building sites. There is a lack of consistency in their statements.

At the board meeting on Tuesday, this: "Marin's major industry is building and developing homes, services and facilities for its fair share of diversified population."

HERE IS ANOTHER ad . . . "If water frontage is lost, where will your kids skip stones?"

Name the spots where this can be done and consider the cost per skip.

From my early teens I have been enjoying the out-doors. I have hiked through timber, fished in creeks and rivers with wonderful Indian names, fished in beautiful bays and inlets, canoed day after day on tree-lined lakes . . . every minute an adventure.

My favorite book is "My Wilderness" by William O. Douglas. I have read it many many times and have purchased copies for friends.

I have worked for and supported the acquisition of all our many recreational areas, except one and the first attempt to push the ranchers around at Point Reyes. I am not insensitive to the beauty of our county.

NEITHER am I insensitive to the tax burden we have.

Marin is not an "island in time" or in any other way. It is an integral part of California and the nation with financial obligations to all the unhappy problems. A bond issue will be part of the total load.

Consider Behr's statement of "too much taxes" and Bruce's that property taxation is reaching a prohibitive level."

It certainly appears this timing is exceedingly bad.

County Pre-School Class Plan On Agenda

The Marin County Board of Education will meet Monday to consider approval of a $250,000 plan to organize pre-school services for 250 underprivileged children on a county-wide basis.

At the 8 p.m. meeting in the county schools office, 201 Tamal Vista Boulevard, Corte Madera, the board will also be asked to approve establishment of a children's center in Novato.

The Green Mrs. Brown Explains How To Punch, Punch That Ballot

There was a chance to try out one of the new voting machines and we took it.

A BOUNCY girl greeted us at the door of the old Hagen and Smith Building in Mill Valley, now the Christopher for Governor headquarters. She said her name was Jane Brown.

Mrs. Brown took the machine, which it was our guess would be very large with bells and lights and strange looking levers on it, from a small box in the back room and placed it on a table.

She tilted up a black lamp over the machine. In all, the machine is about 16 by 13 inches and about two inches in depth. It has a wire and plug for the lamp but, since there was no plug nearby, it was just left hanging.

Mrs. Brown took a yellow sample ballot card which is about a foot long and has numbers from one to 235 on it—each number with a perforation space beside it.

She placed it in the machine.

PUT IT in like so," said Mrs. Brown, "and make sure the red things (pins) are inserted like this."

Our card number was 104636.

Mrs. Brown then demonstrated a small pencil-like punch with which you punch a hole beside each candidate or issue.

"It's really quite simple," she noted.

We tried the punch and found that it worked very easily and was a lot of fun.

"If you make a mistake," our demonstrator declared, "you take the card out and give it back to the lady and start all over again."

THIS IS a trial thing," she continued. "If it works out, it will save the taxpayers about $18,000."

"Be sure to go into the back of the book," Mrs. Brown said, "because the bond issues are in the back." We flicked the pages but couldn't find the issues readily since it was a 1964 sample booklet.

"Republicans are one color and Democrats another," Mrs. Brown related. That is, with respect to the ballot cards. We learned that ballot cards are salmon for Democrats, green for Republicans and white for non-partisans.

"It's really quite simple," Mrs. Brown continued. "If you have any write-ins, you put them on the write-in ballot."

"WE PRESUME you are for Christopher, or green," we asked.

"Obviously," smiled Mrs. Brown happily. She added that she thinks her man has a real good chance for the Republican nomination.

We advised that, in order to remain objective, we could not reveal our candidate, nor, in this case, color.

Our demonstrator explained that you put the card in yourself in the regular closed off area. "The machine is supposed to speed up the voting process," she said.

Mrs. Brown told of the people who come in off the street to see the blue machine which she borrowed from the county clerk's office.

"I had a man, very Italian, a couple of days ago," she related. "He is a new American citizen and he asked how the machine worked. He seemed very excited." We said, on leaving, thank you for the demonstration and that we found the machine very exciting, too, Mrs. Green. That is, Mrs. Brown.

IT HAS JUST been reported that there is a rabbit named Buggy Hansen who lives in Mill Valley on a balcony.

Six or seven years of age, Buggy likes to go for walks on a leash with his master, Katie Hansen. But one thing, Buggy doesn't like dogs and Buggy once suffered a heart attack.

On another harrowing occasion, when the rabbit resided on the ground in a pen, there was heard an ear-piercing scream. It was found that eight raccoons, including some babies, had crawled into the pen with Buggy, who screamed, then fainted. The family held the rabbit, petted him and when he came to, he went to live in quarters on the balcony. Buggy loves chocolate, marshmallows and children's cereals and, as a last resort, rabbit food.

YOUTH-IN-THE-NEWS CONTEST ☆

How many news stories "favorable" to young people will appear in the I-J during the month of June?

$250.00 FOR ADULT WINNERS
1st $100 Bond
2nd $ 75 Bond
3rd $ 50 Bond
4th $ 25 Bond

$250.00 FOR YOUNG PEOPLE UNDER 21
1st $100 Bond
2nd $ 75 Bond
3rd $ 50 Bond
4th $ 25 Bond

You Can Win — Enter Now!

Send in your estimate of the number of news stories "favorable" to young people (under 21 years of age) which will be published during June in the Independent-Journal. "Favorable" stories are those which report any and all activities of young people which may be considered constructive and from which no inference may be drawn that the activity or behavior reported is harmful to the young people involved or to society. (As opposed, for example, to delinquency).

Stories may cover every aspect of community life: education, cultural activities, jobs, social affairs, athletics, clubs, travel, hobbies, politics, business, careers, vacation activities, meetings, conferences, college plans, etc. Note: the Independent-Journal will report the normal run of such activities throughout the month of June.

PANEL OF CONSULTANTS TO AID

News stories will be reviewed for content and evaluation by a panel composed of:

- VIRGIL S. HOLLIS, Marin County Superintendent of Schools
- PAUL MILLER, Instructor in Journalism, College of Marin
- MRS. LILLIAN SEAVER, Lecturer in Journalism, English Dept., Dominican College
- EDWARD J. NEUMEIER, Coordinator of Public Information, Tamalpais Union High School District

Marked copies of the Independent-Journal showing the evaluation of each news story will be on public display following completion of the contest.

A FEW SIMPLE RULES

1. Contest open to everyone — all ages
2. Two prize groups for adults and young people under 21.
3. Only one entry per person allowed.
4. Use Contest Entry blank shown here.
5. Entries must be postmarked no later than midnight, Tuesday, June 21.
6. In case of ties, first postmarked entries win. Decisions of judges final.
7. I-J employees and families not eligible.

A FEW OBSERVATIONS ON THE CONTEST

The Independent-Journal and the panel of consultants recognize that evaluation of what is "favorable" or "unfavorable" in a news story constitutes an opinion. Some stories undoubtedly will appear controversial; others may lie within a neutral "gray" zone. In the main, however, the great bulk of stories fall within the familiar bounds of what society as a whole considers either favorable or unfavorable. Every attempt will be made to apply reasonable interpretations. Determinations by the panel will be final.

Johnson Girls Have Big Day In The City

NEW YORK (AP) — For the Johnson ladies in New York this was the day that was:

Luci decided on her trousseau, but wasn't telling who designed it.

Police, responding to a neighbors complaint about noise, visited a party attended by the First Lady. Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson had left by the time police got there.

Lynda's car got a parking ticket.

Much of yesterday was spent in the presidential suite of the Hotel Carlyle, where the First Lady, her daughters and three of Luci's bridesmaids looked over the creations of some of America's top designers.

Lynda, 22, was seen in two Fifth Avenue stores but didn't buy anything. She did acquire a green $15 parking ticket.

The party which wound up the day and brought the police was held at the home of Mrs. Albert Lasker on Beekman Place.

WATERWAY HOMES from $40,000

Every day of the week two more new families move to Bel Marin Keys

There's a reason because a whole new way of life is offered at Bel/Marin Keys where residents boat, water ski, deep-sea fish and swim from their own front door.

Large or small boats are equally accommodated for water is a minimum of seven feet deep at zero tide in the recently completed deep-water channel, a unique opportunity to explore boating around the Bay Area.

Almost everyone has a boat tied to his own front dock . . . a great part of the "yard" of Bel/Marin Keys . . . so boat lovers can give more time to boats than to yard maintenance.

Climate at Bel/Marin Keys is perfect for outdoor recreation the year round. Model homes feature "look-through atriums" as entrances thus providing an intimate, wind-free outdoor room.

(Independent-Journal photos by Bob Hax)

Bel Marin Homes To Be Open

Seven Bel Marin Keys homes will be featured when the Bel Marin Keys Women's Club sponsor its first home tour from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., Thursday.

A variety of interior decorations will be seen in the homes that are built on the lagoon for families all enjoying the water.

The tour will begin at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Treber, 12 Montego Key, where a map will be available of the tour. A private sunning spot by the kitchen is hidden from the front entry in this home. Early American furniture is used and the step up den features an antique lamp with colored glass shade which Mrs. Treber has used as a color base for the home.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Gilmore at 41 Montego Key has been extended from the back bedroom to the living room with a separate glass room added for their pet bird, a macaw. Tour goers will see beautiful antiques collected from all over the world at the Gilmores.

AT THE Heins Eiberger home at 84 Montego Key, Mrs. Eiberger has used many of her own ideas in painting and decorating the rooms which overlook the lagoon. A huge brown bear rug from Canada hangs in the entry hall. A sandy beach for sunning and a basketball court built by Mr. Eiberger are on the lagoon side of the home.

CUSTOM MADE Japanese furniture complements the decor in the Charles Stewart home at 304 Montego Key. The Stewarts, who lived in Japan for over two years, had the furniture made, with Mr. Stewart designing it. The dining area features a low table of cherry wood and a living room wall is completely taken up by a stereo cabinet with Oriental brass fittings that Mr. Stewart also designed and had custom made in Japan. The deck area was planned with their three daughters in mind. The Stewarts also own a Japanese class sailboat which is tied to their wharf.

FURNISHINGS in simple elegance will greet the tour goer at the Joseph Long home. The walls and drapes throughout the house in white give a feeling of openness, accented by tones of green and rush in the living room. Brighter shades in accessories are used in the bedrooms with Italian style furniture. The den, a much used room in the home, is furnished in Early American. Both the den and kitchen open onto na atrium.

Brilliant colors are used throughout the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bean at 204 Caribe Isle. Black lacquered tables and cabinets are accented with chairs in purple and orange. A planter of purple petunias is viewed through the picture windows overlooking the water. Purple and orange are also carried out in the master bedroom and crystal chandeliers are used. This home also has a kitchen carpeted with a yellow tweed rug.

THE ONLY two-story home to be shown on the tour is that of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Tombaugh of 208 Caribe Isle. The living room furniture of antique white and gold is upholstered in deep red and white, with accents of purple. The Tombaughs have a formal shaped swimming pool and their Tomboy 2, an ocean going yacht, can be seen from all windows on the lagoon side of the home.

At the end of the tour, champagne and sandwiches will be served at the Charles Dwight Jr. home at 188 Caribe Isle where Ernest Nejia will be featured in an organ recital.

Novato artist, Vicki Nichols will have her paintings on display at several of the homes. Mrs. James Studley of Novato will be in charge of table decorations and Mrs. Douglas Joslin is in charge of floral arrangements.

Mrs. Joslin, president of the women's club, is chairman of the tour and is being assisted by Mesdames Howard Bean, John Sarin, Wayne Tombaugh, Charles Stewart, Charles Dwight Jr., William Weiss and Anthony Sarganis.

Proceeds from the tour will be used to purchase furniture for the Bel Marin Keys pavilion.

MRS. DOUGLAS JOSLIN, seated, president of the Bel Marin Keys Women's Club and chairman of the lagoon home tour, is with, from left, Mrs. Anthony Sarganis and Mrs. Joseph Long as they discuss the terraced garden overlooking the lagoon. The Long home, among those on the tour, has a feeling of simple elegance.

Taylor-Stevenson Wedding Performed

THE REV. AND MRS. ANDREW TAYLOR
(The Photo Shop)

The First Methodist Church in San Rafael was the setting on Saturday for the wedding of Sally Jey Stevenson of San Anselmo and the Rev. Andrew Robert Taylor.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger B. Stevenson of San Anselmo.

The Rev. Joseph Pritchard officiated for the 2 p.m. double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white peau shantung accented with seed pearls and lace.

Preceding the bride to the altar in two tone yellow linen sheaths were her sister Janet Stevenson of San Anselmo as maid of honor, and bridesmaids, Elizabeth Taylor, the bridegroom's sister of San Anselmo, Margarite Miller of Pennington, N. J., and Joyce Arlington of Boston, Mass.

Pamela Taylor of Fairfax and Catherine Pease of San Anselmo were flower girls.

Dalton Taylor of Fairfax was best man for his brother and ushering were David Grieve of San Francisco, David Slorpe of Berkeley and the Rev. Paul Williamson of Berkeley and the Rev. Robert Roberts of Tulare.

A reception followed the ceremony at the church.

The bride was graduated from Central High School in Pennington, Madison College and the Pennsylvania Hospital School of Nursing.

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Ernest H. Taylor of San Anselmo and the late Mr. Taylor, was graduated from San Francisco State College and the Pacific School of Religion. He is assistant minister at the First Methodist Church in San Rafael. Mrs. Rodney Sheran of Mill Valley is also his sister.

Southern California was the destination of the wedding trip.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Daughter Thinks She Is Boss, Won't Work, Sleeps Mornings

DEAR HELEN:

My daughter from my first marriage is 21 and she thinks she is the boss. She won't go to work. She stays out all night, almost, sleeps all morning. She is forever in the bathroom when we want it. She won't pick up or help clean. She thinks she is it. She takes all the money we give her, yet she hates us. When I tell her I don't want her sloppiness and all her friends over here any more she gets so mad you can hear her a block away.

I raised her since she was four when her father walked out on us. This is the thanks I get. She is all for herself. What can I do? Mrs. X.

DEAR MRS. X.:

As long as you give your daughter money and put up with her laziness, she will have little incentive to change. Without intensive counseling, I doubt if you can do much about mending a rift that started years ago, so you'd better give her a time limit on getting a job, an apartment and out from underfoot. She is an adult and should act like one. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

I was interested in the letter from the girl who wanted help because she and her fiance didn't want to have an affair before marriage but couldn't help getting "carried away."

My husband and I had that same problem (doesn't everybody?) when we were engaged. We managed it by talking about it, encouraging each other not to take chances, avoiding dangerous situations as much as possible and, of course, praying for strength. I hope they can too.

I was also encouraged by her letter because of all I hear and read these days about the morals of our young people. Was so happy to know there are still some who keep their standards high. Was beginning to think there weren't any left. I just hope she's right about there being millions of others like her and that those surveys and studies are mostly exaggerated. —MRS. J. S.

DEAR MRS. J. S.:

You'd better believe those studies are exaggerated! For every survey (made among a very limited number of students) I can produce a thousand letters showing that the average young person has, if anything, higher values than the adults who condemn him.

Today's youth has less moral guidance than any generation before him, but they have firmer ideas because they're based on reasoning things out, not on blind obedience to rules. — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

The Blazer Look

As women's fashions shift eye focus to the leg, men's fashions are doing the same. The probable cause, says "Gentlemen's Quarterly," is the predominance of the blazer. Given the traditional solid color blazer, designers have been concentrating on the area below the waist, and now trousers are striped, checked, or plaid. This summer there will be houndstooth checks, blot checks, bold plaids, madras and patchwork effects. If there is no pattern, the slacks can be eye-catching white, bell-bottoms or knickers, worn for resort wear.

according to national minimum standards, the cities of Marin should own 480 acres of day-use parks . . . we only own 275.

St. Stephen's Guild Elects New Officers

St. Stephen's Guild members have elected Mrs. James W. Derryberry to succeed Mrs. John J. Wiley as guild president.

Mrs. Mark Noble was named vice president; Mrs. Philip Ehrlich, secretary, and Mrs. J. Paul Silvestri, treasurer.

Nancy Hill Derryberry was treasurer of the guild last year. She has been a member for over two years, ever since the family moved to Tiburon from San Francisco.

The mother of three young daughters, Nancy says, "I find it almost impossible to be active in more than one organization at a time." The Derryberrys also belong to the Tiburon Peninsula Club and the Belvedere-Tiburon Landmark Society.

THE NEW president is married to a real estate broker. They are parents of Anne, 7, Catie, 4, and Amy, 2.

Nancy sees the goals of St. Stephen's Guild as, "providing an organization through which women of the church may make their efforts more effective in meeting the needs of the community. Our members are directly involved in community service through their participation in the Village Salvage Shop, the Irwin Memorial Blood Bank, and in the presentation of programs and speakers of general interest. A special benefit is the opportunity our guild offers to work in cooperation with other churches on the Tiburon Peninsula."

MEMBERSHIP includes all women of St. Stephen's Episcopal Parish and other interested residents of Belvedere and Tiburon. The club activities include the annual house tour in May, and St. Stephens's Ball in the fall. Funds raised by these activities enable the guild to assist with the support of the parish day school, contribute to the church, assist a seminarian who works with the young people of the church and to contribute to worthwhile community projects. A service committee makes handmade articles for the pediatric ward at St. Luke's Hospital.

MRS. DERRYBERRY attended Chico State College for two years, studying philosophy and history. She enjoys reading, gardening and cooking. She is hoping that she will have time this summer to improve her tennis game by taking some lessons.

Mrs. C. B. Claasen was chairman of the Wednesday election luncheon; Mrs. William Myers, co-chairman; Miss Barbara Bridge, flower arrangements; Mesdames Dickson Pratt, Robert Barth, John Barnes and Eugene Vigno, committee members.

Past presidents of the guild, which was founded in 1950, were honored. Mrs. George Stephens spoke on highlights of the guild's history.

Episcopal Churchwomen Plan Program For Working Woman

A program designed with the working women in mind will be presented Monday at the Church of Our Saviour in Mill Valley at 8 p.m., sponsored by the Episcopal Churchwomen.

Dr. Muriel James, dean of the Laymen's School of Religion in Berkeley, will be the speaker. Her topic will be "Modern Women: Their Prejudices and Potentials."

Dr. James, whose home is in Orinda, was educated in San Francisco. At age 35 she decided to begin her college schooling and was awarded three degrees within the next 10 years; The bachelor of arts and doctorate in the field of adult education from the University of California and a bachelor of divinity from the Church Divinity School of the Pacific.

During this time she worked with Presbyterian and Congregational churches as director of education. She began to realize how difficult it was to attain a thorough understanding and knowledge of religion unless she went to college and pursued a career in the ministry.

Dr. James decided to fill this need by establishing an extension school for church men and women, the first of its kind. Since its founding in 1959, the Laymen's school of Religion has won worldwide acclaim.

Its classes and seminars held at various locations throughout the Bay Area have attracted 3,000 adult students representing Catholic, Protestant and Jewish faiths.

Before founding the school in Berkeley, Dr. James had a variety of other careers. She has been an interior decorator, public school teacher, member of a surveying team and personnel instructor, adult education organizer and safety engineer for a shipbuilding firm.

While one of her children was bedridden she owned and managed a direct mail advertising firm from her home which gave part-time employment to some 35 housewives.

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY

Next weekend the town of Corte Madera will be celebrating the 50th anniversary of its incorporation. Independent-Journal Historian Florence Donnelly has gone far beyond the year 1916, however, in writing the story of the Corte Madera area for tomorrow's Marin Magazine. And accompanying her history will be a portfolio of pictures from Corte Madera's colorful past. Read it — then join with Corte Maderans in their celebration.

On Sunday, hundreds of young canines will be performing in show rings at the Marist Fathers' St. Peter Chanel Seminary, San Rafael, as the Sir Francis Drake Kennel Club conducts its annual puppy match. These will be pups that have enjoyed the best of care and training. To help you give your canine youngster that same upbringing and attention, tomorrow's I-J weekend supplement features the advice of an expert on the proper care of puppies.

MARIN FILM FARE

Television Veteran Turns To Films

BY LES DARD

Here's what's to see this fine weekend around Marin area movie theaters:

A SCREEN FIRST—Don Knotts, winner of three television Emmy awards, has his first starring movie role in "The Ghost and Mr. Chicken," now at the Rafael. As a would-be ace reporter, Knott (left) gets messed up with a spooky house and its inhabitants, to the theatergoer's amusement.

RAFAEL THEATER

Now on screen is a sprightly new comedy-suspense tale aimed at the younger set: "The Ghost and Mr. Chicken."

The hapless Don Knotts, winner of a Best Supporting Actor Emmy, plays a typesetter on a smalltown newspaper who dreams of his own byline and reportorial fame. So one day he leave his inky little world and goes out trying to solve a 20-year-old double murder.

Soon enough, he finds himself at the mercy of a number of murderous ghosts and ruthless killers in a fantastic haunted house, replete with ghostly organ music, bleeding portraits and secret stairways.

Joan Staley co-stars as a lovely girl who somehow loses interest in handsome reporter Skip Homeier and takes up with the cowardly Knotts.

101 DRIVE-IN

The stylish and original new western, "Duel at Diablo," is now playing, starring James Garner, Sidney Poitier, Bibi Anderson, Dennis Weaver and Bill Travers.

The probing and sensitive story involves a white woman who has lived with the Apaches, and who returns to her husband only to be labeled a "squaw" by the town. The situation isn't new, but the poignant personal conflicts that are unleashed are admirably handled.

Acting as an over-all setting is a U.S. Army attempt to locate an Apache chief who has led some of his people off the reservation where they are caged by government order.

Photography, music and acting are excellent.

Co-featured is Bette Davis' latest effort, "The Nanny," a suspense-filled entry with most of the mystery generated by the characters.

NOVATO THEATER AND TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

In its first week at The Novato and held over in Tiburon is "A Patch of Blue," a simple, unpretentious drama that makes a statement from the heart—something rare in films these days. Basically the story is that of a blind girl, Elizabeth Hartman, who has never been to school and who is horribly mistreated by her mother, Shelley Winters (who won an Oscar for this performance). One day in a park she meets Sidney Poitier, an educated, sophisticated young man who offers her hope, inspiration and warmth. He shows her the way out of the slavery imposed by her mother.

MOTOR MOVIES

Jerry Lewis stars in "Visit to a Small Planet," now making a return visit. This is the film version of Gore Vidal's comic-serious Broadway play and is aimed a bit more at laughs than social significance.

Co-featured is another Lewis favorite, "The Bellboy." In this one, he was not only star, but writer, producer and director.

LARK THEATER

The new British influence is certainly here to stay — take for instance the glittering, irreverent drama "Darling," now in its seventh week.

Julie Christie won the Best Actress Oscar for the title role—of a girl who deserts her husband for the high-flying life. She becomes a "jet-set jade," and forms an alliance with TV commentator Dirk Bogarde. But with the fickleness of her kind, she leaves him too—seeing more opportunities in advertising executive Laurence Harvey.

She seems caught up in an alien world that moves too fast for her. In the end she is an Italian princess, destined to endure fame, boredom and neglect in what is to her, suffocating luxury.

NORTHGATE THEATER

Happily for the moviegoer, "The King and I" is holding over—with Deborah Kerr and Yul Brynner in the lead roles.

Miss Kerr plays an English schoolmarm sent for by a 19th Century king of Siam to educate his flock of children to Western ways. Most of the emotion is based on the collision of cultures experienced by these two, which slowly evolves into enduring love.

Miss Kerr is radiant as Anna, and Brynner gives just the right combination of force and bluster to the strutting king.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

Also going strong is the monumental Cecil B. De Mille masterpiece "The Ten Commandments."

This is, physically, one of the biggest shows ever produced. If you've missed scenes like the parting of the Red Sea for the Israelites and Moses' wrath on Sinai you've let yourself out of some of the movie industry's greatest triumphs. Charton Heston performs dynamically as Moses, the leader of the Chosen People, and is ably, if overwhelmingly, supported by rivers of extras.

The acknowledged king in an era of blockbusters, this extravaganza is sure to please.

FAIRFAX THEATER

Tony Curtis and Jack Lemmon star in the hilarious "The Great Race," held over.

The tale is set in 1910 and the focus is on a grudge race—by car—from New York to Paris. Tony Curtis plays the pure lad of moral fortitude, who dresses in white, who has to contend with black-hearted, black-cloaked Lemmon, the most nefarious scoundrel who ever commandeered four wheels—complete with cannon, smoke bombs and hydraulic lift.

SEQUOIA THEATER

Still holding forth is the meaningful human comedy "A Thousand Clowns," which stars Jason Robards as a man in search of his individuality.

He plays a TV gag writer who resigns from gainful employment in order to find an exit from our conformist society. On his way out, he took along his twelve-year-old nephew, and here's where the trouble starts.

When a pair of social workers drop by to check on the child's living conditions, they are shocked by Robards' unconventionality. He is told he must either conform (get a job) or lose the boy. Now he must choose between his principles and the child.

There's a bit of light romance on the side when one of the social workers, Barbara Harris, falls in love with Robards and his way of life. Martin Balsam won an Oscar for his portrayal of Robard's brother—a man who has sacrificed his principles, and knows it.

Red Cross Club To Stage Show

"Red Cross Capers," a variety show, will be presented by the Redwood High School Red Cross Club at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the school's little theater.

Featured performer will be guitarist Phil deFremery, 20, of Ross, a Redwood graduate, who has studied under Oscar Ghiglia and Andre Segovia. He is now a student at the San Francisco Conservatory of Music.

Other acts will include comedy skits, singers and square dancing. The program will raise funds in place of the club's annual enrollment drive which pays for youth scholarships and other projects.

Sausalito Art Show To Use Light, Sound

An unusual art show featuring motion and sound, the "Cosmic Eye," opens Wednesday at the Horizon Gallery, 759 Bridgeway, Sausalito.

Eve Von Neumann's Paintings On Display

Oil paintings and acrylics by Eve von Neumann of San Anselmo are being exhibited at Les Girls Boutique, 1299 Fourth Street, San Rafael, during June.

The show, "Summer '66," features brilliant colored paintings slected to illustrate the trend of summer fashions.

Skip Melcher Shows

Paintings and drawings by Skip Melcher, Stinson Beach artist, are on display at the Tides Book Shop, 749 Bridgeway, Sausalito daily through July and at the Steam Beer Brewery, 541 Eighth Street, San Francisco, through June. The latter show may be seen from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, the former 10 a.m. to 11 p.m.

Rodef Sholom Club Set To Stage 'Petaluma'

A musical comedy titled "Petaluma" with Broadway overtones will be presented by the Men's Club of Temple Rodef Sholom at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow at the temple social hall, 170 North San Pedro Road, Santa Venetia.

The musical, written by George Goldman, will contain most of the elements of the classic melodrama, including the villain who wants to foreclose the mortgage on the old homestead and a virtuous hero who foils the villain when all seems lost. A chicken-plucking contest will be thrown in for good measure.

Kenneth M. Levy of San Rafael is director. Lead roles will be played by Fred Mayer, Joseph Dienstag, Jackie Calder, Alice Calder and Sylvia Greenberg. Another 13 members of the congregation wil play lesser roles.

Proceeds from the production will go to the congregation's religious school building fund.

Seeger To Sing On Mountain

Folksinger and banjoist Pete Seeger will be presented in an outdoor concert at the Mountain Theater on Mount Tamalpais tomorrow at 2 p.m.

Appearing also on the program will be Julian Bond, one of the first Negroes since Reconstruction to be elected to the Georgia House of Representatives. Although elected, he was denied his seat in the legislature because of his criticism of U.S. foreign policy.

The program will benefit the Drath for Congress campaign.

Hotel Tax Aids Concert Series

A $4,000 grant from San Francisco's hotel room tax will enable Vincenzo Giannini of Tiburon, conductor and musical director of the Giannini Polyphonic Chorale, to present a 1966-67 series of concerts.

The first will be July 9 at the Veterans Memorial Auditorium in San Francisco.

Giannini said Marin sponsors of the chorale are also being sought, since the grant will not cover expenses for the series.

Public Art Show Planned In Garden

A public art show will be held from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday in the garden of Mrs. Martha Sullivan at 575 Arthur Street, Novato, sponsored by the Novato Art Guild.

The show is an exhibition of juried work by members of the guild. A popular vote award has been donated by the Torrance Gallery.

Painting Class

Katharane B. Johnson of 25 Ancha Vista Avenue, San Anselmo, will start a class in painting Monday at 7 p.m. at the Art Center Store, 1327 Fourth Street, San Rafael. Mrs. Johnson has been teaching painting in Novato for the past 18 months.

Death Verdict Upheld By Court

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The California Supreme Court upheld today the death penalty for the son of a prominent Oxnard businessman.

Dorman Fred Talbot Jr., 26, was sentenced to death July 6 in the murder of Michael D. Bartholomew, 20, a Navy man who still had his discharge money in his pocket.

Talbot was accused of killing Bartholomew to get $283 from the sailor to finance his wedding.

Hearings On Dodd To Start June 20

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Ethics Committee will start hearings June 20 into charges about the relationship of Sen. Thomas J. Dodd to Julius Klein, a Chicago public relations man.

Sens. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., and Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, chairman and vice chairman of the bipartisan committee, said in a statement late yesterday that "the initial hearings will be conducted in executive session, to be followed by open hearings."

Don Chandler of the Green Bay Packers booted a punt that traveled 90 yards against the San Francisco Forty-Niners in 1965.

Youth Arrested After Scuffle With Deputy

A Marin City youth was arrested last night in a scuffle in which a sheriff's deputy suffered a bruised elbow.

Arrested about 11 p.m. and booked in county jail on charges disturbing the peace and for resisting arrest was Carl Ejane Johnson, 19, of 69 Cole Drive. He remained in jail at noon today in lieu of $550 bail.

Deputies Carl Wiese and Gary Bartolotti said they found Johnson blocking traffic in his car in the 300 block of Drake Avenue.

When the officers admonished Johnson, he replied in loud, obscene language, they reported.

A scuffle followed in which he was wrestled to the ground and handcuffed. Johnson suffered a minor bruise of the forehead, officers said, and Deputy Wiese later went to Marin General Hospital for an X-ray of his left elbow.

A second youth, 16 years old, released only yesterday from Marin County Juvenile Hall where he faces a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, was arrested last night in the 400 block of Drake Avenue on a charge of curfew violation. He was returned to juvenile hall. The youth had been arrested Monday night for allegedly hurling a bottle at a sheriff's car during a chase at Alto, where a service station attendant was assaulted.

Philippine Senate Votes Viet Troops

MANILA (AP) — The Philippine Senate voted by a 15-8 margin today to send 2,000 troops to Viet Nam.

The way is now clear for President Ferdinand Marcos to dispatch the troops as soon as they are ready to go.

The detachment will consist of 1,000 engineers and 1,000 security troops.

Teachers Striking More Schools

DETROIT (AP)—Teachers in a fifth suburban Detroit school district struck today and those in a sixth scheduled a walkout for Monday. More money in new contracts is the teachers' goal.

In addition, 55 schools in Flint remained shut a second day as teachers there continued a demonstration for higher pay.

Judge Orders Mental Checkup

Jerry Marvin Sager, 31, of 7350 Redwood Highway, Apt. 5, Novato, was committed today to a 90-day observation period at the medical reception center of the California Medical Facility, Vacaville.

Judge Lincoln F. Mahan of Sonoma County Superior Court in Santa Rosa ordered Sager to report next Friday so he could be taken to Vacaville.

Sager pleaded guilty May 16 to a charge of second degree burglary of a Petaluma gas station.

He will not be sentenced until after Judge Mahan receives a report at the end of the observation period.

Johnson Girls Get Good Grades

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's two daughters came through their college exams with flying colors and Lynda, 22, will graduate tomorrow with honors.

Lynda ends her college career at the University of Texas cum laude, with special praise for her record of achievement.

Luci, 18, got a B average for her first year in Georgetown University's School of Nursing.

Most of the grades were in today at the University of Texas in Austin and it was learned here Lynda got an A in Latin, A-plus in classical civilization, and A in Byzantine history. Her mark in chemistry was still being determined, but it was evident she was having no real trouble there.

A MAN'S HOME IS HIS CASTLE!

BUT NOT IN CALIFORNIA ANYMORE WHERE A FIVE MAN VOTE COULD STRIKE DOWN THE VOTES OF MORE THAN 4½ MILLION PEOPLE WHO VOTED YES ON PROPOSITION 14!

What the MAGNA CHARTA and our Federal Constitution established; What 4,525,460 California Citizens voted overwhelmingly to become a very definite part of our California State Constitution (PROPOSITION 14) has been overthrown by the State Supreme Court in a ridiculous attempt to declare our State Constitution—UNCONSTITUTIONAL!

PROPOSITION 14 must be and shall be retained as an integral part of our State Constitution to abolish FORCE in Housing!

"THE LAW OF CONTRACT"

It is a basic Law of our Nation that a Contract is no good unless ALL parties AGREE VOLUNTARILY! A Contract that compels one Person to sign against his WILL to the private advantage of another is not a Contract at all! It is a DICTATORIAL DECREE!

THE RUMFORD FORCED HOUSING LAW was a NAZI-type, COMMIE-type Law because it was just such a COERCIVE EDICT! It destroyed the freedom of choice for ALL AMERICANS—OF ALL RACES!

The issue is LIBERTY not Housing!

Therefore we are left with no other alternative except to resort to the RECALL PROCEDURE which is right now being set in motion by the People of California through the CALIFORNIA RECALL COMMITTEE, Incorporated—to REMOVE from office those five Supreme Court Justices who recently flagrantly attempted to thwart the WILL of the People by declaring PROPOSITION 14 to be UNCONSTITUTIONAL!

YES, those five Judges and all other elective public officers must be made to realize and given to understand that as SERVANTS of the People (not Lords and Masters) but as SERVANTS they are ANSWERABLE to the People, and that WE, the People, will no longer tolerate USURPATION of the INHERENT POWER and VESTED RIGHTS of the People, and that their recent attempt to do so is going to cost them their jobs!

That OURS is a Government (not of five old men whom we suspect of trying to be God) but OURS is a Government OF THE PEOPLE, BY THE PEOPLE, FOR THE PEOPLE!

Why did not those five Justices first of all interest themselves in upholding the Sovereignty and the rights of the People of California—leaving the interpretation of the U.S. Constitution to the U.S. Supreme Court Justices!

Contributions to defray cost of this Ad—prepare future Ads and realize the expense of the RECALL MOVEMENT are needed!

Make all checks and money orders payable to—CALIFORNIA RECALL COMMITTEE, INC., P.O. Box 1366, Richmond, California 94802

- one hundred thirty eight magnificent acres filled with riding and walking trails, wild life and botanical treasures, all for the exclusive use of Wild Horse Valley residents, their guests and club members—
- financing plans to make it possible for 97 families to live in a manner they could only have dreamed of before—
- assurance by deed restriction that this last frontier will forever be held in its present state—as a private park—for the exclusive use of residents and club members.

With land costs rising to astronomical figures—with land development costs reaching impossible highs, it seems very likely that Wild Horse Valley will be not only the first, but the last such development possible in Marin County.

QUAIL HILL BLACKENED—Students and teachers at Terra Linda High School watched firemen battle a grass fire behind the school yesterday noon. About 20 acres were burned in the fire, first of a series county fire officials believed were set. (Independent-Journal photo)

Rash Of Set Blazes Spot Marin; Winds Hamper Firemen's Efforts

Central and northern Marin were hit by a series of grass fired yesterday, most of which fire officials said were set on purpose.

Fire crews said the situation was particularly dangerous because the county was simultaneously hit by unusually heavy winds. However, no blaze did serious damage.

Largest and most spectacular of the fires was the first, on Quail Hill near Terra Linda High School. San Rafael and Marin County fire trucks responded to the 20-acre blaze at 12:15 p.m.

The fire was confined to the side and top of the hill, burning grass and several oak trees. One hollow tree had to be cut down. Smoke drifted over Pureto Suello Hill, bringing a call from the Glenwood area.

At about the same time the call came for county fire units to help at Quail Hill, a fire broke out on the C. Morrelli ranch on the Point Reyes-Petaluma Road, west of Novato.

Here the wind was especially strong, according to firemen. The blaze burned five acres on the Morrelli property and about 500 square feet of the adjacent Maac Brothers ranch.

Four county units were joined by one from the San Antonio Volunteer Fire Department in Sonoma County and one from the State Division of Forestry.

At 2:13 p.m., a pair of fires were reported on Lucas Valley Road. One on the Manuel Gonzalves ranch, on the west side of Big Rock Hill, burned five acres of pastureland. The other burned about an acre on the Cirilo Gonzales ranch one mile to the west.

Five county units were joined by the Nicasio Volunteer Fire Department truck on the Gonzales blaze.

The county fire department today reported the sheriff's office had been asked to investigate the Lucas Valley fires and that near Novato because of evidence they were deliberately set.

The one fire where the cause was definitely known was reported at 2:05 p.m., when a welder's cutting torch, used to cut steel rails, ignited grass at McNear's Point. A half-acre of grass burned.

Hamilton Planes Jolt Bay, But No Booms Over Marin

Sonic booms from an Air Force drill rattled windows, set off burglar alarms and frightened citizens from Sacramento to the Bay Area this morning, but Marin County, location of headquarters for the drill, was spared the shock-sending sounds.

Officials at Hamilton Air Force Base, headquarters for the Western North American Air Defense Command, warned yesterday that the exercise was scheduled and booms could be expected.

But Hamilton officials said today that they received only three calls, all from news media. There was no report of a sonic boom in Marin County.

Most of the noise around Northern California came at 3:40 a.m., when fighter planes "intercepted" supersonic B-58 bombers posing as enemy raiders.

In Richmond, police radio was temporarily knocked out. Oakland police received 260 calls from startled residents, and the Contra Costa County sheriff's office at Martinez received more than 200. Police said some of the callers thought the rattling of the windows was caused by burglars trying to enter their homes.

Burglar alarms were set off in Sacramento.

The automatic doors of a fire station in Piedmont were opened by the shock.

San Francisco residents called police to ask if there was another earthquake.

Many Polling Locations Changed

Many citizens will be traveling farther afield Tuesday to cast their votes in the primary elections.

Polling places in many precincts have been changed, and voters, used to going to certain locations at election time, will find the doors closed to them.

John Musser, assistant county celrk for elections, said today his office has had to relocate polling places for several reasons, among them the fact offers of halls have been withdrawn at the last moment.

City Councilman Fred E. Jensen of 246 Center Street, San Rafael, complained to Musser today that he would have to vote at 19 Ridgewood Avenue when Sun Valley School was much nearer.

Musser replied that precinct lines for the election were drawn arbitrarily. "Anyone who, in the past, has gone to a place on their block may now find he has to travel to a hall located more conveniently for everyone in that precinct," he said.

Organization was bound by the limitations of certain locations being available on the day, he added.

MARIN FIRE CALLS

YESTERDAY:

12:15 p.m., San Rafael—Grass fire on Quail Hill, behind Terra Linda High School, burned 20 acres of grass and trees; believed caused by teen-agers with matches; no loss; County Fire Department also responded.

12:25 p.m., Olompoli — Grass fire at Red Hill and Point Reyes-Petaluma roads burned five acres on land of the C. Morrelli ranch and 500 square feet on Maac Bros ranch; believed intentionally set.

12:35 p.m., San Rafael—Smoke check in Glenwood area, found to be smoke drifting from Quail Hill fire.

2:05 p.m., McNear's Point—Fire burned a half acre of grass; caused by welding torch used to cut rails.

2:13 p.m., Lucas Valley—Two simultaneous grass fires, one five acres on Manuel Gonzalves ranch, west side of Big Rock Hill, other one mile west on Cirilo Gonzales ranch, one acre; both believed intentionally set.

3:30 p.m., Kentfield — Water faucet broken in garden at home of Raymond E. Dix, 299 Crown Road, started to flood house; water turned off.

3:40 p.m., San Rafael—Fire destroyed children's playhouse made of scrap lumber behind L. C. Smith Co. yard at 124 Belvedere Street; caused by children with matches.

Eastern Professors Against Draft Rules

WATERVILLE, Maine (AP) — The faculty of Colby College has placed itself on record as disapproving the use of class standing, grades or other academic ranking in determining Selective Service classification.

The results of a faculty vote were sent to Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of the Selective Service System.

Tankersley New Novato Chamber Chief

Ross Tankersley, newly elected president of the Novato Chamber of Commerce, yesterday announced his committee chairmen at a board meeting at Nave Lanes.

Committees and their chairmen named are: airport, Richard Nave; economic development, F. James Picchi; education, Mrs. Jean Anderson; legislative, John Trumbull; membership and retention, Leo Wasset; military affairs, Richard Nave; publicity, William Siler; retail trade bureau, Harold McAfee, and streets and highways, Peter Ferrarese.

New chamber officers will be installed at a dinner at the Marin Country Club June 11.

The board agreed the chamber would handle reservations for the Little League divisional tournament starting Aug. 12, for which 250 motel or hotel rooms in the county will be needed.

The board agreed the chamber needs $200 for the July 4 fireworks at Bel Marin Keys, the board was told.

Checks Linked To Missing Man

A Novato handy man, reported missing Monday, today was being sought also for questioning regarding missing checks.

Jack O'Loughlin, 53, who was reported Monday as missing since May 23, had been taking care of the Bert Weible home at 366 Midway Boulevard, Novato, while the Weibles were on vacation.

Yesterday, Weible reported to Novato police that some checks which had been mailed to him while on vacation had not arrived. Police found one of them had been cashed at a Corte Madera service station, with Weible's name endorsed on it.

Greeks Find Bones

ATHENS, (AP) — The lower jaw, teeth and part of the bones of a fossilized hippopotamus have been found in a linnite mine at Kymi on the island of Euboea. Prof. J. Melendis, archaeology lecturer at Athens University, said the hippopotamus belonged to a species which existed in Europe 25 million years ago.

Tomales High Bids Exceed Bond Funds

Lowest bid for rehabilitation of Tomales High School buildings last night was nearly $70,000 above the bond funds available for the project.

Page Construction Co. of Novato, with a base bid of $244,500, was lowest of three bidders on bringing the classroom and auditorium wings of the old structure up to state standards. The bond issue approved by district voters in 1964 provided $175,000 for the project.

Page's bid was $167,900 for the classroom wing and $83,100 for the auditorium, reported Supt. Anthony Matulich.

Arntz Brothers Construction Co. of San Francisco bid $247,952, and Rapp Construction Co. of Santa Rosa, $268,000.

The board asked George Quesada, architect for the project, to consult the county counsel on what could be done legally in view of the bids' so far exceeding the available bond funds. It set a special meeting June 9 for his report.

Junior College Gives Draft Status Exams

Twenty-two students took the achievement test for draft deferment at the College of Marin this morning.

Thirty-five students had signed up for the test.

Wild-Party House Already Set For Razing By Owners

There is little liklihood that the $20,000 damage inflicted on a Kentfield house by college students last month will be repaired, since the owners had decided to tear it down before the students' wild party ever began.

Marin County Zoning Administrator Thomes E. Cordill issued a use permit April 14 to Eugene P. Aureguy of Mill Valley and Harold G. MacKenzie of Novato to build and operate a two-story physical therapy facility on the site.

Plans submitted to Cordill showed that the house at 1129 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard would have to be demolished to make way for the new building.

Meanwhile, there was no new word today on the efforts of the Marin County sheriff's office to find any of the 30 or so youths who wrecked the house.

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos said his investigators were thwarted by the fact that they were not given the names of the three students to whom MacKenzie rented the house.

MacKenzie said yesterday that he knows the names but refused to give them to the sheriff's office. He said he advised deputies to learn the names by checking records of the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. and Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. to see who had paid deposits for their services.

The telephone, however, was not listed under anyone's name. It was listed in the Marin County directory as "Kappa Phi Fraternity."

Fraternities are not recognized on the College of Marin campus.

Neighbors of the now-vacant house said the destruction of its interior took place all through April and May, with its climax during a wild May 5 party.

A fire broke out April 22, after the youths had thrown a boisterous birthday party for one of their group and had gone out, leaving the house empty. It started in a living room sofa, broke a front window and did smoke damage in much of the house. Damage was estimated by Kentfield firemen at $700.

Kentfield Fire Marshal Rolf K. Stahlbaum said he reported the fire to MacKenzie that night and was told, "Don't worry about it. We're going to tear the place down anyway."

A neighbor said one youth told her MacKenzie had given him permission to throw darts at the walls, but insisted the damage must end there. The youths went far beyond that before they got through.

Suitcases Loss Is Reported

Loss of three suitcases of clothing in burglary of a car parked in Alto was reported today by sheriff's officers.

Deputies said E. B. Gladstone, San Francisco, reported his vehicle's locked trunk was opened and the items removed while he was in a restaurant. No forced entry was evident, however.

Someone broke into the cab of a large dirt-loader owned by Edward K. Bacon Co. of San Francisco, parked near San Antonio Creek near the Sonoma County line, and removed the front seat and four batteries.

Golf Course Purchase Not Bond Vote Item

The proposed sale of tax-free bonds by a non-profit corporation to put the San Geronimo Valley golf course in public hands has no connection whatever with the $4.3 million general obligation proposal for parks that will be decided by voters Tuesday.

County Supervisor Peter H. Behr, co-chairman of the bond campaign, said that there appears to be considerable confusion over the golf course proposal. Tthat proposal can be accomplished by action of the board of supervisors without any need for popular vote.

For Your Information:

THE MARIN COUNTY REAL ESTATE BOARD has revised its By-Laws in accordance with the following directive from the NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF REAL ESTATE BOARDS:

"A board rule prohibiting the posting of 'FOR SALE' or other similar signs on property for which the member is agent is an inequitable limitation on its membership."

Henceforth, members of the MARIN COUNTY REAL ESTATE BOARD will be governed by local ordinances and existing rules and regulations as established by the MARIN COUNTY REAL ESTATE BOARD pertaining to the displaying of signs.

Prior to May 10, 1966, your MARIN COUNTY REAL ESTATE BOARD has, by self-determination, severely restricted the use of signs since 1938.

DO YOU FIT?

Do you fit into one of the following groups . . .

1. FAMILY SHRUNK. Children gone and you rattle around in a house that's much too big? Move into a modern, inexpensive townhouse.

2. FED UP with pulling weeds? In Townhouse living your chores are behind you. Friendly neighbors share the costs of gardening and pool.

3. TAXES KILLING YOU? Uncle Sam gives renters no tax break. As a Townhouse owner you have substantial tax advantages.

Then a 2 or 3-Bedroom
HARBOR VILLAGE

NOTICE OF SALE OF PROPERTY DELINQUENT FOR NON-PAYMENT OF ASSESSMENT BOND NO. 3 SERIES 6058 MARINERO IMPROVEMENT DISTRICT, ISSUED FOR IMPROVEMENTS IN MARIN COUNTY

State of California, default having been made in the payment of the following named coupons, 1-2-66, Pr. $650.74; 7-2-65, Int. $78.09; 1-2-66, Int. $78.09; and the holder of said bond having demanded in writing that the County Treasurer of the County of Marin, State of California, proceed to advertise and sell the lot or parcel of land mentioned in said bond. Now, therefore, I give notice that I will on the 10th day of June, 1966, at the hour of 10:00 o'clock A.M. of said day, sell at public auction, the lot or parcel of land mentioned in said bond, or so much thereof as may be necessary, at my office in the Marin County Civic Center at San Rafael, California, unless the amount due on said bond and the accrued interest thereon together with the cost of publication of this notice, are paid, and that I will so sell the same to the person who will take the least amount of said lot or parcel of land and pay the full amount of unpaid principal and interest on said bond together with the cost of publication. The lot or parcel of land mentioned in said bond and to be sold, is more particularly described, to-wit: Lot No. 3, as shown on that certain map entitled "Map of Red Hill Unit No. 1", filed in the office of the Recorder of Marin County, State of California, September 4, 1959, in Book 10 of Maps at page 37. The amount due on said bond up to the date of this notice is as follows: Due on the principal thereof $650.74; due on account of interest $156.18; due on account of penalties $49.49; Total amount due on said bond $856.41.

In order to avoid this sale, payment of the total amount above named will be required, together with the cost of publication made before such payment and the additional interest accruing up to the date of payment. Bond may be reinstated upon payment of amounts due, interest, penalties, and fees, in the manner provided by law.

In the event of sale, such sale will include interest in addition to the above total amount due, accruing up to the date of sale, the cost of publication of notice of sale, and $1.00 for the issuance of certificate of sale.

The Independent-Journal is designated as the newspaper in which this notice shall be published.

Dated: May 27, 1966.

PROJECT NO. 003
SOUTH SAN PEDRO ROAD
4 LANE WIDENING
MARIN COUNTY DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS
SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA
NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed Proposals will be received by the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, State of California, until 10:00 A.M. June 13, 1966, for:

Joint Project No. 1 - South San Pedro Road 4 lane widening - Embarcadero Way to Montecito Road - Length 0.66 miles. This project consists of reconstruction of the roadway including earthwork, retaining walls, drainage structures, curb and gutter, sidewalks, lime treated subbase, cement treated base course and miscellaneous appurtenant items.

The work shall be done in accordance with official plans and specifications prepared in reference thereto which may be seen at the office of the Department of Public Works, County of Marin. Request for forms or information shall be addressed to the Department of Public Works, County of Marin, Civic Center, San Rafael, California.

Plans, Specifications (but not including Standard Specifications or other documents included by reference), and Proposal Forms may be obtained by prospective bidders upon payment of a deposit of Ten Dollars ($10.00) (cash or check made payable to the Department of Public Works, County of Marin) to guarantee safe return of the plans and specifications within ten (10) days after bid opening. Failure to so return the plans and specifications will cause forfeiture of the deposit to the County.

All bids must be submitted on the Proposal form obtained from the Director of Public Works and shall be accompanied by a Proposal Guaranty of at least ten percent (10%) of the bid. Guaranties shall be in the form of a certified or Cashier's Check or a Bidder's Bond. Failure of the successful bidder to execute and return the contract, or to file acceptable bond, as required, within the time allotted shall be cause for the annulment of the award and the forfeiture of the Proposal Guaranty. All guaranties not so retained by the County shall be returned to the bidders within fifteen (15) days after the award of the contract.

Proposal shall be filed with George H. Gnoss, Clerk of the Board of Supervisors, Civic Center, San Rafael, California.

Said Proposals will be opened and read at 10:00 A.M., in Room 400, Marin County Civic Center, on the day specified above for receiving bids. Only the total amount bid will be read and not specific items going to make up said total unless written request for reading of each sub-total and individual items of the bid is requested in writing at the time of the submission of proposals. Bidders will be at liberty to inspect and review bids in the Office of the Director of Public Works to which they will be removed for the purpose of checking after the opening and reading of the totals.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors will award the bid at 4:00 P.M. June 14, 1966, or as soon thereafter as the matter may be heard.

Bids are required for the entire work described herein, and neither partial bids nor contingent bids will be considered.

The Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

State of California, default having been made in the payment of the following named coupons, 1-2-66, Pr. $433.82; 7-2-65, Int. $52.06; 1-2-66, Int. $52.06; and the holder of said bond having demanded in writing that the County Treasurer of the County of Marin, State of California, proceed to advertise and sell the lot or parcel of land mentioned in said bond, Now, therefore, I give notice that I will on the 10th day of June, 1966, at the hour of 10:00 o'clock A.M. of said day, sell at public auction, the lot or parcel of land mentioned in said bond, or so much thereof as may be necessary, at my office in the Marin County Civic Center at San Rafael, California, unless the amount due on said bond and the accrued interest thereon together with the cost of publication of this notice, are paid, and that I will so sell the same to the person who will take the least amount of said lot or parcel of land and pay the full amount of unpaid principal and interest on said bond together with the cost of publication. The lot or parcel of land mentioned in said bond and to be sold, is more particularly described, to-wit: Lot No. 4, as shown on that certain map entitled "Map of Red Hill Unit No. 1", filed in the office of the Recorder of Marin County, State of California, September 4, 1959, in Book 10 of Maps at page 37. The amount due on said bond up to the date of this notice is as follows: Due on the principal thereof $650.74, due on account of interest $156.18; due on account of penalties $49.49; Total amount due on said bond $856.41.

In order to avoid this sale, payment of the total amount above named will be required, together with the cost of publication made before such payment and the additional interest accruing up to the date of payment. Bond may be reinstated upon payment of amounts due, interest, penalties and fees, in the manner provided by law.

In the event of sale, such sale will include interest in addition to the above total amount due, accruing up to the date of sale, the cost of publication of notice of sale, and $1.00 for the issuance of certificate of sale.

The Independent-Journal is designated as the newspaper in which this notice shall be published.

Sanitary Board Orders Plans Set

The San Rafael Sanitation District Board yesterday agreed that one of its major capital improvements projects during fiscal 1967 should be construction of aeration tanks and sludge de-watering facilities at the main sewage plant.

Members told consulting engineer John Jenks to prepare plans and specifications for the work, considered the final stage of improvement at the plant, and agreed to call for bids once the plans are finished. Contract probably will be awarded in the fall or spring, with hopes of starting work in the spring.

Jenks estimated cost of the work at $160,000.

Board members also passed a resolution to apply for annexation of three lots at the end of Oakmont Drive, all owned by Charles M. Grandi.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Young Adolescents Need Adequate Sex Education To Bring Maturity

VAN DELLEN

There is more to adolescence than pimples and rapid growth. External changes are taken for granted but what is happening inside is more important.

It is little wonder that the statement, "You wouldn't understand," is characteristic of adolescence. Many lads appear dreamy, frustrated, lonely, or secretive.

There are numerous reasons why they have emotional problems. One of the most important is the sex drive which is acquired earlier in boys than girls.

THE MAJORITY of young lads have not developed the emotional maturity to cope with the situation and therefore need guidance and assistance; they are adults sexually, but children mentally.

Sex is emphasized in books, movies, and television, and creates nothing but tension for the 14-year-old. It is unfortunate because the adolescent is the man of the future. His behavior at this time may set the pattern for his future conduct. This early sex drive is the real McCoy and in this respect we have a man in boy's clothing.

Nature has taken this into account by making other fields more attractive. Athletics, for example, may provide the goal for the moment; the desire to develop a good physique, and to become healthy and strong.

BOYS OF THIS age also have feelings of inferiority, particularly toward girls of their own age. Sex is an embarrassing subject and often leads to a sense of guilt. This attitude aids in curbing the instinct but is far from ideal because it delays emotional maturity.

Knowing the facts can help young men to make their own adjustments. Counseling should be done by those who have the ability and the knowledge to do the job properly.

In the past, this task frequently was left to some old bachelor with warped ideas on sex. Meanwhile, parents must do everything to cooperate by discussing the subject honestly and with a sense of modesty whenever questions are asked. In this way the child learns to accept sex in a wholesome and natural way.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

STORING VITAMINS

E. L. writes: We keep our vitamins in the refrigerator to keep them from sticking together. Someone suggested that this will kill or weaken the potency of the vitamins. Is this true?

REPLY

Vitamins should be kept in a cool dry environment. The refrigerator is an excellent place provided the bottle is capped and contains cotton.

COFFEE STIMULATING?

T. L. writes: I drink only instant coffee. I've been told that this is not healthy. Can it cause some ill effect?

REPLY

Too much coffee, regular or instant, may overstimulate the nervous and vascular system. Instant coffee is a dehydrated product. The ingredients remain even though the water has been removed.

PRESSURE AND KIDNEYS

R. N. writes: Does high blood pressure cause inflammation of the kidneys?

REPLY

No, but when hypertension has existed over a period of years the blood vessels of the kidneys become hardened, interfering with the function of these organs.

SUGAR AFTER EATING

L. A. R. writes: Does a healthy person show sugar in the urine after a heavy meal or sweets?

REPLY

Yes, and this explains why specimens are collected before meals or several hours after eating.

Today's Health Hint — Proper humidity aids nose and throat discomfort.

Youth Didn't Kill Mountain Man

WAYNESBORO, Pa. (UPI) — A pathologist's report released yesterday settled the question of who killed William D. Hollenbaugh, the man who kidnaped Peggy Ann Bradnick and held her captive for seven days.

Dr. W. E. B. Hall, pathologist at Waynesboro Hospital, said his findings definitely prove the fatal shot was fired by the pistol of state police officer Grant Mixell.

The report ruled out the possibility that Hollenbaugh was gunned down by Larry Rubeck, a 15-year-old farm boy who thought he killed Peggy's abductor with his shotgun.

Club Announces Scholarships

The Marin Civic Center Lions Club announced today that $300 scholarships have been given to two Terra Linda High School students.

The two are Gloria Marcela Lewin, daughter of Mrs. Connie Lewin of 100 LeBrea Way, Santa Venetia, and Neil J. Makela, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Makela of 1201 Vallejo Avenue, Novato.

The club is also donating $100 to the International Student Exchange fund. Funds for the scholarships will be raised at a doughnut sale June 11 at Hunt's Donut Shop in the Northgate Shopping Center.

Three Hungarians Get Prison As U.S. Spies

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) —A military ourt sentenced a young lawyer, his father and a retired schoolteacher to long prison terms today on charges of spying for the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency. It also ordered all their property confiscated.

The lawyer, Dr. Lehel Egedy, 27, was sentenced to 15 years. His father, Dr. Elemer Egedy, 64, an associate professor in medicine, 10 years, and Laszlo Asboth, 63, got 14 years.

Mozart wrote a concerto for the bassoon.

Beautification Takes A Beating

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Army Stanley R. Resor, Assistant Secretary of Defense Thomas Morris and three generals took turns digging holes in a Pentagon flower bed while in the background, a blue-clad Army band played "America the Beautiful" in soft soothing tones.

The Pentagon officials were planting gladioli bulbs in the name of Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson's campaign to beautify Washington.

But the "Pentagon Beautification Program," as it was described, received a quick setback. Two Army photographers trampled on the flower bed in their eagerness to take a picture of the event.

The ancient Mesopotamian civilization has given civilized man such things as the wheel, the true arch, razors, frying pans, harps and astrological charts.

POLITICAL BRIEFS

Storer Committee To Sponsor Buffet

The Tom Storer for Congress Committee will sponsor a family buffet fiesta for candidate Storer at the San Rafael Elks Club Sunday from 1 to 7 p.m.

Supervisor Storer seeks the Democratic nomination for Congress in the First District.

The fiesta will feature a Dixieland band, baroque music, swimming, and a buffet dinner. An admission fee will be charged.

FOR WILLIAMS

E. Warren McGuire, Marin chairman of the Spencer Williams for Attorney General Committee, announced appointment of Barbara Stidham of Terra Linda as women's chairman for Williams.

YORTY RAPPED

Marin Democratic Central Committee this week passed a resolution to "join the Los Angeles County Democratic Central Committee in condemning Samuel Yorty's revival of Communist smear tactics against Governor Brown, and his unfounded attacks on the California Supreme Court."

The resolution also urged Democratic voters of Marin "to seriously consider Samuel Yorty's violation of the tradition of responsibility in campaigning which we uphold" and to take this into account when they vote next Tuesday.

Watts Hospital Bonds Favored

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A $12.3 million bond issue proposal on the June 7 ballot to build a hospital in Watts has been endorsed by state officials as an aid to health and patients' pocketbooks.

Dr. Lester Breslow, state health director, and Paul Ward, state health and welfare administrator, said yesterday the facilities provided for by Proposition A are necessary to raise the low standard of medical care in southeast Los Angeles.

Ward said the area, largely Negro, has one-third as many doctors as the rest of the county and one-sixth the needed number of hospital beds.

The Goettingen Library, founded in Hanover, Germany, in 1734, was the first library where books were used and not merely stored.

W. R. Hearst Jr. Backs Viet Policy

McCLOUD (AP)—The Hearst Newspapers' editor in chief backed President Johnson's Viet Nam policy today, saying the United States has no other choice.

William Randolph Hearst Jr., spoke in remarks prepared for the dedication of a $160 million hydroelectric project.

Hearst said this nation has shown it respects the responsibility of power by spending $100 billion on foreign aid and military assistance.

"We covet not lands," he said. "We seek the wealth of no other people. We seek only peace and freedom for all the world . . ."

Ruby's Counsel Fights Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP) — An attorney for Jack Ruby has asked the Supreme Court for a stay of a sanity hearing scheduled June 13 in Dallas, Tex. Ruby received a death sentence for slaying Lee Harvey Oswald, identified by the Warren Commission as the assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

The request filed by William M. Kunstler, New York City attorney, also asked for a stay of all state court appeal proceedings pending the filing of an appeal to the Supreme Court from the denial of a writ of habeas corpus for Ruby in Texas.

The state of Texas will have an opportunity to file a reply before the matter is submitted to Justice Hugo O. Black.

Press Releases Provoke Comment

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —We read the network press releases:

From NBC-TV: "Offbeat approach: When David McLean of NBC-TV's 'Days of Our Lives' was interviewed for a part in 'Nevada Smith,' upcoming motion picture, the director asked: 'Are you good?' McLean answered, 'Good at what?' He got the role."

And another great Hollywood legend was born.

Headline of an NBC story: "Don't confuse 'lack of research with absence of evidence' is advice of NBC's Stephen B. Launbski for those who hold radio's chief problem is in the area of research."

From ABC-TV: "William Dozier, executive producer of ABC-TV's 'Batman,' is the recipient of thousands of letters from everyone and everywhere, asking favors, suggesting castings, and some of which just tell of interesting Batman happenings. Characteristic is this missive from the mother of a pair of small Batfans in which she reports the following mealtime prayer: 'And please, dear Lord, help Richie and David to obey Mom and Dad so they can watch Batman and Robin.'"

No comment. Absolutely no comment.

From NBC-TV: "A blue-eyed blonde who made her professional debut in the nude will portray the granddaughter of John Grainger (Charles Bickford), who will become owner of Shiloh Ranch, on NBC-TV's 'The Virginian' color series during the 1966-67 season. Sara Lane, now 17, made the nude debut at the age of nine months, in a television soap commercial."

This is known as a sneaky press release.

From an NBC-TV story about the network's July 20 special, "Siberia: A Day in Irkutsk": "'What I think we have achieved,' says (producer George) Vicas, 'is to humanize a people and a strange country.'"

Thank you.

It seems rather definite that the highly popular British series, CBS-TV's "Secret Agent," which has been a mid-season replacement for two years running, is finished on American television except as it is seen in syndicated reruns.

However, the stylish star of the show, Patrick McGoohan, is expected to begin shooting a new series in Britain in September, and according to a source in England, the fact that it will be filmed in color indicates that the program has the American market in mind.

According to the source, McGoohan's new series will be called "The Prisoner," and it is an idea of his own which gets him away from secret agent roles but still requires "plenty of guts and action." Other than that information, says the source, McGoohan flatly refuses to discuss the program at the present time.

Tear Gas Hurled As Panamanian

PANAMA (AP) — Panamanian troops hurled tear gas last night to break up a demonstration by students who accused the government of killing a leftist Panamanian student shortly after he returned from Moscow.

Extremist student leaders charged that government investigators beat Juan Navas Pajaro, 20, to death after he returned to Panama Sunday. His body was found early Wednesday near Colon, 50 miles northwest of Panama City. A coroner said he was killed by a blow on the head.

Minister of Government J.D. Bazan met with student leaders today and asked the attorney general to investigate the death.

Government spokesmen denied that Navas had been in custody since he returned.

Pentagon Wants Big Draft Boost

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department wants the August draft call placed at 32,600 men, more than double its June request and 5,100 men above the July call.

The Pentagon said the August call "is in accordance with the planned military strength to support Viet Nam requirements" after allowing for projected losses, enlistments and training capacity.

All August inductees will be for the Army. The Navy, Marine Corps and Air Force sought no men. The highest draft call of the year, 38,280 in January, included 8,900 men for the Marines.

Wolden Fighting To Halt Ouster

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—His successor is in office and the locks have been changed, but Russell L. Wolden still contends Mayor John F. Shelley can not legally oust him.

Wolden, fired as assessor after a jury ruled he was guilty of bribery, asked the California Supreme Court yesterday to prevent Shelley's action.

His petition contends he is not formally convicted until sentenced June 20. It also notes he plans to appeal.

Nuclear Submarine Departs Japan Shores

YOKOSUKA, Japan (AP) — The U.S. nuclear submarine Snook sailed from this Tokyo Bay naval base today after a five-day visit that touched off daily leftist demonstrations averaging 10,000 to 15,000 persons.

Left-wing groups staged another rally last night but only about 4,000 persons attended.

Davidson Junior High To Graduate 385 Pupils

Commencement exercises for 385 graduates from Davidson Junior High School will be next Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at Albert Field in San Rafael.

The program includes invocation by Rev. Miles O'Brien Riley of St. Raphael's Church, welcome by Principal Hanlon P. Tharp, and presentation of class gifts by Dan Jordan, student council president for the fall term.

From the graduating class, Chris Carlson will speak on "Crossroads." Alane Powell will speak on "Knowledge Comes," and Tom Brown will speak on "Measures of Success."

Jeff Allen, fall student body president of San Rafael High School, and Dr. Bert C. Corona, superintendent of the San Rafael schools, will also speak to the graduates.

An award to the outstanding girl graduate will be made by the Elks Lodge, and the outstanding boy graduate award will be presented by the Optimist Club.

Dr. William C. Jordan, assistant superintendent, will present honor roll certificates. Diplomas will be presented by Carl J. Brown, president of the board of education; Herbert J. Witt, assistant principal, and Mrs. Myrtle Thomas, teacher-adviser.

Pro America Unit To Hear Officer

Deputy Chief Charles Gains of the Oakland Police Department will speak on "The Police and Community Social Order" at a noon luncheon sponsored by the Marin Unit, California Chapter Pro America, June 15, at the Alta Mira Hotel, Sausalito.

Gains, according to Mrs. Herbert K. Walton Jr., acting Marin Unit president, will speak of police problems in connection with protest movements and marchers in the vicinity of the University of California at Berkeley.

Reservations, to close June 13, may be made through Mrs. Harry Johnson, 51 Kinross Drive, San Rafael, or Mrs. W. L. C. Brown, 71 Atwood Street, Sausalito.

Doctor's Suit Against Paper Is Dismissed

Libel suit of a former Stinson Beach physician, Dr. Harvey R. Forester, has been dismissed in Marin Superior Court so far as the co-defendant, the Independent-Journal, is concerned.

Judge Harold J. Haley granted the dismissal motion on grounds of failure by the plaintiff to prosecute within the required two years which ended Jan. 7. The doctor failed to appear at a hearing on the motion.

The complaint, which still names Harry H. Johnson, who was formerly Forester's landlord, as a defendant, alleged the doctor was libeled through comments made by Johnson and quoted in a Jan. 17, 1963, article in the Independent-Journal.

Dr. Forester, who ceased his practice at Stinson Beach Dec. 6, 1962, asks for $60,000 damages.

The suit was filed Jan. 7, 1964.

Roy Brown Memorial Scholarship Awarded

Chris Lytle of 28 Foster Avenue, Kentfield, a College of Marin co-ed studying journalism, was awarded the Roy Brown Memorial scholarship during an awards assembly at the college yesterday.

Named for the late publisher of the Independent-Journal, the $100 award is for a student academically superior and planning to make his or her career in journalism.

Kauai King Favored But Watch Out For Buffle

By ORLO ROBERTSON

NEW YORK (AP) — If you believe that experience is paramount in a horse race, go no further than Buffle in looking for the probable winner of tomorrow's $125,000-added Belmont Stakes at Aqueduct.

Although not heavily campaigned, the home-bred son of Zenith out of a Bold Venture mare, Refurbish, is supported heavily by a cast wise in the ways of the 1½-mile race, which winds up the Triple Crown competition for 3-year-olds.

Post time tomorrow is 2:15 p.m. (PDT), with CBS television slated for 2-2:30 p.m.

Buffle is owned by Robert Kleberg's King Ranch, which has won three runnings of the Belmont in 11 tries — with Triple Crown winner Assault in 1946, Middleground in 1950 and High Gun in 1954. He is trained by 85-year-old Max Hirsch, who has saddled four winners — the King Ranch trio and Vito way back in 1928. And he'll be ridden by Manuel Ycaza, who has tried four times and won once — with Quadrangle two years ago.

C. V. Whitney is the only owner, except King Ranch, among the 11 scheduled entries who has won the classic. The blue and brown capped silks were carried to victory by Phalanx in 1947 and by Counterpoint in 1951. He's tried with 16 other horses.

Whitney will be represented by Fast Count, a son of Counterpoint who looked far from impressive as a 2-year-old but this year has won all three of his starts, each at 1⅛ miles and all over the Aqueduct oval.

Hirsch stands alone among the trainers as winner of the coveted race.

Two of the jockeys have been honored in the winner's circle. Braulio Baeza, who'll ride the well-liked Stupendous from Mrs. H. C. Phipps' Wheatley Stable, won with Sherluck in 1961 and Chateaguay in 1963. Wheatley representatives have failed in 10 attempts.

Johnny Sellers failed on the popular Carry Back in 1961 but came through with Hail to All last year for his first Belmont triumph in five rides. Baeza also has ridden in five Belmonts as has Bobby Ussery, who'll be after his first triumph on Fleet Shoe, the hope of California.

At the other end of the experience ladder is Kauai King, winner of the Kentucky Derby and Preakness and the 4-5 favorite to become the ninth winner of the Triple Crown.

Not one of his cast ever has been near the New York track on Belmont Stakes day. That even goes for James Popeye Stevenson, the King's 53-year-old groom from Paris, Ky., and his 66-year-old exercise boy, Jose (Cuban Joe) Penalver.

A year ago owner Michael Ford, who has been in the sport only six years, was running horses at Ak-Sar-Ben in his home town of Omaha, Neb. Trainer Henry Forrest, 59, has been in the business many years but never saddled a Belmont starter. And Don Brumfield, 28-year-old native of Nicholasville, Ky., also will be riding in his first Belmont after sweeping three rich stakes in six weeks Bowie's Gold Cup, the Kentucky Derby and Preakness with Kauai King and the Jersey Derby last Monday with Creme dela Creme.

Valam, the rank outsider who'll start only if the track is fast, is the lone other horse with a complete novice cast. The others — Amberoid, Highest Honors and Rehabilitate, all will be ridden by jockeys who have been in one or more Belmonts.

With 11 starters, the race will be worth $161,550, with $117,800 to the winner.

Tittle Has Developed Into Quite A Speaker — You All

WHEN YELBERTON Abraham Tittle graduated from high school in Marshall, Tex. 22 years ago this month he was NOT noted for his oratorical eloquence. But he could throw one heluva football, yo'all.

That one talent earned him a trip to college and professional grid glory, but he never quite made it to the rostrum of the United Nations.

However, since his retirement from pro grid in 1964, the former LSU, Baltimore Colt, San Francisco 49er and New York Giant all-star quarterback with the fringe on top has eaten his way through miles of chicken 'n' peaks banquets and has developed into quite an after-dinner speaker.

OH, SURE, there are the unshakable East Texas yo'alls and personal pronoun "ah" and "hep" for "help" sprinkled throughout his vocabulary, but Tittle handles a mike with the same confidence he had in completing 2-118 of 3,817 passes (55.4 per cent) for 212 TDs and 28,339 yards (more than 16 miles) in his pro career.

Now assistant backfield coach with the 49ers, Tittle showed his speaking class at the Redwood High sports banquet the other night, amusing the audience of 400-plus with anecdotes of his career.

LIKE HIS description of the famed Tittle - R. C. Owens Alley Oop pass, a 49er spine-tingler, especially in 1957: "I took pride in my ability to zip the ball to receivers with accuracy, but the Alley-Oop was something else. Shucks, I'd just rare back and throw the ball as high and as far as I could. And to add insult to injury, Owens wanted me to WOBBLE the ball so he could see it better."

THEN, OF his final game as a 49er: "We were playing the Giants an exhibition game at Portland. (John) Brodie had a bad first half and was hit hard on almost every passing situation. But when I went in the Giant defense hardly laid a hand on me. Once Sam Huff knocked me down, but apologized to me and helped me back on my feet.

"After the game Huff came up and said that Coach Allie Sherman had obtained me in a trade just before the game and told the Giants to keep hands off me."

WHEN HE was given a standing ovation by the Redwood crowd, Tittle laughed: "Where were you back in 1959 and 1960? I could have used you then," referring to his unhappy final days with the 49ers.

Some other Tittle observations: "Jimmy Brown is the greatest runner I've ever seen. Some say he's a 'natural' athlete but he's great simply because he's one of the hardest workers."

Joe Perry and Hugh McElhenny were two of the hardest workers I played with."

"DAVE PARKS is the greatest pass receiver I've ever seen and that's a big statement because I've seen some of the best."

"The keys to winning are Inspiration, Preparation and Perspiration. If you don't have those you have no chance whatever."

Now a general insurance broker on the San Francisco Peninsula, Tittle was impressed by the Redwood athletes. "One difference I notice between the kids up here and where I live is these kids all have short, neat haircuts."

For some reason, Tittle is very hair conscious.

Players' Market In Pro Football

NEW YORK (AP) — It's a players' market in pro football.

Bud Adams, owner of the Houston Oilers of the American Football League, says at least 100 National Football League veterans have contacted AFL teams.

NFL Commissioner Pete Rozell says both leagues are concerned about lame duck players. AFL Commissioner Al Davis is strangely silent.

The big fuss started May 17 when the New York Giants announced they had signed Pete Gogolak, the soccer-style placekicker who played out his option with Buffalo of the AFL.

Two NFL strongmen, George Halas, owner-coach of the Chicago Bears, and Vince Lombardi, coach-general manager of the Greey Bay Packers, have said they didn't like the idea.

"I think good judgment was not used," said Halas.

"I did not like it and many others did not like it either," said Lombardi.

Several of the 15 NFL coaches who finished a two-day meeting yesterday, deplored the contract war.

"They're going to kill the game if they start flirting with one another's players," said George Allen, new coach of the NFL's Los Angeles Rams. "There are enough good football players to go around for both leagues."

Allen is faced with the possibility of losing quarterback Roman Gabriel to the Oakland Raiders of the AFL. Oakland announced it had signed Gabriel for 1967 but the Rams said he had signed with them for 1966 and 1967. It may wind up in court.

Under pro football rules, when a player signs he is bound to a club for two seasons — the second year on option. He can play out his option. He then becomes a free agent the following May 1 and is free to dicker. Gogolak did that at Buffalo, and many players are expected to do it this year unless the war ends.

A settlement of some type may be in the wind. One NFL owner, who refused to let his name be used, said there might be interesting developments before the teams report to training camp in July.

Gogolak apparently is a Giant to stay, as far as the NFL is concerned. Rozell said the 10-day period during which he could disapprove the contract had expired.

Bert Yancey Has To Fight A Golf Jinx

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Perhaps Bert Yancey should have saved that remarkable round for another day.

The 27-year-old pro fired a seven-under-par 63 in the first round of the $100,000 Memphis Open Golf Tournament yesterday. That matched the Colonial Country Club course record and pushed him into a three-stroke lead.

But Yancey will be fighting history — as well as the tough field of challengers — the rest of the way.

For in the eight previous Memphis Opens, no first-round leader has wound up champion.

Still Yancey is in good position — jinx or no jinx.

Some of the better known pros, including defending champion Jack Nicklaus, are at least seven strokes back. Nicklaus had a 72, Gary Player and Gay Brewer had 70s, Ben Hogan 71, and Julius Boros, Johnny Pott, Tommy Bolt and Joe Campbell 72s.

Miss Richey Wins Upset Over Margaret Smith

PARIS (AP) — Nancy Richey of Dallas, Tex., co-holder of the United States No. 1 ranking among women tennis players, defeated the heavily favored Margaret Smith of Australia today and gained the final round of the French International Tourney.

Miss Richey, petite 23-year-old daughter of a Texas tennis pro, eliminated Miss Smith 6-1, 6-3 in the semifinal round of the tourney that is generally regarded as for the world clay court championships. It is the first time that she ever has gained the title round of one of the four major championships.

Her next opponent will be Mrs. Ann Haydon Jones, who outlasted Maria Bueno of Brazil, 4-6, 8-6, 6-2 in the other semifinal.

2 From Atlanta, Now Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Cap Peterson, the San Francisco Giant left fielder, is batting only .244 but the blows have been timely and his presence in the lineup makes for victories.

Since he got a starting assignment last Sunday, the Giants have won five straight and they open a series tonight against the Philadelphia Phillies with a 2½-game National League lead.

Peterson, who got his starting chance because Giant hitting was faltering, hit the big blow again last night as the Giants dumped the Atlanta Braves, 5-0.

After the Giants filled the bases in the sixth inning on Tito Fuentes' successful bunt, a walk to Willie Mays and an infield single by Jim Hart, Peterson got his chance.

He singled sharply to left, scoring Fuentes and Mays. And when Felipe Alou charged Peterson's hit too courageously, it bounced past him to the fence. That scored Hart and Peterson.

Bob Bolin, the winning San Francisco pitcher, handcuffed the Braves on three hits and was in trouble only in the first inning.

"I threw fast balls and sliders early, but after the big inning it was just about all fast balls," he declared.

He also declared that Ollie Brown's running catch in the opening frame "was the biggest play of the night, as far as I'm concerned."

With two Braves on base and two out, Brown sprinted far in right field and speared a blistering fly by Mack Jones, ending the Braves' threat.

In winning his fourth victory against three losses, Bolin struck out five and walked two. His effectiveness was especially apparent against Hank Aaron, the Braves slugger, who struck out twice, grounded out and popped out.

Bolin got the only run he really needed in the first when Jimmy Davenport singled and Mays doubled.

Ray Sadecki (3-3) pitches for the Giants tonight against the Phillies' Jim Bunning (6-1). Bunning's only loss was to San Francisco and Juan Marichal, 1-0, in 14 innings last week.

Marin Track Stars To Vie In State Meet

Ken Blasingame of Tamalpais High, Dean Lazzarini of Drake, and Gary Wittenmeier of Marin Catholic will be competing in the 48th annual California state high school track meet today and tomorrow in Berkeley.

Southern California athletes again are expected to dominate the proceedings at Edwards Field on the University of California campus.

Blasingame won the 120-yard high hurdles at last Saturday's North Coast Section meet on the same field, running a 14.6 to qualify for the state meet. Lazzarini was second in the 100-yard dash, 9.8, at the sectionals, and Wittenmeier placed third in the discuss with a heave of 163 feet, 10½ inches.

National marks could fall in several events such as the broad-jump, where seven men who have bettered 24 feet are headed by San Diego's Doyle Steele, who bettered the existing standard with 25-5¼ jump in qualifying action.

The usual swift aggregation of sprinters will be led by favorite Phil Underwood of Los Angeles, who has hit 9.4 in the 100 and 20.7 in the 220. Defending champion Randy Julian 47.4 heads quarter-milers.

Distance aces include defending champion Tim Danielson of Chula Vista in San Diego, who has clocked 4:06 in the mile and Ralph Gamez, who figures to bring Northern California one of its few victories.

FIGURING THE MAJORS

Mays Bangs His Way Out Of Slump

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP) — Figuring the Majors:

Willie Mays has snapped out of his slump by collecting 10 hits in his last 25 times at bat, a .400 pace, and lifting his batting average 22 points to .274. The San Francisco star has hit safely in his last six games, including last night's 5-0 victory over Atlanta in which he had a run-producing double and a single in three tries.

Baltimore's Brooks Robinson is setting a hot runs-batted-in pace. He drove in three runs yesterday as the Orioles downed California 9-6, boosting his American League-leading total to 45 in 44 games. After 44 games last season, he had only 19 RBI. He wound up with 80.

Only 11 of the 444 major league games played so far have been completed in less than two hours, seven in the American League and four in the National.

Manager Grady Hatton of Houston looks at things through rose-colored glasses when his bespectacled reliever, Claude Raymond, pitches. Raymond, a French-Canadian, hasn't given up a run in his last 17 2-3 innings. His over-all record is 3-0, plus five saves, and his earned run average is 1.32.

When Louis Aparicio of Baltimore had five hits against the Angels yesterday he became the fifth big leaguer to collect that many in one game this year, and only 28 in the American. Bob Bolin of San Francisco and Ron Perranoski of Los Angeles shutouts and Don Sutton and The others were Jose Cardenal of the Angels, Tito Fuentes of San Francisco, Felipe Alou of Atlanta and Ty Cline of the Chicago Cubs.

During the past three weeks, outfielder Don Lock of Washington has driven in the winning run four times, scored the winning run once and made game-saving catches twice in the late innings.

Cincinnati's Joey Jay is scheduled to face his favorite team, the Chicago Cubs, for the first time this season tonight. His career record against them is 13-3, including a 3-0 mark last season. Jay will be opposed by Dick Ellsworth, whose lifetime record against the Reds is 8-12.

There have been 44 shutouts pitched in the National League Vern Law of Pittsburgh pitched combined for another last night, night.

Joe Christopher, the former Met, isn't exactly being overworked by Manager Billy Herman of Boston. He's had only seven official times at bat while playing in nine games and has yet to get his first hit. He failed as a pinch-hitter yesterday when the Red Sox lost to Washington 12-2. Christopher batted 437 times for the Mets last season, finishing with a .245 average.

It Was A Crucial Moment In Sadecki's Career As A Giant

HANLEY

ATLANTA—One of life's little mysteries defies solution. Why can a baseball pitcher look so good one day, horrible the next? It's inexplicable.

"If you ever get the formula, bottle it and sell it for a fortune," Warren Spahn once told a persistent but naive baseball writer seeking a solution to the impossible imponderable.

Spahn was a superb student of the art of pitching. So was Carl Hubbell. All great pitchers are. Juan Marichal seems to know everything there is to know about pitching. Yet the Dominican Dandy will frankly tell you that he learns something new each time out.

CONTROL, concentration, consistency, coordination. They are absolute necessities to pitching greatness. But they don't explain erratic performances except in a negative manner, lack of control, concentration, coordination.

Naturally, the answer to the riddle is hidden in individual genes. The human element is the puzzler. It's why some pitchers almost become couch cases along with managers.

EVERY MANAGER has heard the plaintive plea of a pitcher for permission to pitch to one more batter during a bombardment. Sometimes against his better judgement a manager will grant the permission — and whacko — there goes the ball game.

But the other night in Cincinnati it wasn't a case of a bombardment or just another ball game when Herman Franks went to the mound in the third inning. Ray Sadecki was making his fifth try for the Giants since the Orlando Cepeda trade after four previous incomplete starts, two of which he lost, the other two luckily ending in no decisions for the ex-Cardinal southpaw.

SADECKI HADN'T allowed a hit when Franks took his stroll to the mound. But Sadecki, after breezing through the first two innings, suddenly became wild in the third. The southpaw walked the bases loaded and a 4-0 Giant lead was in jeopardy.

Franks later said he had no intention of taking Sadecki out, that he merely wanted to slow down the action and give Sadecki a breather. Sadecki did get the ball over the plate to the next batter, Pete Rose, who smashed it into center for a two-run single.

ANOTHER MANAGER might have called a halt then. However, Franks stuck with Sadecki who finally pitched his way out of the jam. It was a crucial moment in Sadecki's brief career with the Giants. He knew it and so did every member of the team.

Entering the game, Sadecki's confidence in himself was so shaky that he declined Tony Kubek's invitation to go on a pre-game TV show.

"Actually, I never should have extended the invitation," said the ex-Yankee shortstop. "Sadecki had a big problem on his mind going into the game. The win did a lot to restore his confidence."

OF COURSE, Franks knew that Sadecki's confidence needed bolstering and that is why he gave the southpaw every possible latitude.

"You can't strip a man of his confidence and expect him to do a job for you," said Franks. "And make no mistake about it. Sadecki is going to do a job for us this year and in the seasons to come. If we hadn't faith in him we never would have traded Cepeda's big bat for his pitching arm."

Astros Score 8 Runs In 12th Inning To Beat Reds

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Lacking a power hitter to erase a mistake with one blow, the Houston Astros must atone for their errors by thinking small.

"We just don't have a real star," said Houston second baseman Joe Morgan. "Sure, it'd be nice when you make a mistake to have Willie Mays hit a home run and make people forget your mistake, but we can't do that yet."

Two Houston errors last night gave the Cincinnati Reds three runs, tying the game 3-3 after the innings, and another miscue enabled a Cincinnati runner to reach third base with the potential winning run in the 11th.

Going on the assumption that nine small men compensate for one big man, the Astros led off the 12th with eight straight singles enroute to an eight-run explosion that carried them to an 11-4 victory. The eight singles in a row produced seven runs before a man was retired. Rusty Staub's one-run double with two out was the only extra-base blow.

HOLD IN FOURTH

The victory kept the amazing Astros in fourth place, five games off the National League pace set by the San Francisco Giants. Houston, a ninth-place finisher in each of its five-year existence' is two percentage points out of third and only

Elsewhere in the senior circuit, the Giants blanked Atlanta 5-0, Los Angeles shut out St. Louis 2-0, Philadelphia shaded Chicago 5-4 and Pittsburgh whitewashed New York 5-0.

In the American League, Kansas City walloped Cleveland 11-4, Detroit nipped minnesota 7-6, Baltimore topped California 9-6 in 10 innings, New York clipped Chicago 5-3 and Washington clobbered Boston 12-.2

The Astros scored all their 12th-inning runs off Cincinnati reliever Jack Baldschun, who was working his first stanza. Jim Gentile's pinch single with the bases loaded broke the 3-3 deadlock. Jim Wynn and Dave Nicholson each drove in a pair of runs while Sonny Jackson and Staub knocked across one apiece during the outburst. Nicholson also slammed a two-run homer in the third for the Astros, who handed the Reds their sixth straight loss.

Rookie righthander Don Sutton pitched six-hit ball for 6 2-3 innings and reliever Ron Perranoski limited the Cards to one the rest of the way as the Dodgers registered their second straight shutout. Sutton, who scored a run, raised his record to 7-4 in pitching Los Angeles to its ninth victory in the last 10 games.

Richie Allen notched an inside-the-park two-run homer on a 425-foot blast to the centerfield fence for the Phillies. Rick Wise, recalled recently from the minors, and Darold Knowles teamed to halt the Cubs on nine hits. Philadelphia broke a 2-2 tie in the sixth on Clay Dalrymple's suicide squeeze that scored Tony Gonzalez.

Vern Law blanked the Mets for the fourth straight time over two years and hit one of three Pittsburgh home runs. Donn Clendenon and Willie Stargell also slammed homers for the Bucs, who handed the Mets their third straight loss. Law limited New York to three singles in chalking up his first triumph since April 13.

Reliever Radatz Has Rough Debut As Injun

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Pitcher Dick Radatz, who once chilled late inning rallies for the Boston Red Sox, suffered a catastrophic setback last night in his first relief job for the Cleveland Indians.

Cleveland had obtained him in a trade with Boston earlier in the day for pitchers Lee Stange and Don McMahon.

Radatz, called The Monster because he weighs 260 pounds and throws a blazing fast ball that once intimidated opposing hitters, came into the Indians' game with the Kansas City Athletics at the start of the seventh inning.

Before Manager Birdie Tebbetts took Radatz out, the A's, known for their feather duster attack had scored five times.

Radatz led off by walking opposing pitcher Lew Krausse. A double by Campy Campaneris —who went 4-for-5 — two more hits and three bases on balls finished the big righthander. Radatz gave way to left hander Bob Allen with only one out and two on base.

Radatz had flown into Kansas City only a few hours before game time saying "It hasn't been fun with a ninth place club" and "If I can pitch the way I think I can, the Indians will win the pennant."

When the night was over, the Boston club he had left was in 10th place. His pitching had done little to enhance the chances of the Indians' staying in first place ahead of the Baltimore Orioles, only a game behind.

The A's, by clobbering the Indians 11-4 with their biggest run production of the year, climbed over Radatz' ex-Boston mates into ninth place by a game.

The victory went to right-hander Ralph Terry, an ex-Indian who had held out this spring and finally was traded to the A's for pitcher John O'Donoghue. O'Donoghue, a left-hander, has won four and lost his first to the A's Wednesday night.

Thursday night's loser was Gary Bell, who was tagged for four runs and six hits in the first four innings.

Spahn Pitching In Mexico Loop

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Warren Spahn, who recorded 363 major league victories, is scheduled to pitch tomorrow night for the Mexico City Tigers against the Jalisco Charros in the opening game of the Mexican League season's second round.

The famous left-hander arrived Tuesday to become pitching coach for the Mexico City team.

Spahn, 45, spent 21 seasons in the National League, the first 20 with the Braves, in Boston and Milwaukee. He wound up his big league career last season with the New York Mets and San Francisco Giants.

British Amateur Opening Nears

CARNOUSTIE, Scotland (UPI —Walker Cuppers Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., and Bill Hyndman of Philadelphia were the top American hopes today for the British amateur golf title.

Dick Davies of Pasadena, Calif., the 1962 British amateur champion, informed official yesterday that he probably would miss the tournament that begins next week.

Bob Gardner of Essex fells, N.J., further dimmed United States chances when he too wired tourney directors that it was unlikely he would participate in Britain's foremost amateur golf event.

Here's the low down on the '66 VW
$199 down (plus tax, license and credit approval)
$49.99 month (36-month bank financing)

No gimmicks. Just $199 down, plus $49.99 a month and you're driving a new VW.

No stripped down model, price includes heater, defroster, seat belts, turn signals, windshield washer, electric wipers, 4-speed transmission, automatic choke, deluxe trim and tool kit.

VW gas and oil economy lets you drive a mile for a penny (or just $10 a month for 1,000 miles). That's because you get an honest 30 mpg. You cruise at 70 mph. 10 years from now if you need a part (it happens sometimes) your dealer will still have it in stock. And its great resale value makes selling a VW half the fun of owning one.

You can't lose. A VW gives you the kind of economy and performance you'd expect to pay extra for — for just $199 down and $49.99 a month. They're just built that way.

Striper Action Near Inverness; Time Is Right For Abalone Try

STEVENS

It was no fluke, that school of big bass off Inverness. Davis Campbell of the Golden Hinde Boatery at Inverness, who called me last Sunday to report the appearance of a new run of stripers, reported on Wednesday that the fish are still around, and are being taken on flies and on spinners.

One of the regulars who consistently gets his full share of any action, and who landed a lunker striper weighing 30 pounds a day or so ago, B. J. (Buzz) Mucio is taking two or three bass each day out. Campbell informed that Buzz uses a No. 1 Pet Spoon with a yellow streamer and pork rind tail bait.

THE APPEARANCE of stripers as well as some sizable halibut is rather unusual, and I suggest you phone Campbell for the current conditions. You'll never get a false report from Davis. On Tuesday, another of the regulars, Bill Marshall, won his battle over 8 and 10-pound stripers.

Did you notice that there was a minus one-foot-four tide this morning? And tomorrow there is another? Swell tides for abalones, giant clams and cockles. Should you go, remember to discard the black part of the clams, and DON'T gather and eat any mussels; there is a quarantine on them.

YOU DEER slayers who wish to arrange your annual vacation now to be certain to get in the hunting, please note—the early deer season opens Aug. 6 and runs through Sept. 25. Bag limit is two bucks, forked horn or better. Late season, Sept. 24 through Nov. 13. Bag limit is two bucks, forked horn or better in Northeastern California, and one buck, forked horn or better, in the balance of the late season area. Archery deer: Early season, July 16-31; late season, Sept. 3 through Sept. 18.

According to a late release from the information officer of the Department of Fish and Game, the commissioners adopted the most simplified version of hunting regulations in years. The exception is the deer hunting regulations where there is an early season and a late season, and a short season and a three-point limit in one district, the northeastern part of the state. This season is set by the Legislature.

FOR THE NEXT two weeks the fish and game commissioners will be busy boys. Special deer hunting hearings will be held throughout the state. I'll report on the outcome when the information reaches my desk.

Incidentally, did you know that the grunion season opened on Wednesday, and the frog season opened the same day in Southern California and Colorado River-Salton Sea areas?

State Champs Vs. Sohners In Softball

Softball enthusiasts will be treated to a top attraction tomorrow when Rector Motors of San Mateo, defending state champions, invade Marin to battle resident Sohner Tree Service in a North Coast Traveling League doubleheader.

The first contest will start at 7:30 p.m. at San Rafael's Albert Park. Admission is free.

Rector Motors has swept its first four league doubleheaders and will be looking for its fifth straight victim tomorrow as first-round action in the six-team league concludes.

In splitting their first four doubleheaders, Sohner has yet to lose by more than one run. The Treemen have lost by 2-1, 3-2, 1-0 and 2-1 scores.

Sohner is currently in third place behind Rector and Concord.

Mill Valley Merchants '9' Opens New Season Sunday

The Mill Valley Merchants semi-pro baseball team will start its 1966 season Sunday, 1:30 p.m., against the Jeffersons of San Francisco, at Optimist Field in Mill Valley.

It will bring together two of the oldest semi-pro teams in the state. The Jeffersons organization goes back more than 60 years and Mill Valley can be traced back approximately 55 years.

Returning to the Merchants' pitching corps this season is righthander Keith Fraser. Joining the veteran starter will be southpaw Cap Anderson, a man who stands 6 feet 6 and weighs 260 pounds. He has recently moved from San Francisco to Corte Madera.

"Cap is a past pro who will be a fantastic asset to the team," said Merchants manager Bob Selna. "He has one of the most effective left hand sweeping curve balls that I have ever witnessed in amateur baseball," Selna declared.

John Odetto, slugging outfielder for the Merchants last year, is returning from the University of Southern California and will add power to the team. Also returning are pitcher-first baseman Bill Clark and catcher-outfielder Ed Sabica, voted most valuable player on the University of San Francisco nine this past season.

Also counted upon to get their share of hits for the Merchants will be catcher Jessie Munyon, third baseman Bill Brody, outfielder Joe Hebel, catcher Fred Mack, outfielder Fred Rodine and utility man Frank Ryan.

Selna said he has been checking the possibility of starting up a Bay Area semi-pro league. He said two other teams in Marin and three from San Francisco are interested, but nothing definite has been decided.

'Cycles Race At Vallejo Tonight

Three Marin County men will be competing tonight in the opening motorcycle races at Vallejo Speedway promoted by A. J. Agajanian.

They are Bill Verbiscio Jr. of San Anselmo, the only expert class motorcyclist in Marin, and Russ Pawl of San Rafael and Al Pickens of Fairfax, novice racers.

Time trials start at 7 o'clock and the first race at 8:30. Agajanian plans a series of Friday night races.

Here's what two eminent Americans say about George Christopher

General Eisenhower said:

It is a privilege to join in paying tribute to George Christopher and to compliment the people of San Francisco on having him at the head of their city's government these past 8 years. As one who has had fine memories of San Francisco and great admiration for your Mayor, I believe your choice was extremely fortunate. George Christopher, as a distinguished civic leader, has earned a high level of respect throughout the country because of what he has done for San Francisco and because of the spirit and dedication he has brought to his office.

He is a man of courage and strong conviction, of impeccable integrity, the kind of American who has always been willing to face a challenge, take a risk, push into unexplored areas of thought and opportunity. He is a shining example of hard working initiative, self reliance, a sturdy foe of paternalistic government and a vigorous champion of free enterprise and of the fundamental principles of America. In a very real sense, he represents all those immigrants to this land that have contributed their best to the building of America and to the growth of its great, bright heritage in culture. As one who has been privileged to know him well over the past decade, I compliment him on a job well done. During the years to come, his experience, his wisdom, his dedication cannot fail to be of inestimable value to San Francisco, to California, and to the nation. Mayor Christopher, I congratulate you on past accomplishments and wish for you many more happy and fruitful years in your home city of San Francisco.

These statements, written or recorded by General Dwight D. Eisenhower and Mr. J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, are excerpts, quoted in full, from a film presented to Mr. Christopher by his friends in 1964 at the conclusion of his 8 years as mayor of San Francisco. These two eminent Americans are recognized for their personal integrity and as astute judges of men. They know George Christopher's entire career and their appraisal deserves the careful study of every voter faced with the selection of a Republican candidate at the June 7th primary.

J. Edgar Hoover wrote:

My dear Mayor:
On the occasion of the completion of your term as Mayor of San Francisco, I want to express my sincere congratulations to you on the outstanding manner in which you have always discharged the arduous responsibilities of your high office. Certainly the excellent example you have set will serve as an inspiration to those who follow you.
Your tenure in this position has been characterized by ability and honor and my associates and I have long valued the spirit of cooperation which you have engendered among all police agencies, as well as your strong support of constructive measures contributing to effective law enforcement. I am enclosing one of my photographs which I have autographed to you and you have my best wishes for continued good health and happiness.

Sincerely yours,
/s/ J. Edgar Hoover

George V, king of England, was born on this day in 1865.

On this day in history:

In 1937, the duke of Windsor, formerly King Edward VIII of Great Britain, was married to Mrs. Wallis Simpson of Baltimore.

In 1940, the Allied evacuation of Dunkirk which began on May 28, was completed.

In 1963, Pope John XXIII died at the age od 81 after a lengthy illness.

In 1965, the United States orbited astronauts Ed White and Jim McDivitt in the historic Gemini 4 spacecraft. White became the first American to ever walk in space.

A Thought for the Day — English scientist Havelock Ellis said: "There has never been any country at every moment so virtuous and so wise that it has not sometimes needed to be saved from itself."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. HOW TO PLAY
WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Blindness Often Attacks Bridge Players When They Must Defend

One of the strangest of all diseases is the blindness that attacks bridge players when they defend. For a paltry million dollars or two I will gladly do the basic research on this disease.

Perhaps the pitiful case history that follows will arouse the sympathy of one of the big foundations.

Opening lead — ♡ 10

The patient, a healthy adult male, led the 10 of hearts from the West hand.

East took the ace of hearts and returned the deuce of hearts. South won with the king of hearts and led the king of diamonds.

LEADS NINE

The patient took the ace of diamonds and led the nine of hearts.

South won with the queen, cashed the queen of diamonds, got to dummy with a club, and gave up another diamond.

West took a heart, but then South had the rest. Declarer took one spade, two hearts, two diamonds and four clubs.

The defenders got two hearts and two diamonds.

WENT BLIND

West went blind when he took the ace of diamonds. West should see that South has most of the missing high cards for his opening bid of one notrump.

East can have at most one queen besides the ace he has already played.

South is obviously planning to win at least three clubs, two hearts, one spade, and three diamonds. West must plan to get five tricks first.

MUST SHIFT

Continuing hearts cannot possibly produce five defensive tricks. West must shift to spades in the hope that his partner has the queen.

If South has the queen of spades, he will get an overtrick, but this is meaningless.

If West keeps his eyesight, he switches to a spade on taking the ace of diamonds. The defenders thus get two spades, two diamonds and the ace of hearts, defeating the contract.

(And I would have no basis for asking a foundation for a million dollars.)

DAILY QUESTION

Dealer, at your right, opens the bidding with one spade.

You hold:

What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

You would bid one notrump if the opening bid had been in any other suit, but you should not do so without a stopper in the bid suit.

Your best chance for a plus score is to pass and hope that the oppenents get into trouble.

Airlines, Chemicals Bring Up Averages

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed higher today as it ended a dull session.

Late improvement to airlines, steels, rubbers and chemicals helped the averages.

Here was the picture near the close:

Volume for the day was estimated at 4.3 million shares compared with 5.08 million yesterday.

Caution prevailed but there was enough investment demand to give steels, rubbers and chemicals a higher trend.

Some wide swings prevailed among the volatile glamor stocks. IBM dropped another 7 points in view of its stock rights offering. Zenith lost about 2½, Xerox, Texas Instruments, Admiral and Cerro a point or so. Hecla Mining was off about 2.

Rubbers, heartened by Firestone's record earnings, moved ahead. Fractional gainers included Goodyear, Goodrich, U.S. Rubber and Firestone.

U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic Steel and Jones & Laughlin also added fractions.

International Mining was the volume leader on the basis of a single block of 150,000 shares. It was up nearly a point.

Douglas Aircraft halved a 2-point loss following news of a big order for DC9 airliners.

Murphy Oil preferred gained 3. Up a point or so were TWA, Johnson & Johnson, Mosler Safe, Sundstrand and Eastman Kodak.

Kennecott shed more than a point.

Prices were higher in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Hawaii Corp. Has Earnings Better

HONOLULU — The Hawaii Corp. showed substantial improvements in operations for the fiscal year ended March 31, according to George E. Freitas, president.

Consolidated net earnings including gain from the sale of real estate were $1,545,902, a 28.5 per cent increase.

Earnings per share were 95 cents; in the previous year, net earnings per share were 75 cents.

Pancake House Chain Growing

PHILADELPHIA — International Industries, Inc., parent company of the International House of Pancakes restaurants, expects to earn from 85 to 87 cents per share in the first nine months of the current fiscal year and is "on target" for its fiscal year projection of $1.20 per share, according to Al Lapin, company president.

He said that the total volume of all restaurants this year would exceed $30 million, compared to $25.5 million the year before.

Currently, there are 152 restaurants operating under the aegis of International Industries. By the end of this fiscal year, the company will have 158 locations in 26 states, Lapin said.

Utility Firm Reports Increased Earnings

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—California-Pacific Utilities Co. reported yesterday net income of $1,971,448, or $1.70 a share, from revenue of $18,802,870 in the 12 months ended April 30.

In the previous year earnings totaled $1,624,075, or $1.59 a share from revenue of $17,438,845.

THE WEEK'S BUSINESS

Parker Pen Has Gain; PanAm Reports Loss

PARKER PEN CO. closed its fiscal year Feb. 28, reporting net sales of $48,984,130 — 3 per cent higher than during the previous year. Net income of $2,350,598 was 17 per cent above last year. Per share income jumped from $1.59 to $1.83. Sales were down only in Asia where the war crises has had an adverse effect.

PAN AMERICAN AIRWAYS reported April earnings of 3.9 million dollars, compared with an April loss last year of more than 1.3 million dollars when a 10-day strike halted most flights. Net income for the first four months of 1966 was 36.9 cents a share, compared with a loss of 58 cents per share a year ago.

CONSOLIDATED AMERICAN SERVICES, INC. listed its 657,983 shares of common stock on the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange June 1. Through three subsidiaries and two divisions the company is engaged in electrical construction, support services, testing management and engineering. Consolidated, headquartered in Los Angeles, has branches, laboratories and operating sites in 25 locations around the world and has 1,200 shareholders in 35 states.

BECHTEL CORP., San Francisco topped the nation's 400 largest contruction contractors last year, reported McGraw-Hill's publication Engineering News-Record. Contracting volume was 805 million dollars, with 230 million of this in foreign contracts.

DIRECTORS OF ZALE CORP., parent company of Granat Bros. Jewelers, approved raising the quarterly cash dividend from 14 cents to 17 cents per share on common stock, payable July 11 to stockholders of record June 10. The increase, second in less than a year, came on the heels of a record rise in earnings for the fiscal year ended March 31.

UTAH CONSTRUCTION AND MINING CO. has acquired control of the 5,400-acre T. A. Work Ranch on the Monterey Peninsula. A portion of the property has been reserved for the relocation of automobile dealers from the city of Monterey; 1,200 acres will go to residential developer Edward F. Hogan; and the remainder may be developed by Del Monte Properties Co.

UNIVERSAL OIL PRODUCTS CO., Des Plaines, Ill. and Norplex Corp. of La Crosse, Wis. have agreed that the former will acquire business and assets of Norplex for 275,000 shares of UOP stock valued at about 18.5 million dollars. Acquisition is subject to approval by directors and stockholders of both companies. UOP is a leading firm in research, development and engineering for the petroleum refining industry. Norplex is a leading manufacturer of plastic laminates.

SYNTEX CORP., Palo Alto reported net sales of 41 million dollars for the first nine months of its fiscal year ended April 30, compared with 24.7 million dollars for the same period last year. Net profits rose from approximately seven million to 14 million dollars, resulting in per share earnings of $1.51, compared with 75 cents in 1965.

TELEDYNE, INC. shareholders have approved acquisition of Vasco Metals Corp., Latrobe, Pa. and authorized increasing the company's common shares from three million to 6.5 million, and trebling the authorized 500,000 preferred shares. Vasco shareholders previously agreed to the acquisition.

UNION CARBIDE CORP. has formed an electronics division to take over activities in this field previously centered in the Linde Division.

Armour Reports Profits Increase

CHICAGO—Armour and Co. profits of $10,806,000 for the 26 week period ended April 30, an increase of 23 per cent compared with the period a year earlier.

Sales were $1,127,094,416—up 19 per cent.

The Armour and Co. board of directors declared dividends of $1.1875 a share on preferred stock and 40 cents a share on common stock, both payable on July 15 to stockholders of record on June 17.

County Planners To Revive Several Undecided Issues

The Marin County Planning Commission Monday is due to reconsider many matters on which decision has been delayed or more study asked by the board of supervisors.

The commission meeting will begin at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center.

First matter on the agenda is consideration of apartment zoning asked by owners of 10 single family residential lots on Merrydale Road, south of San Pedro Road, in San Rafael Meadows.

Supervisors asked the commission to reconsider its recommendation for the rezoning and study the possibility of a motel on the property.

Next is the proposed change from agricultural to resort and commercial recreation zoning on 500 acres east of the Marin County Airport near Novato. This was before the commission last month, but no decision was made.

Also up again Monday is location of school sites within the Marincello master plan. Action on this has been put off several times.

The commission will also consider the master plan for the Oakwood Valley area between Marincello and Marin City, where Bear Creek Development Co, has asked planned community zoning.

The commission is also to hear appeals from decisions of the zoning administrator. Included is the use permit granted Larry H. Marks Jr. for a marina on Tomales Bay, north of Inverness.

Sausalitan To Host Foreign Social Aides

Edward Wise of Sausalito and San Francisco will take a group of foreign youth leaders and social workers on a cruise of San Francisco Bay aboard his craft, Sabrina, sailing at 1:30 p.m., Tuesday from Sausalito Yacht Harbor.

This is one of the last activities of the group of 20 prior to commencing special work with social work agencies in the Bay Area June 12. Thirteen of the leaders have stayed or are staying now with Marin County families. Participants are on a four-month visit to the United States sponsored by the State Department.

ENDORSEMENT:
MILL VALLEY RECORD

The district attorney's office is a sensitive one. The current district attorney has had a lack-luster administration. We have heard responsible people voicing a rising dissatisfaction with the prosecution of affairs. Maybe Bruce Bales is doing his best.

But we will vote for Bjorklund. We support Bjorklund because he has said he will prosecute more vigorously the zoning ordinance violations and the thefts and shoplifting which continually thwart the conscientious merchants. We will expect him, if elected, to reestablish an open log to the press and encourage police chiefs in the county to do likewise.

IN THE DISTRICT ATTORNEY'S OFFICE

☆ LENIENCY: James J. Weiss lives in Marin. He defrauded a San Jose bank of an estimated $438,306.18. A San Jose court adjudged him guilty of a felony (grand theft) and sentenced him to a year in jail. Before any part of this jail sentence was served his attorney, William O. Weissich, had the case transferred to San Rafael. Here, with the consent of the present District Attorney, but without the knowledge of the bank or the sentencing judge, the sentence was cut to 30 days and the felony reduced to a misdemeanor. The Attorney general of California is investigating.

IT'S TIME FOR A CHANGE

☆ VIOLENCE: "A whooping gang of teen-agers in more than a dozen cars went on a rampage along Highway 101 at Alto before dawn today, beating up a service station attendant and damaging a patrol car of the California Highway Patrol . . . (T)hey piled out of the cars and began spraying the roadway with gasoline from the pumps . . ." No arrests were made. (Independent-Journal, May 30, 1966.)

IT'S TIME FOR A CHANGE

☆ NARCOTICS: "A marijuana ring which has been operating in the Novato High School was broken last night with the arrest of five . . ." One of the youths arrested said: "Man, this is nothing. You should see the weed and alcohol parties in the southern end of the county . . . Why, when you get down there, you can get it anywhere, anytime." (Independent-Journal, March 26, 1966.)
